ing opinions in relation to this matter, before the French Institute of Civil engincers: "Apprenticeship is not special to manual trades, but common to all professions without exception. The young painter and sculptor, who pass several years in The studio of a renowned artist, are serving their apprenticeship. The case is the same with the young archtect or engineer, who draw their plans and designs under the eye of another architect or engineer; with the young notary, who enters as seventh or eighth clerk into an office, to learn how to draw up marriage certificates, sale contracts, and inventories after decease, with the majority of merchants name of clerks in some shop or other; and it is the same in all conditions, in art. trade, and the professions in general. There is difference only in the nature of are everywhere and always the same.-The young men who follow a diplomatic career are themselves obliged to enter a a ministry, prefecture, or the office of an ambassador to serve their apprenticeship. One must enter a study, a studio, an of-details and secrets, the inner machinery of each speciality. "It is in the establishments where is practiced the profession to be embraced, must be sought-one's apprenticeship passed. No school can replace the work shop, the shops, and the offices. Do not, then, let us seek to create with much trouble schools which would cost dear and be of no use. Let us develop the apprenticeship too much neglected during the last twenty years. Let it be recommended by men who have influence in industry, and we shall be sure of having clever and intellient workmen, and good and beautiful produce which will rival foreign produce with success. What is in fact wanting is not a sufficient number of workmen to supply the needs of industry, but really clever workmen. in view of their futuce, it were highly advisable that patrons should admit no apprentice but with the warrant of a detailed apprenticeship contract, clearly stipulatments of either party. In these conditions the work-rooms would become what they should be-veritable schools, where the apprentice would receive the professional training necessary to him."

M Benoit-Duportial considers the proportion which ought to exist between the number of workmen and apprentices. He remarks that the mean duration of a serious years, and the period of practicing a profession being generally thirty five or forty, the proportion should be about ten in one hundred, if there were no modifying causes. But as he finds in all work-rooms a considerable number of drudges, and as some employments—such as those of digger and smith-need no apprenticeship, he changes the relative number to five or six per cent. The proportion might with advantage be larger in the work-rooms in the means of instruction and practice, and most favorable to the development of young intelligence.

MANURES.

MR. EDITOR: -The subject of manures is an engrossing one to the farmers of this vicinity, and every thing relating to it should be carefully examined; therefore, I wish to offer a few hints in relation thereto. It is a well known fact that the lands in the immediate vicinity of Bridgeton in the immediate vicinity of Bridgeton are very poor wheat producing lands; and why is it? would be enatural query extended and made to include all debts, liabili-It is, of course, because the soil lacks the requisite ingredients for making wheatone of which is lime. Much is said about lime as a manure, but I think it is unnecessary to say anything about it in that respect. Let people judge as they will, however, the manner of applying it deserves attention. The chemical action of lime is to liberate ammonia in manures -just consider that. On the surface of soils there is more or less matter containng ammonia. This ammonia is an important requisite in the growth of most plants. Now if the lime is applied to the surface and left there this ammonia would be thrown off into the atmosphere and wasted, therefore, my reasoning is to put An act to authorize the purchase by the State of the lime, with matter containing ammonia under the surface by plowing it in. Another ingredient of wheat is salt, of which it contains much more than of lime, as the following figures will show. If 100 bushels of wheat ashes are anylized they will he found to contain 32.77 bushels of salt, and the ashes of wheat straw contain 12 who serve their apprenticeship under the of lime, and the straw ashes a little over 6 bushels to every 100 bushels; thus the wheat and straw ashes contain 45 37 bushels of salt in 100 bushels while they the work done. The means and progress | have but about 9 of lime, the remainder phosphoric and sulphuric acid, &c. The great trouble is to get those substances from a soil in which they exist so sparsely They must naturally be made more plentiful by adding more to the soil by manfice, and a shop to learn those thousand ures. Barnyard manure made of stalks, hay, straw and other debris of the farm is the best, or as good as any article that can be procured for its cost, and there only that professional teaching I believe, but it cannot be produced in sufficient quantities to replenish the same ground from which it is taken, therefore, substitutes must be found. Marl is one very good substitute, as it contains lime, acid, and alkalized salts and silicia. In many parts of England the farmers make use of the common muscle by digging them out together with the mud and making a compound of them to rot. This is, no doubt, a good manure as it would contain the same elements as marl-perhaps more acids and gasses. Many farmers here use the kingcrab with very "In the interests of industry, and for good effect. But when all other sources the welfare of the apprentices themselves, fail there is one left which is sure—green manuring. Much might be said about the philosophy of green manuring, but that is not my intention. I only mean to ing the obligations and reciprocal engage- hint at it enough to call attention to it. Beans, peas, clover, carrots, turnips, and other plants and vegetables which have large and deep-growing roots are the best to turn under for green manure, which should be turned under very deep, for they are of such a nature that the deeper the soil is loosed the apprenticeship being from three to four | deeper they will go, adding the minerals which they absorb from the soil by their roots and the gasses they receive from the atmosphere by their leaves. O. T. ### The Finest Rose in the World. A DANISH ALLEGORY.

