LINES DEDICATED TO MRS. Z. H., On Seeing a Regiment of Returned Soldiers.

They come, they come! The tide of war Has drifted far away; As druted far away;
Victorious conquero's they come,
Their bearing bold and gay.
They come, they come! Why do my tears,
Dear friend, so freely flow?
Alas, the sight too plainly wakes
A vision of thy woe.

A vision of thy woe.

They come, they come, to a land redeem'd
From the thralling curse of ill,
That fettered her, when the cry of war
Through her length and breadth did thrill.
They come, they come! Their val'rous arms
A joyful peace hath wrought:
Proud Freedom's light unclouded shines,
By their life-blood nobly bought. By their life-blood nobly bought.
They come, they come! those stalwart men,
With music's stirring sound,
And lonely homes grow bright once more,
With their look'd for presence crowned.
They come, they come! the loyal hearted;
Alas! one is not there;
And I know the grief of thy loving heart,
Dear friend, is hard to bear.

Lear friend, is hard to bear.

I know thine eye grows dim with tears,
As ye gaze upon the sight,
And thy star of earthly happiness,
Is shrouded in deepest night.

I know thy cheek is growing pale,
With the pang of hope deferred,
That months have passed since thy dread suspense
Was lighten'd with a word.

Was lighten a with a word.

I know it well, and my heart responds
In sympathy to thine,
Yet I rejoice that through thy grief,
Thy faith doth brighter shine;
That as the deep'ning waves of woe
Around earth's pathway close,
Thy soul a heav'nly comfort feels,
A sweet submission knows. A sweet submission knows.
And this is well—the hand which laid
This burden on thy head,
E'en when the storm-cloud darkest lowers,
A holy peace will shed.
Grace has been given thee, my friend,
In sorrow's deepest night,
To cry "In God I put my trust;
He dooth all things right."
Then let them come—that noble band—

He doeth all things right."
Then let them come—that noble band—
With their banners floating free, While their martial music stirs the land,
'Tis a glorious sight to see!
True, many will weep as they pass along—
Will weep and turn away,
And many a heart will mourn some friend,
That comes not back to-day. Yet we'll warmly welcome the vet'ran band,
They have fought as the brave can fight;
Their blood has drenched the thirsty land,
Through the battle's raging night.
We can but look at them with pride,
Though tears like rain-drops flow;
They come, victorious conquerors!

THE CUMBERLAND BIBLE SOCIETY. The fiftieth Anniversary of the Society was held in the "Old Stone Church," in Fairfield on

Tuesday August 1st 1865. The Society met at 101 o'clock A. M., the Pres dent, Hon. L. Q. C. Elmer in the chair. After an Invocation by the Rev. C. R. Gregory, the Rev. William C. Stockton read the XIX Psalm and prayer was offered by the Rev. J. S Stewart of Greenwich. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Daniel

Williams sang the XIX Psalm-The minutes of the last meeting were read and

After singing the 4th Hymn-"How precious is the Book Divine, &c.," the President delivered the following-HISTORI ADDRESS.

at in the year the hundred and . ...is county eton established the a permanent organi Bible ety, of which we and nearly all the numerous initar societies throughout the land, are now a maries. The pious founders of this Society, thus commenced a new era in the history of our country.

We had recently closed a war with one of the most powerful nations of the world, from whom we had been compelled to force an acknowledgement of our national Independence, by an appeal to the God of battles. This second war with Great Britain, had not only occasioned great sac rifices and lesses, but had distracted and divided our people, and threatened to dissolve our newly formed union. The year 1814 was a dark and dismal year, during which a large portion of those esteemed the most intelligent of our citizens, entertained and loudly expressed the most fear-ful apprehension of defeat and disaster. • But it pleased the Allwise Ruler of the Unierse, early in the year 1815, to disperse the clouds that hung over us so loweringly, and to cause the glad news of Peace, to sound through the land. Not only was there unexpected Peace. but our federal republic, an untried experiment in government, had proved itself capable of carrying on successfully a great war, even in opposition to the opinions and wishes of a powerful minority of the States and people. Our country was victorious, on the land and on the water,

In the midst of rejoicings for such unhoped for mercies, the hearts of our fathers were turned in thankfulness to the God of the Bible. Having in heir hands a revelation of his will they resolved to make known to others the great truths in which they had themselves put their trust. Their sole object was, to aid in circulating the Holy Scrip-tures, without note or comment, not only within their own county, but throughout the world.

