Families, like everything else, are more exing a pause of silent prayer before meat, pensive than they used to be. Shoes and clothes cost a sight, now-a-days, and children have mostly good appetites. Mine have.

Boys will be boys-they can't help it-they were born so. It is their destiny to tear trowsers, and wear out two pairs of boots per month; keeping their blessed ma constantly employed like a beseiged garrison repairing breeches, and their unfortunate pa paying out currency, under strong conviction that there is nothing like leather—to wear out.

I tried copper toed boots on my heir. The copper wore well, and I have an idea that copper boots would be a good idea but I couldn't find a metallic shoemaker to carry it out.

Mrs. O'L also became attached to copper, and thought it would be an improvement and save sewing if boys' pantaloons were like ships and tea kettles, copper-bottomed. The suggestion was A No. 1, but we have not carried

OVER WORK. Unwise above man, is the man who considers every hour lost which is not spent in reading, writing, or study, and not more rational is she who thinks every moment of her time lost which does not find her sewing. We once heard a great man advise that a book of some kind be carried in the pocket, to be used in case of an unoccupied moment; such was his practice. He died early and fatuitous. There are women who, after a hard day's work, will sit and sew by candle-or gas light until their eyes are almost blinded, or until certain pains about the shoulders come on, which are almost insupportable, and are only driven to bed by physical incapacity to work any longer. The sleep of the overworked, like that of those who do not work at all, is unsatisfying and unrefreshing, and both alike wake up in weariness, sadness and languor, with an inevitable result, both dying prematurely. Let no one work to pain or weariness. When a man is tired he ought to lie down until he is fully rested, when with renovated strength, the work will be better done, done the sooner, and done with a self sustained alacrity. The time taken from seven or eight hours' sleep out of each twenty-four, is time not gained, but time much more than lost; we can cheat ourselves, but we cannot cheat nature. A certain amount of food is necessary to a healthy body, and if the gift in 200,000 shares of $19,000 each, less than that amount be furnished, decay commences the very hour. It is the same with sleep, and any one who persists in allowing

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY was celerated, throughout the country, in a very nthusiastic manner, on Wednesday last. Business was generally suspended in the large cities, and the streets decorated with lags. Cannon were fired, the bells rang, and other demonstrations of joy were expressed in connection with the good news of the fall of Charleston and Fort Sumpter. In Bridgeton the cannon was brought out and salutes fired - the flags were floating: and in the evening the Cornet Band serenaded many of our citizens. The boys had their own fun in parading through town with the hose carriage, keeping up remarks on two things in the cultivation constant ringing of bells.

MR. EDITOR :- In the Pioneer of Febuary 4th, is an article from our excellent fellow citizen, T. H. Miller, on the subject of Chinese Cane and molasses, which, as the result of his long experience, (8 years) and ripe observation in that business, is certainly very valuable to the community. And I, for one, am glad he has given it to the public, as a good citizen ought; thus adding to the stock of knowledgehow to procure the blessings and comforts of life in the things Providence gives us to use for that purpose.

I was rather startled, however, at his of the cane.

One-" that sward land is unfit; neither will it do to manure with coarse manure." .

I wish to submit to friend Miller, and the patient farming public, whether this is really true? I thought it was always considered by farmers that a good clover sward was the best possible soil on which to raise anything that grows with roots and leaves-and nurishes plants better than any other soil, without manure .-And coarse manure ploughed under, or laid in the furrow and covered over with the plough, and the seed planted on it, is often very beneficial; though dry seasons render all modes precarious.

His observations about cane crusher are, no doubt, to the point, and worthy of notice; but as to the pans and evaporators for boiling and making the molassesthere is the rub! Cook's evaporators Cost more than the ordinary pans, and friend Miller says, answer no better purpose, and take a third more fuel and attention to keep them going, than the common pans which he has used for several years; but the public who have had the good or bad fortune to taste and use molasses made by experienced and skillful makers on both these methods, have discovered a difference in the friends and the good of the following makers and the service of her life were given to him. Jones' policy which has proved of such great satisfaction both to his friends and the public has demonstrated the fact, that ONE PRICE is the proper basis on which to do business. Many persons who are not able to judge of the value, of any article, are glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing where they can secure what they want at the same price as their neighbors. Others, no bling to ask the dealers to take less, are often obliged to pay too much for an article. To meet this want Jones one price Store has been established, and having worked well for fifteen years, has mained many

AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL COMPANY'S CHEAP

Fertilizers! PABULETTE

This valuable fertilizer is composed of night-soil and be fertilizing elements of the trine chemically ob-ained, and combined chemically and mechanically with other valuable fertilizing agents and absorbents. It is reduced to a dry, pulverulent condition, ready for immediate use, and without loss of its highly nitgenous fertilizing properties. Its universal applicability to all crops and soils, and s durability and active qualities, are well known to all that Agriculturists can desire.

Price $30 per Ton, of 2000 pounds.

CHEMICAL COMPOST.

This Fertilizer is largely composed of animal mater, such as meat, bone, tish, leather and hair, together with chemicals and inorganic fertilizers, which decompose the mass and retain the nitrogenous elements. It is thoroughy impregnated with the trine and the thinner portions of night-soil.

It is a very valuable fertilizer for field crops, generally, and especially for potatoes, and for garden purposes. oses.
Its excellent qualities, strength and cheapness, have enade it very popular with all who have used it. Price $30 per Ton.

TREE AND FRUIT Pertilizer!

It is a highly phosphatic fertilizer, and is particular ly adapted for the cultivation of Trees, Fruits, Shrubs Lawns any Flowers. It will promote a very vigorous und healthy growth of Wood and Fruit, and largely nerease the quantity and quality, and perfect the naturity of the Fruit. For Hot-house and Household Planiand Flowers, it will be found an indepensable article to secure their greatest perfection. It will prevent and cure diseased conditions of the Peach and Grape, and is excellent for Grass and Lawns. Lawns.

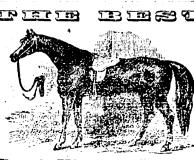

The formula or method of combining its constituent