There reigned once a Queen in whose arden at all seasons were seen the finest flowers from all countries in the world .-She was particularly fond of roses, and therefore had every variety, from the wild rose of the hedges, with its fragrant green leaves, to the exquisit rose of Provence. They grew on the walks of her castle, coiled round its pillars, and wreathed its battlements in every variety of sweetness, form, and coloring.

But, while the roses bloomed without. sorrow and sadness were within the palace, for the Queen lay upon her sick bed, and her physicians said she must die. But no," said one of the wisest of them, there is still hope. If the Queen could see the leveliest rose in all the worldthat rose which expresses the highest and purest love, she might still live." Young and old brought roses-their best and gayest; but none brought the right one. And the word went out to all the neighboring countries, a message of earnest inquiry for this unique flower; and all the poets praised each the rose of his own land, and the palace was surrounded by glowing burdens-roses in baskets and vases that perfumed the air with their fragrance. The rose of Ind was there, that fountain of atter. But the right rose was not among the boquets. "I know where it blooms, this matchless rose," said a happy young mother, and aparatus and personal property connected who, with her first-born babe, approached with or used by the said schools, and when he the royal couch. "It springs from the cheeks and lips of my sweet blooming ov, when he onens his ever from al and smiles at me."

"Lovely is that rose," said the wise man; "but there is one lovelier still." "I have seen it," said one of the Queen's women. "It was a pale sweet tea-rose. I saw it on the face of our Queen, when she put away her crown and mourned her sick baby through a long night of sorrow.

"Holy and wonderful is the white rose of grief," said the wise man. "But no one has yet named the finest rose." "No," said a good bishop; "but I saw once a lovely rose. It shone with unearthly beauty before the altar, where a voung maiden came to confirm the coveuant of her baptism. Red and white was the rose on her cheeks, as she looked up to her savior in the full glowing love of a devoted soul. That rose was surely the expression of the purest and highest love."

"May that young maiden be thrice

blessed," said the wise man. "But no one has yet named the finest rose." Thereupon a little child stepped lightly nto the room of the Queen his mother. A wreath of sunny curls hung like a glory round his fair young face, and his leep violet eyes were like stars sparkling with dewy radiance. He carried on his bosom an open book, bound in velvet of royal purple, and clasped with pure gold. 'Mother," said the sweet young voice, musical as silver bells, "listen to what I have been reading." And the angel boy sat upon the bed of his mother, and read to her of Him who gave himself up to die upon the shameful cross for all men and our salvation. "Greater love hath no man than this," &c. And a rosy light flew over the pale cheeks of the sick Queen; and she looked at the book and read for herself that "God is love!" And as she read she seemed to find the loveliest rose rising from the leaves of the blesfor filing exceptions, in proper cases, upon such sed book. "I see it !—I see it now !—I terms as they may deem just and fair. | see it plainly!—I can see nothing else
4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take here!" exclaimed the Queen. "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord my God; for he has given me by his spirit to discern with the eyes of my understanding Him to whom the inspired word gives the beauteous name of > LIFE'S AUTUMN.-Like the leaf, life has its fading. We speak and think of it with sadness, just as we think of the autumn season. But there should be no sadness at the fading of a life that has done its work well. If we rejoice at the advent of a new pilgrim to the uncertainties of this world's way,, why should there be so much gloom when all these uncertainties are past, and life, at its waning, wears the glory of a completed task? Beautiful as is childhood in its freshness and innocence, its beauty is that of untried life. It is the beauty of promise, of spring, of bud. A holier and rarer beauty is the beauty which the waning life of faith and duty wears. It is the beauty of a thing completed:

the Rose of Sharon !"