No record remains of the individuals present at the meeting which commenced the Society; but the names of eighty persons are recorded, as hav-ing become members during the first two years, of these only six are known to be now living; viz., Stephen Lupton, Robert Sheppard and Daniel M Woodruff of Bridgeton, Philip Fithian of managers, the number since having been fifteen The managers first elected were Jonathan Free-man, Michael Swing, Jonathan Elmer, Joel Fithian, Eli Budd, Samuel Tomlinson, Samuel Davis, Ebenezer Elmer and Ethan Osborn; and from hese men the Presidents of the Society were from time to time selected, until the death of the last survivor of them, the venerable Ethan Osborn, in 1858, when the present incumbent was chosen.

Jonathan Elmer was a resident of Bridgeton, of which he had been perhaps the most prominent citizen for nearly fifty years, and was an elder of the Presbyterian church. He was a grand-son of the Rev. Daniel Elmer from Connecticut, pastor of the Cohansey Presbyterian Church from 1729 to 1755, who lies buried in the old burial ground. near the site of the first church edifice erected in the County about the year 1697. He was the sec-ond son of Daniel Elmer, Esq., eldest son of the Rev. Daniel, and was born at Cedarville in 1744; studied medicine and graduated at the then new University of Philadelphia as Bachelor of Medi-

*Since the above was written, it has been discovered that the Nassau Hall Society at Princeton, and the young Men's Bible Society of New Brunswick, were probably earlier in date than the Cumberland County Society, and are still continued. There were in the State prior to the formation of the American Bible Society, besides the above, a New Jersey state society, and six or eight local secieties, none of which are known to be now in operation. There are now in the State twenty-nine societies auxiliary to the American Bible Society, most of which are county to the Mark of the Society which, now that we hall see him among us no longer, ought to stimulate us all to "work while it is yet day, before the night cometh, when no man can work."

The Secretaries of the Society have been Jonathan Elmer 1815 to 1817; Jonathan Freeman 1817 to 1822; Ebenezer Elmer 1822 to 1828; Daniel Elmer 1828 to 1831; Lucius Q. C. Elmer 1831 to Probably few men in this or any other country, was better informed in Theology, Law and Medicine. In 1772 he was elected a member of the American Philosophical Sotomark of which Dr. Franklin was the President, ciety, of which Dr. Franklin was the President, then justly deemed a high honer. Owing to his feeble health, which incapacitated him from makfeeble health, which incapacitated him from making loug horseback journeys, as physicians of his day having much practice were obliged to do, and to his fondness for law and politics, he did not long follow his profession. Gov. Franklin appointed him sheriff in 1772, an office which he hald three years, and afterwards he was Clerk hald three appointed him sheriff in 1772, an office which he held three years, and afterwards he was Clerk and Surrogate, and the presiding Judge of the county court. In 1774 he was a member of the Provincial Congress of New Jersey, which superceded the regular Legislature, and in 1776 was chosen a member of the general Congress of the United States, continuing to be for several years, an active and influential member of that bedy.—

After the adoption of the present Constitution he After the adeption of the present Constitution, he was one of the Senators from this State. He was the first Secretary of this Society, the early min-utes still remaining in his hand writing. He died in September 1817. Michael Swing was a local preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, then living on his farm in this vicinity, on a part of which he caused to be erected in the year 1819, the house still known as the "Swing meeting house," now an independent charge as the Fairton church.— He was born at York in Pennsylvania, of German parentage; came to this county in 1789 and in 1790 becames Methodist and soon entered upon which with some aid from others, he effected very the work of the ministry. The farm he owned satisfactorily. In 1856, Mr. David Harris of adjoined the old burial place and was formerly this county, was employed as a special agent to the property of Rev. Daniel Elmer. He was an visit our families and distribute Bibles and Tesintelligent man, and an acceptable preacher, much esteemed for his worth as a citizen, representing the county in the Legislature in the year 1829. He was Precident of the Society in 1817 and in 1824 and a city in the Legislature in the year of these without an entire copy of the Bible and many of the society in 1817 and in 1824 and a city in 182 senting the county in the Legislature in the year 1829. He was President of the Society in 1817 and in 1824, and at other times a Vice President, continuing until his death in 1834 to be an active and efficient labourer in the good work of dis-tributing the Holy Scriptures through the medium of this Society, even after most of the ministers and members of his church, felt it their duty to confine their efforts in this cause to their own deominational society.