and as men came together to congratulate each other, when some great work has been achieved, and see its concluding, nothing but gladness, so ought we to feel when the setting sun flings back its beams upon a life that has answered well life's purpose. When the bud-drops are blighted and the mildew blasts and the early grain, and there goes all hope of the harvest, one may well be sad; but when the ripened year sinks amid garniture of anthe United States, to be made on the fifteenth day tumn flowers and leaves why should we of February eighteen hundred and sixty-five, shall be as valid and effectual as if the contracting of such debt or liability, or the making of such and such parts are such that is ready and waiting for the "well done" raise by assessment on the taxable property of goodness and is permitted such virtue.

JAMES B. FERGUSON. Editor. SURRENDER OF LEE AND HIS ARMY The merry peals of gladness and shouts of joy over the fall of the Rebel capital, had scarcely died upon our ears, and the restless, surging tide of half-famished humanity had but partially subsided into its accustomed state of order and quietude, when the overwhelmingly glorious news of Gea, Lee's surrender to Gen. Grant, on Sunday the 9th inst., was received. This was a little more than poor, had been restrained, by dint of rigorous discipline, somewhat within the bounds of dignified propriety, now burst forth like a mighty torrent overcoming all obstacles and ignoring all control. All classes and conditions of persons -old and young, rich and poor, male and female, adult and child, gave loose rein to the wildest enthusiasm and the most extravagant demonstrations of unbounded joy. The scenes witnessed upon the reception of the news of Richmond's fall-ringing of bells, firing of play of flags, adjournment of business, throng-

The reception of the news in our city or Monday noon was an occasion of general joy · day been more favorable, more general and concerted action would doubtless have been taken to give due public expression to our appreciation of the transcendent importance of death, we crown you as victors and place the great event. On Tuesday evening a salute the laurel wreath around your pallid foreof a number of guns was fired but no other head more befitting than a dazzling diaspecial demonstration was then attempted, dem of many stars. doubtless owing to the causes above specified.

We learn that the principal of the West Jersey Academy, in the spirit of true patriotism, gave the students Tuesday, the 11th inst., as a heilday. We doubt not the boys enjoyed the respite, and that the event thus commemorated will live in their memories throughout all future time-an important epoch in theirs, as well as our nation's history. - A brief outline of the history of the events embraced between the fall of Richmond and Petersburg and the surrender of Lee's army may not be uninteresting to our readers .-After the evacuation of his strongholds at Petersburg Gen. Lee was then compelled to risk the entire demolition of his army in any other bloody and disastrous battle, or make good his retreat to some place of safety. The rapid march of Gen. grant from Petersburg to Burkesville, a distance of 53 miles in two and a half days-and its prompt seizure by our forces effeetually cut Lee off from any line of retreat except through Lynchburg, and this line was seriously threatened by the invincible Sheridan. On Thursday the 6th inst., Gen. Sheridan attacked Ewell and completely routed his army, Kershaw, Brigadier-Gens. Button, Corse, De Bare and Custis Lee, with several thousand prisoners, many pieces of artillery, caissons and a large number of wagons. This great ened and rendered more precipitate the retreat of the remainder of the Rebel army. General Grant became satisfied that Lee if hard pressed must surrender. Acting upon the basis of this opinion while still closing upon him and the way of the transgressor is hard. without relaxing the slightest degree in the pursuit, Gen. Grant opened a correspondence with Gen. Lee, which we give entire in an other part of our paper, and which resulted in the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee and the entire Army of Northern Virginia, numbering about 25,000 men, together with all the arms. artillery, and public property, upon Gen-Grant's own terms. Thus was surrendered not only the main army of the Confederacy but their greatest military leader—the mainstay of their hopes, the head, soul and only representative of the Confederate Government, since the ignominious flight of Jeff. Davis from the Rebel Capital. His surrender, therefore, involves, virtually, the surrender of all the Confederate armies. It is true Johnston, Hardee, and Bragg, leading smaller portions of the Rebel army, are still at large, but at the present writing, Johnston's surrender is highly probable. He is confronted by Sherman, Stoneman is in his rear, and Sheridan upon his left flank; thus environed it is more than probable he will imitate the example of the great Lee and graciously succumb. There seems to be no alternative left. It is thought that he cannot have more than fifty thousand at least two hundred thousand. Thus it will be seen that the surrender of Lee and his army has virtually ended the war. The Rebellion