Joel Fithian, was a merchant, then residing at Roadstown, and an elder in the Greenwich Presto add to which and an elder in the Greenwich Pres-byterian Church. He was a descendant of a pur-itan settler in Fairfield, who came there in 1702 from Long Island, to which place his father came, from Massachusetts in 1740. He was born in 1743; in 1776, and in two succeeding years was elected Sheriff of the courty, and was afterwards a Judge of the court and a member of the Legisature. He was a useful and much esteemed mem. ber of Society. Having been affected by paralysis in 1818, from which he never recovered so as be able to leave his room, he died in November

Eli Budd, then resided at Cumberland Farnace, in Maurice River township, now called Manamuskin Manor. He came there as early as 1755 trom Burlington county, where his forefathers had resided from its first settlement in 1668.— They were Friends, but about 1735 several of the family, and among them Eli Budd became a Methodist. He established iron works on the Manamuskin and was one of the founders of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Port Elizabeth, the first of that denomination in the county, and into the county, and distributed about thirteen thousand five hundred and seventy for each at the county, and average of two hundred and seventy for each in Maurice River township, now called Manamus in Manamuskin Manamuskin and was there as early as 1735 trom Burlington county, where his forefathers our books were obtained from the Philadelphia Bible Society, but in 1817 we became an auxiliary of the American Bible Society. We have brought into the county, and distributed about thirteen thousand five hundred bibles and testaments, an average of two hundred and seventy for each at the favorite national song of France, in the favorite national song of France, in the favorite national song of France, in the decent of the field of Waterloo, or La Parisienne." He was born preached before that time for more than twenty years. He was not settled as a pastor, but took long preaching tours in Virginia, Ohio and western New York. Owning a good farm in the neighborhood of Shiloh, he lived on it most of his life and died in 1834. Ebenezer Elmer, resided at Bridgeton, holding the office of Collector of the customs. He was born at Cedarville in 1752, was the brother of Dr. Jonathan Elmer, with whom he studied medicine. In the spring of 1776, having nearly com-pleted his medical studies, he took a commission in the army serving as a lieutenant for one year, after which he entered the service as a Surgeon, continuing in that capacity, until finally dis-charged upon the ratification of peace in 1783.— He then settled as a physician in Bridgeton, but soon abandoned that profession, having been several times elected a member of the S ate Leg-islature, and from 1801 to 1807 a member of Congress. During the war with Great Britain, he commanded a Brigade of the Militia called into service for the protection of Philadelphia and South Jersey. He was one of those deeply impressed with the importance of religion, during the great revival, which occurred in Fairfield, under the pastorate of Mr. Ramsey in the year and had established for itself a place among the most important and powerful nations of the His own testimony in a brief sketch of his life His own testimony in a brief sketch of his life drawn up near its close, is, "my father was a prominent elder in the church, and my mother was truly pious, and would frequently, after my reading a chapter in the Bible, pray with us. However much, amidst the alluring varieties of the world of deviced from a prize and a meets were to be not a factor of mercies. tian integrity, the Bible was ever precious to me, and I can heartily recommend it to others, as containing all things necessary to lead us safely through life, and to make us wise unto salvation." Jonathan Freeman had been for ten years the pastor of the united Presbyterian Churches of Greenwich and Bridgeton, and then resided in a house which stood on the site of the present Court House. To him perhaps, more than any other individual, may be ascribed the initiative in forming the society, although he met with zealous cenadjutors. He was born at Woedbridge in this State, in the year 1765, was licensed by the Present Court was not with the present Court was not common man. One of the original founders of the Cumberland Bible Society, he was nearly forty years a faithful and efficient member of the board of managers, and its President or Vice President. Without being greatly distinguished for talent or eloquence, he always commanded res-pect, and few men have been more widely known or more generally beloved. He was truly a good man, full of the Hely Ghost and of faith. Firm and decided in his political and theological opin-ions and never concealing them; he was so blame less in his life, so meek in his spirit, so manifest! sincere, so tolerant of differences, so courteous in his manners, and so uniformly respectful to oth ers, that those who did not agree with him always esteemed him. In 1837 the State Society resolved to supply the whole state, and this county was faithfully explored principally by John Montgomery, then a student at Princeton, now a much respected pastor in Missouri. Nearly every family wanting a Bible was furnished with one either gratuitously or for the cash price, and youth under fifteen with a testament. The whole expense in this county was horse by this society, including the peases. was borne by this society, including the necessar expenses of the agent, and twenty dollars for his