Success of the 7-30 Loan .- Our readers will notice that subscriptions to the popular 7-30 Loan are still continued in the most liberal manner. To the Old World the success of Joseph T. Allen, D these Peoples' Loan is one of the wonders of a republic. The Government does not seek to borrow in foreign markets; it offers no preniums to bankers, but appeals directly to the people, and with what success is sufficiently shown by the fact that during forty-three days they subscribed and paid the cash down for ONE HUNDRED AND SINTY-ONE MILLION DOLLARSof the 7-30 Loan. There can be no stronger evidence of public confidence in Government securities. While nearly all other stocks have gone down from twenty to fifty, and even a greater per cent. within a few weeks, all forms of U.S. Bonds and stocks have remained firm except the slight fluctuations that are incident to all rapid changes in the money market .--Our readers will remember that the subscribers to the 7-30 Loan receive semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three tenths per cent, per annum in currency, and at the end of three years from June 15th, 1865, they will have the option of receiving payment in full, or converting their notes into a 5-20 six per cent. gold interest bond. The late great lecline in the premium on gold makes these notes more desirable than ever as an investment, and it should not be forgotten hat then exemption from state or municipal taxation adds largely to their value. There is no interruption in the receipts of subscriptions or the delivery of notes. All banks, bankers, and others acting as loan agents, will pay subscribers interest in advance from the day of subscription until June 15th.

State Sabbath School Convention, held in New Brunswick, in Nov. last, and also of the good condition of most of the Sabbath Schools in this county. Upon the suggeston of Mr. Pardee, for information in regard to the manner of conducting Sabbath Schools here, John Westcott, James Dalrymple and O. W. Whitford gave an account of theirs. Mr. Pardee then gave a general history of Sabbath Schools, from their commencement to the present time, when we have State Conventions and County Associations for the furtherance of the good cause. He then referred to and explained in a very interesting manner, Mr. Fitch's seven rules to teachers. Questions, criticisms, &c., by different persons in regard to reading the scriptures, and explanations. Adjourned with AFTERNOON SESSION .- Association conven-

The subject announced for the next hou was, "difficulties met with in conducting Sabbath Schools " Rav W D. Cillotte and others mentioned some of the difficulties which they had seen; some of which were "the want of interest in the church, older people and parents," "interest in the school," "teachers' meetings," "keeping open the school during the winter," "the character of library books;" all of which Mr. Pardee met in a way which could not help but interest and edify. The congregation then rose and united in singing the hymn commencing, "Savior visit thy plantation." Mr. Pardee then took up the subject of teachers' meetings, with examples and illustrations, in his very pleasant manner. Closed by using the Doxology "Praise God," &c., and