This agent was paid his expenses and a small compensation, and made the most thorough excompensation, and made the most thorough exploration of the county ever accomplished.

Annual meetings of the Society have been regularly held from the beginning at the different houses of worship, in most of our townships, and the board of managers has met always once, and generally twice or oftener in the year. Our field of correction as a way are a ware is a small one of operation as you are aware is a small one.— The population of the county in 1815 was about ten thousand, augmented now to about twenty-five thousand. We have come far short of doing all that we might and ought to have done; but I am glad to be able to state, that our receipts have fully kept up with our growth as acounty in pop-ulation and wealth. For the first ten years the annual receipts did not exceed an average of seventy dollars; during the last ten they have are seventy dollars; during the last ten they have averaged four hundred and thirty-seven dollars.—

As a people we have much to fear and much to hope for. New difficulties beset our path, as in the common lot of nations, composed of fallen sinful men. One power, and one only can enable us to accomplish the lofty mission that invites our efforts, it is the power of the religion of Christ, as made known to us in the Bible. Looking back sons deeply to impress us with the value, the need, and the truth of the Holy Scriptures. Till that day, I had never tasted strong drink. I had uttered a vow in my youth to abstain from it. and to that vow I owed my life, for none of all my comrades who indulged in the use of it survived the horrors of the

PITTSGROVE CAMP MEETING.

The Camp Meeting at Pittsgrove, a fev miles from this city, passed off with more than usual pleasantness of weather, a single light shower only interrupting its constant clearness. The ground is most advantageously situated for the purposes of its use, having a gentle slope from the road inward; excellent wells of water, in which had been inserted the modern convenience of pumps; large and shady trees; an absorbent soil; and almost perfect convenience of access from all parts of the country. The meeting was under the gentlemanly and vigorous charge of Rev. C. H. Whitecar, and his efficient lieutenant, Rev. S. Johnson, of Pittsgrove, upon whom, in connection with the managers, the practical execution of the arrangements depended; and so well were they executed, that a vote of thanks was passed by the preachers, in their favor. The order was excellent, as the people accepted, on all occasions, the polite suggestions of the managers, and no disturbance marred the sacredness of the occasion.

On Monday evening the formal services commenced by an earnest and inspiring sermon from Rev. Mr. Tullis, of Mullica Hill .-On Tuesday morning they were continued by Rev. Mr. Shimp, of Franklinville, in a sermon of deep earnestness; the afternoon was occupied by Rev. W. Reeves, of Carpenters Landing, in a similar address; and the evening by Rev. Mr. Mickle, of Cohansey, in an address calculated to induce reflective thought. On Wednesday morning Rev. Mr. Stockton, of Fairton, preached a powerful discourse on holmess; in the afternoon Rev. Mr. Townsend, of Cape May, followed, on the same subject, with a clearness of thought and simplicity of diction that gave the sermon general favor .-On this afternoon the services were varied, by the presentation of between eighty and ninety dollars as a testimonial from numerous friends to Rev. Mr. Hickman, of Bridgeton, who, as most of our readers know, is temporarily disabled from active service. The affair was pleasantly conducted, and apparently deepened the religious feeling of the auditory. The evening was filled by Rev. Mr. Relyea, of Gloucester City, who preached on the "Old | Paths," urging a more "vigorous prosecution of the war " by the old methods of Methodistic practice. On Thursday morning the standard-bearer was Rev. E. Sands, of Brooklyn N. Y., a preacher of but seven or eight years, experience, but whose strength of thought, ornate beauty of language, graceful oratory, and thorough earnestness of soul, held the large audience in appreciative attention for the entire hour of its delivery. Mr. Sands is evidently wearing out in the service of his Lord and Master, and although on a visit here for the purpose of recruiting his energies, he eached two powerful sermons in Bridgeton the Sunday previous to his eloquent sermon on the camp-ground. Unless his friends restrain him from herculean efforts, he will, doubtless, soon be safely moored from sorrow's tempest on the distant peaceful shore. Such men are like meteors glancing through a starry sky, thrilling and aweing wrapt beholders with the wondrous light they bear. Mr. Sands has immortalized his name in South Jersey. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Fleming. of Salem, delivered a chaste address; and in the evening Rev. Mr. Fields, of South-western Missouri, preached a sermon largely illustrated by his experience among the bushwackers.'-Friday morning was occupied by Rev. Mr. Brown, of Salem, by an eloquent sermon or the Resurrection, which held the sympathies of the people captive. In the afternoon the crowd was so great that no one voice could reach half their number. Rev. Mr. Green, of Fislerville, preached a logical sermon from the stand; while Rev. Messrs. Stockton and Wheeler preached exhortatory ones from different points at the head of the ground; and Rev. Mr. Osborne, with herculean frame and stentorian voice, extemporized a sermon and pulpit by the refreshment stand, for the benenit of the careless crowd assembling there .-These various services proceeded without any interruption of good order, and it is to be hoped were not without their good effect .-The closing sermon was preached in the evening by Rev. Mr. Sleeper, of Allowaystown, after which the night was spent in singing, ing the people "broke" camp and returned to week's worship in the grove at Pittstown.

AN ENTERPRISING MAN. -Enterprising men in any community are a blessing. They are the men who originate new and important improvements, and help carry them to completion. It matters not how much property a person may have, or how much means, if it remains inactive it will be of but little use to any one. A judicious and paying investment of capital might be made in Bridgeton, which would greatly add to the population and wealth. of our city. This city, with its numerous advantages over other localities, and the rich surrounding agricultural district, is not known as it should be at a distance, and when it is there will be a demand for houses and lands, such as will greatly enhance their value. We shall have more to say on this subject soon; at present we merely refer to the enterprising spirit of the Real Estate Agent in this place, Mr. G. W. Finlaw, who is doing much to bring this section of the State into notice.-He deserves the patronage and encouragement of every man interested in the welfare of this city and the surrounding country.

CARPING POLITICIANS. There is a class of politicians who hang as useless fungi on the phylacteries of all parties, peculiarly affected with a disposition to carp and find fault. Unless their notions are fully carried out in all particulars; unless their candidates receive the endorsement of all conventions; unless they are allowed to designate the persons required for official positions, nothing goes right with them; and, therefore, whoever receives nominative honors are sure to become targets for these malcontents to hurtle their envenomed shafts against. This kind of political cynicism is dangerous in very many respects, and should not be tolerated in the least degree. In the first place, it affords bad men an opportunity to urge the nomination of bad men for important places of trust; and, in the second place, it inflicts upon the public the whinings of snivelling and uninfluential drones, who seek this snarling and snappish course for the purpose of levying contributions to appease them. This class is composed generally of tenth-rate politicians, who never receive the confidence of any party, and are ready at all times to sell themselves into the ranks of that clique who will give most for their services, if they are worth anything at all. It is this class of politicians who make our election canvasses so prognant of abuse. Having no particular interests of their own to defend or maintain, they have no interest in any one else, further than the value of their abuse is concerned .-The sooner parties get rid of such the better it will be. Honest men can then be selected by intelligent electors, who possess requisite qualifications for the trust, without that partisan carping which now destroys the pleasure which a fairly and civilly-contested election might give. Without such a change, it is to be feared that every canvass hereafter may become characterized with greater III-feelings and malignancy toward candidates, no matter how pure and honorable they may be in every particular. We have been led to these remarks from the course pursued by the Trenton Monitor since the nomination of the Hon. Marcus L. Ward, for Governor of this State. Because the convention did not select a candidate suited to the notions of its editor; because the gentlemen who composed that intelligent body preferred Mr. Ward to Mr. Gardner's opinions, that lachrymose individual immediately set himself to work, and brought forth a "Monitor"-it would have been better designated monster-"Platform," repudiating the action of that convention, and Briarcus-like, has determined to go it single-handed and alone. In the same articles, and with the same breath, its editor attempts to show the necessity of favoring one corporation by the law-making power of the State, and in breaking its faith with another. And, in order to justify this appeal to its readers, it urges it as a duty of the Republican party, of tion of things must be looked upon in a difwhich it professes to be an organ. God help the party, if it pins its faith to the teachings of the Trenton Monitor, or the dictates of its