The Presilent as usual, conducted for half an hour de votional exercises, during which carnest prayers were offered for the Sabbath School cause. Facts in regard to the infant classes connected with their schools, were given by Rev. J. W. Hubbard, Rev. W. B. Gillette, Rev. C. R. Gregory, and Rev. Mr. Boggs and 1. P. Risher, of Vincland, spoke upon the same subject. Mr. Pardee illustrated the importance of infant classes by various incidents which had come under his observation. And in his very pleasant and interesting way, explained his manner of conducting them, and the plan of instruction, placing considerable importance on "object teaching." The congregation then rose and sung with much effect the hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' name." After further methods of infant class teaching, by Mr. Pardee, adjourned until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION .- Convention met agree ble to adjournment, in the Commerce street M. E. Church. After the opening exercises, the place for holding the next annual meeting was considered. Upon motion it was resolv-195 ed that it be held in the Presbyterian Church. in Greenwich, the third Wednesday in September. Rev. Wm. Maul, Rev. J. S. Stewart and Seeley Shute were appointed a committee of arrangements. The next hour was devoted to Bible classes, how to teach and who to compose them. Rev. C. R. Gregory, Rev. W. B. Gillette and J. C. Bowen, gave some of their experience in, and manner of teaching Bible classes. Mr. Pardee then gave his views, taking as a model lesson the fore part of the 2d chapter of Matthew, and some other portions of scripture. The congregation then rose and sung with much spirit, the good old hymn, "Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove." Then at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Boggs, Mr. Pardee gave accounts of the great success of different Sabbath School teachers, who were instrumental in the conversion of those under their care. Adjourned with prayer by Roy, Mr. Ballard. EVENING SESSION .- Convened in the First Presbyterian Church, at 71 o'cleck. The ppening exercises consisted of reading the scriptures, singing by the choir, and prayer, followed by that beautiful piece by the children, "the sweetest name." This being the children's session, a very large number was present, besides hundreds of parents, and riends of the Sabbath School cause. Mr. Pardee then addressed the large and attentive audience in his very attractive and interesting manner. He announced as his subject, "Be thou faithful until death." This he divided into four heads: First, be faithful to your selves; second, be faithful to your country; third, be faithful to the Sabbath School fourth, be faithful to your God. At the close of the address, the children and congregation united in singing the "angels' song" with much effect.

The following resolutions were then presented and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be and are hereby tendered to R. G. Pardee, for his faithful instructions and able addresses during the past two days and evenings. Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the inhabitants of Bridgeton for their hospitality, in entertaining those rom a distance.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. R. Gregory, ifter which the congregation rose and sung the familiar hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' name."

Thus closed another most interesting and profitable meeting of the Cumberland County Sabbath Selvol Association.

A MAD COW.

On Tuesday afternoon last, all was quiet about the polls while the election was in progress, and there seemed to be scarcely any one in the streets, when suddenly a cow made her appearance on Stratton's corner, having in tow a couple of men, who were clinging to the end of a twelve foot rope with desperation, ad vancing at one time and then suddenly retreat ing as the infuriated animal beaded towards them. A crowd was soon collected, and matters became no better fast, when finally the cow becoming master of the rope, advanced down Commerce street on double quick. Just this side of the bridge she was brought up with a round turn and anchored to where the crowd increased and the excitement became intense. After a long struggle the ani mal was brought to the ground, additional ropes fastened to her hind leg, when she was again started over the bridge with a crowd of not less than a hundred persons following close after to view the sport. The last we saw of her she was ascending the hill with half: lozen hold of the different ropes, and ore at the helm. Captain Blew was on hand, either at the bow or stern, it was difficult to distin guish where on account of the crowd.

In another column will be found the ward of the "Greeley Prize." The decisio of the committee speaks volumes in favor of Dr. Grant's "Iona." The "Israella" is but little inferior to the Iona, and by some consid ered superior. Dr. Grant is the originator and sole possessor of the original stock of both of these superior vines, which are rapidly gain-ing in popularity, notwithstanding the pany attempts of jealous rivals and others, to im pede their progress. There is no better soil and climate in the country than ours for the cultivation of the grape, and we advise thes in want of the very best of vines to send at once to Dr. G. W. Grant, Iona Island, near Peekskill, Westchester Co., N. Y.

Baughs' Raw Bone Super-Phosphate Read the following letter. BRIDGEWATER, BUCKS COUNTY, PA,

Messes, Paugit & Sons :--Yours of 19th inst, has be received. You ask me for my experience in the use of the Raw Bone Phosphate. I applied it to wheat after potatoes, about the 1st of October, 1868, which was two weeks later than I sowed the rest of my crep onsequently the winter affected it much more than the early sown, which had been manured with bar yard manure. I used it at the rate of 350 pounds to the acre. The difference in favor of the Phosphate was perceptible, both in the growth and straw, and quality of grain; it was also very perceptible in the grass. I am pleased with the Phosphate, although it quality of grain, a was an arrangement of the grass. I am please d with the Phosphate, although I do not think I gave it a fair trial, on account of the lateness of the season. I also used a ton of another make of Super Phosphate of Lime from your city, from which I have not been able to see any effect whatever.

Yours truly,
W. H. PAXON.

The Editor of the Genesee Farmer, in his "Walks and Talks on the Farm," for July, 1864, writes:—"1 have one crop that I feel proud of; some Early June and Six Weeks' Potatoes. The ground is very warm and light, and I planted in good season, and manured them in the rows at the rate of four hundred pounds to the acre, with Baugh's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate. Set the present season, this Raw Bene Super-Phosphate, so far, has done the most good. Jor garden vegetables it is certainly and excellent manure.

Award of the 'Greeley Prize." The Hon. Horace Greeley having very generously thered a prize of one hundred dollars for a grape offered a prize of one hundred dollars for a grape adapted to general cultivation in the Middle and Eastern States, the committee, after due consideration, have awarded if to the "long," raised by Dr. Grant. The additional requirements were, in general terms, that the grape should be larger than the belaware, early, tender to the center, high flavored, sweet, spirited, and good for market and the table—
This se requirements are fully toot by the long. So far as trial is concerned, the fona is not a new grape, and the commain c failed to see that any anything would be gained by postponing the award, some of them, being already quite familiar with the new grapes now before the public. More grapes as good, or even better are wanted, and a prize equally valuable is in store for such. The Iona, during the past four or five years has been grown in several parts of New York, in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylevania, Pelaware, New Jersey, &c., and in all has proved to be early, a good and healthy grower, and of the best quality. Some of your committee have seen it. best quality. Some of your committee have seen it in a number of these places, and can confirm the fa-worable reports that have been made. Your schair-quan has had it some six years, and examined it undera variety of circumstances, and he fully concurs in the high opinion of his associates. In conclusion, the committee are of opinion that the Iona, is the only grape new before the public that meets the re-quirements of the "Greely Prize," and they accord-mets award it.

COFFEE!

(Another Gem from the Poet.

(Another Gem from the Poets)

Some harp upon their coffee being at the Sanitary Fair, and gratis was it served,
But Browning's it was all the go and at Sanitary prices too was very much preserved.

"Composed by the writer?"

"How well the subject suits his noble name!
A follow facility makes us wonderns kind! "How well the subject suits his noble mind!
A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind!
Some fancied slight has roused his lurking hate,
Some folly crasid, some jest, or some debate."
Some dealer, who his Excelsior could not sell,
Or the Sanitary Fair, which pleased him bout as well,
His coffee did not "take" there it was not ready made,
Or it may be that the Continental is taking much his trade. or it may be that the Continental is taking interfact trade.

The cause, 'tis this, and few you'll find to don't it. His labels read "don't fail to use cream" Scull's collect is good without it.

Oh! Poet, Poet! "cease thy varied song!—
A bard may chant too otten and too fong!
As thou art strong in verse in mercy spare,
Again, alas! were more than we could beat;
But if, in spite of all the world can say.
Thou still wilt verseward plod thy weary way;"
Why, he it so! I seek no other fame
The cry is up, and scribblers are my game."

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE. FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE. It is the universal opinion of every one that SCULL'S CONTINENTAL COFFEE Is the most popular Codise in the market, owing this heathful and nutritious qualities and its strength its flavor approaching so mean the genuine that the best induces can searcely distinguish the difference. This coffee was served ready-made, and grates, at the GREAT SANITARY FAIR, held in Philadeiphia June 1864, and was the only coffee thus placed before the people, the other coffees were merely exhibited, more of Scull's coffee was sold at the Fair, and more money regized from its sale and handel over to the humagers than of all the rest of the coffees combined. It was purchased by residents of nearly every loyal State.

SCULL'S EXTRA COFFEE Is sold at about the same price as other 2d class articles in the market, try it, it will give you satisfaction, use one third less than of other coffee, boil about 10 or 15 minutes.