The course pursued by the Monitor since i sprang into an elecmosynary existence is only equaled by the impudent boldness of a highwayman, while endeavoring to convince the traveller that it is just and proper to rob him of his hard-earned money. Assuming the meekness and patriotism of one who appears anxious to be thought sincere, it falsely professes adherence to those principles which have ever actuated the loyal citizens of the North, while it really demands State and National legislation in favor of the English-Wall-Street-Rebel-Ram-Builders' Bonds of the Raritan and Delaware Bay Railroad. All this, too, under the plea of removing monopoly restrictions, which it assumes to be disadvantageous to the State. In its zeal to subserve the interests of its New York owners, it abuses the entire newspapers of the State, which have grown up with the prosperity of New Jerseyhelped to secure for it those advantages which have been so greatly promotive of prosperity, and identified themselves with all the growing elements which contributed so much to its internal improvements. An interloper, or rather a foreign fungus, transplanted from the corrupting powers of British Wall Street capital, into the soil of our patriotic little State, the Monitor sets itself up as a leader in public journalism, and like a rattleshake in "dog speaking and prayer; and on Saturday morn- days," snarls and snaps at everything and everybody around it. One day it is lavish in their various homes, well pleased with their unstinted laudations of such co-laborers as J. M. Scovel, with it in its vile work of traducing better men, and the next its fires of indignation and wrath are kindled against our members of the Legislature, of Congress, of judges and lawyers, and of the people generally, because they do not and will not violate their official oaths and virtues of office to pander to the principles it advocates and desires established. citizens worked manfully to save the property.

The lower part of the building was soon empwere removed from a shed adjoining the main the dwelling of Mr. Daniel B. Thompson within a few feet of the pottery, was saved .-

The furniture and carpets were principally removed, and considerable damage done.-

In about one hour the pottery building was burned to the lower story, part of which remains a mass of channel waine. The building was estimated to be worth about seven hundred dollars. Insured for $500. The contents of the building were also insured for $500, which did not cover the loss. This was one of the oldest buildings in Bridgeton, erected about the year 1810, by Abraham Carter, who sold it to John Salkel, in 1818. Mr. Salkel carried on the business there until 1857, when he sold out to George White, who sold the building about a year ago to Daniel B. Thompson, of whom Mr. White leased it. The fire is supposed to have originated from an aper the building. Mr. White did not leave until three o'clock the morning of the fire, and all seemed right at that time. He requests us to

To Farmers and Dealers. SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME. FOR SALE AT THE MANUFACTURERS.

Permit the undersigned to correct and remove th impression Farmers have that the article now sold a Allen & Needles' Super Phosphate," is the same a he well-known 'MORO PHILLIPS' GENUINE IMPROVED SUPER FORMULTING GENUINE IMPROVED SUPER PHOSPHATE," Formerly sold by Allen & Needles. I was not aware until recently that my Super Phosphate, of which I am and always have been the sole proprietor, as well as manufacturer, was sold in any locality as "Allen & Needles," Allen & Needles were dealers, who bought and sold my Super Phosphate as others buy and sell.

Since I commenced the manufacture of my Genuine Improved Super Phosphate of Line, I have manufactured it of the same material, the "Sombrero Gunno," or which I have the sole control. The interest which I hold in the island is such that no other manufacturer in the United States can obtain the same material, and without that same material the same article cannot be produced. Let it be distinctly understood that. I have no agents who are exthesized. understood that I have no agents who are authorized to use their own names on the package. If you would obtain the long tried and reliable article of my mannfacture, you must purchase of those who sell with my name on only. It is to your own interest to be apprized of the foregoing statement.

Messrs. Allen & Needles never manufactured Super Phosphate to my knowledge. Before they sold my article, they sold the manufacture of Messrs. Potts & Klett. They now say they manufacture their own, because of the many difficulties they had when other parties manufactured for them. Whatever difficulties they may have had with Potts & Klett I do not know, but I know they never had any difficulty with me. In May, 1862, Messrs. Allen & Needles called on me to purchase Moro Phillips' Super Phosphate. I contracted with them to supply a certain number of tons per annum at a specified price, which I did until last Fall; I then refused to supply them with any more unless they would remove their names from the stencil, which they consented to do. They sold what I supplied last Fall without their name at tached to it.

The article they soll this year may be as good as understood that I have no agents who are authorize tached to it.

The article they sell this year may be as good as mine, but I wish the public to know that it is not made from the same material as the Phosphate they sold for the last three years, called Moro Phillips' Genuine Improved Super Phosphate of Lime.

Respectfully yours.

The public are invited to call at Dare's BRUNA AND BREWSTER. The great wonder now is how Bruna and Brewster ever got together. It is no uncommon thing for Brewster to be called Bruna; this is not very much to be taken to heart, for any one having the reputa tion that Mr. Bruna has, need not care it that good repute is handed down to one yet in his infuncy, bu hoping soon to gain a name, at least for the sale o hoping soon to gain a mame, at least for the sale of capital ice cream and good mineral water. Mr. Irrina thinks at this season of the year a good dish of his cream is far superior to a dose of Freusecc's Fills, but this is a sure fact that if you get sick on ice cream Brewster's cirate of magnesia is the most pleasant medicine you can take, very much resembling soda water. After you get reguled with cooling beverages nothing is nicer than a good Havana cigar. Remember the mortar out front.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills!

FOR SICK HEADACHE. Its Symptoms, Cause and Cure!

This has received its name from a constant nausea r sickness at the stomach, which attends the pain in the head. This headache is apt to begin in the orning on awakening from a deep sleep, and when omelirregularity of diet has been committed on the day before, or sometimes for several days previous. At first there is a distressingly oppressive feeling it the head, which gradually merges into a severe heavy pain in the temples, frequently attended by a fullness and tenderness in one eye, and extending eross the forehead. There is a clammy, unpleasan iste in the mouth, an offensive breath, and the tongue overed with a yellowish white fur. The sufferer deires to be alone in a dark room. As soon as the pa ient feels the fullness in the head and pain in the emples, take a large dose of Shenck's Mandrake Pills, and in an hour or two they will feel as well as ver. This has been tried by thousands, and is al ways sure to cure, and instead of the sick headache oming on every week or ten days, they will not be roubled with it once in three months. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are composed of a num er of roots besides Podophinin, or concentrated Mantrake, all of which tend to relax the secretions of the ver, and act more prompt than blue pills or mercuy and without leaving any dangerous effects. In a oilious person they will show themselves by the stools They will expel worms, mucus, bile and all morbid natter from the system. In sick headache, if they re taken as directed above, (a full dose as soon as hey feel the first symptoms of it Dr. Shenck will and nas directed his agents to return the money if they

o not give perfect satisfaction. If a person has been compelled to stay out late a night, and drink too much wine, by taking a dose of pills on going to bed, next morning he will feel as though he had not drank a drop, unless he forgets to go to bed at all. They only cost 25 cents a box. Whoever takes them will never use any other. They are worth a dollar to a sick man for every cent they cost.

Don't forget the name-Schenck's Mandrake Pills Sold wholesale and retail at Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, and by Druggists and Storekeepers generally. Price for Pulmonic Syrup, and Seaweed Tonic, each