The genuine article is about 65 cents per pound, the Continental, just as good, is less than half the price, and being much stronger will go further and save the housekeeper more than 50 cents on every pound used, which is quite an item in these times of high prices. Prepared by undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of the United States Treasury Notes bearing seven and three tenth per cent, interest, per annum, known as the SEVEN THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1844, and are payrice three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holler into U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cents Gold Bearing Bonds. These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent, including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-90 loan, at current rates, in-cluding interest, at about ten per cent, per annum, beaches its exemitation from State and Municipal taxamaning interest, a drom State and Madicipal taxa-scales its exemption from State and Madicipal taxa-tion, which adds from one to three per cent, more, coording to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attach-d to each note, which may be out of and sold to any ank or banker. The interest amounts to One cent per day on a $50 note $100 '' $500 '' $1000 '' " $5000 Notes of all the denominations named will be compily preprieted upon receipt of subscriptions. THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET ow offered by the Government, and it is confidentially expected that its superior advantages will make Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will y deally be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, hen the notes will undoubtedly command a premi-n, as has uniformly been the case on closing the am, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscript on to other leans.

In order that citizens of every town and -oction of the country may be afforded heddities for taking the lean, the haddend lamks, state banks and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in when they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

> ALLEN & NEEDLES' IMPROVED SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME

We have the pleasure of informing our numeror triends and customers that hereafter they will be turned with a genuine article of supersphosphate of Lime of OWN MANUFACTURE. The many difficulties we and our customers have experienced for some years past in depending upon others to manufacture this article for us, induced us to erect a factory, where we are now prepared, by the introduction of

New and Complete Machinery, to have the whole process of manufacturing under o own control. By the unremitting attention of a PRACTICAL CHEMIST, and our own personal supervision, we hope to be able to fill all orders for our article for the coming season, but will only say that we shall turn out none but what is Properly Made. ALLEN & NEEDLES' FERTILIZER!

This manure from its superior merit and its lowness of price compared with other good articles, has acquired a eputation with farmers which classes it amongst our andard manures. It is largely composed of bones, is cheaper and lasts as ong in the soil. cacked in New Bags, 150 lbs. each. PRICE-$45 per 2000 lbs.

FOR SICK HEADACHE.

Its Symptoms, Cause and Cure! This has received its name from a constant nausea or sickness at the stomach, which attends the pain n the head. This headache is apt to begir in the morning on awakening from a deep sleep, and when some irregularity of diet has been committed on the day before, or sometimes for several days previous. At first there is a distressingly oppressive feeling in the head, which gradually merges into a severe heavy pain in the temples, frequently attended by a fullness and tenderness in one eye, and extending peross the forehead. There is a clammy, unpleasanaste in the mouth, an offensive breath, and the tongue overed with a vellowish white fur. The sufferer desires to be alone in a dark room. As soon as the pa tient feels the fullness in the head and pain in the temples, take a large dose of Shenck's Mandrake Pills, and in an hour or two they will feel as well as ever. This has been tried by thousands, and is al ways sure to care, and instead of the sick headache coming on every week or ten days, they will not be roubled with it once in three months.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are composed of a numper of roots besides Podophinin, or concentrated Mandrake, all of which tend to relax the secretions of the liver, and act more prompt than blue pills or mercury and without leaving any dangerous effects. In a. bilious person they will show themselves by the stools They will expel worms, mucus, bile and all morbid matter from the system. In sick headache, if they are taken as directed above, (a full dose as soon as they feel the first symptoms of it Dr. Shenck will and has directed his agents to return the money if they do not give perfect satisfaction. If a person has been compelled to stay out late at night, and drink too much wine, by taking a dose of pills on going to bed, next morning he will feel as though he had not drank a drop, unless he forgets to go to bed at all.

They only cost 25 cents a box. Whoever takes them will never use any other .-They are worth a dollar to a sick man for every cent they cost. Don't forget the name-Schenck's Mandrake Pills-Sold wholesale and retail at Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, and by Druggists and Storekeepers generally.

Price for Pulmonic Syrup, and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50. $7.50 the half dozen, or two bottles of syrup and one of tonic, for $3.75. Dr. Schenck will be at his office, No. 15 North 6th treet, Philadelphia, every Saturday to see patients.-He makes no charge for advice, but for a thorough ex unination of the lungs with his respirometer, he
