NO. 604 MARKET STR., PHILADELPHIA Jones' policy which has proved of such great satisfaction both to his friends and the public, has demonstrated the fact, that ONE PRICE is the proper basis on which to do busuess. Many persons who are not able to judge of the value of any article, are glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing where they can secure what they want at the same price as their neighbors. Others, not liking to ask the dealers to take less, are often obliged to pay too much for an article. To meet this want Jones' one price Store has been established, and having friends.

ULCERS, And all kinds of THIS valuable remedy was accidentally discovered in the year 1855, by Wm. Miller, at the time suffering with a severe attack of ulcered sore throat, when he happened to partake of a plant common to this latitude, and unexpectedly found in it a permanent latitude, and unexpectedly found in it a permanent cure, after taking two doses, stace which time he has administered it to a great number of persons similarly afflicted, with unbounded success, and now feels safe in offering it to the public in the greatest confidence, that it is the long-desired remedy for all discusses of the throat, having no deleterious effects on the system, being picasant and agreeable to take, and acting like a charm on persons of all ages. It is without an equal among the many remedies for the above discusses. With pleasure we refer to the following well-known citizens of Gloucester county, and elsewhere, to attest the virtues of this valuable remedy. John Pierson, Eso.

WHY THE BOYS HURRAHED.

"O, father," said Harry Hope, as he bounded into the house one cold winter's day, "isn't it glorious? Such a time as we have had! We boys have been hurrahing until we are about hoarse. And the men have got the cannon out on the common, and they are going to fire I don't know how many guns. Hurrah!"

BY EFFNER BOND.

Mr. Hope smiled to see Harry's energy and excitement. "Well, what is it, Harry? You haven't told me what it is all about," said he. "Why the men are going to fire the cannon because, they say, 'slavery is dead!' And it isn't never going ω live any more in this country. And the little negro babics, and girls, and boys will not free, like Minnie, and I, and Fred. Hurrah! O, I'm so glad!"

"So am I glad," said his father. "It is indeed a glorious day, and I rejoice that slavery is dead."

At this time the bells rang forth a mer-"O, yes! they are ringing the bells, too, father. And there's the first gun. May I go down on the Common and see them?" said Harry "I will go out with you," said his fa-

As they passed down the street, they saw that almost every one looked glad, and the bells pealed forth their loudest tones, and the cannon's roar deepened the exultant sounds.

"Thank God, I've lived to see this Mr. Hope's hand. "I was most afraid we should not get it; but we have.-What wonderful days we do live in !" "Yes," said Mr. Hope. "We have prayed, and worked, and waited for this, many a long day. And we could not see how we could ever gain the desire of our hearts in the abolishing of slavery. But God has brought it about in a most unexpected manner." "And in a terrible manner, too," said Mr. Parry. " How many of our best and our bravest have sealed their love of country with their blood, in this terrible civil strife, before Congress has been brought to perform this act of justice." "True," said Mr. Hope. And you have given of your sons to your country, and they fought nobly for the dear old

"Yes," said Mr. Parry, wiping his eyes; "two of my sons sleep in Southern graves. But I know they died in a glorious cause, and I trust they died in the Christian faith. They never could die in any better cause, and I rejoice that they had hearts to go, and that I had not a heart so selfish as to hold them back.—

"This is glorious!" said he. "Now we can believe that slavery is really dead. This is worth having an emply sleeve for," and he glanced at his right coat-

"Yes," said Mr. Hope, "this Constitutional Amendment has blotted out the great crime of our nation." Every one they spoke with seemed to As they walked home, Harry seemed to be thinking. At length he said:
"Father, I know we are rejoicing, and because slavery is dead; but I don't understand it. How is slavery dead? What made it die?" "I am very glad you have asked these questions, Harry," said his father. "And after tea we will have a long talk about the matter. I want you should be ready and tell me all you know about slaverywhat it is, when and by whom the first slaves were brought to this country, and anything else you can find out about it" "I know when slavery was first brought to this country, now," said Haary. THE NEW YEAR.

To our patrons and friends we send greeting, our best wishes for your prosperity and happiness during the year which has just commenced-may you live to see many new years, and when the hand of time shall have sprinkled the frosts of many winters o'er your heads, and your wrinkled brows are bedecked with the silver hairs of age, and when the bony skeleton, which all, save the truly pious, dread to encounter, but to whom all must finally surrender, shall claim you as his own, may your mortal tenements calmly repose beneath your native sod, overgrown by fragrant roses planted by some loved hand, who shall visit your grave when the balmy breezes waft their fragrant zephyrs, and when the midnight stars look gently down upon thy friend's vigils, as she cons over thy virtues, and sighs for the loved and lost; and may thy spirit be walking the elvsium bowers, where bloom perennial flowers of which poets speak, and Christians hold in joyous anticipation.

Another year has passed away, and with have gone many loved ones-many scenes o joy and sorrow have been enacted.

The young and blushing bride, who, one short year ago, stood at the bridal altar, with see a little for themselves, previously to put hopes as wide as the universe, leaning confidingly upon him whom she had chosen as her all, not dreaming that her life could be anything but happy, has seen that manly form laid head is not yet in the door, and we can keep away in its narrow tomb, and she who so lately was all joy and mirth, has doffed her bridal robes to don the weeds of widowhood.

The happy husband who, at the beginning of the Lieutenant General's report. The first is. last year, clasped the idol of his heart to his manly breast, has been called to impress affection's kiss upon her marble brow, and drop love's bitter tears upon her early grave.

The young mother who, one year ago, looked with that love a mother alone can feel upon her first-born babe, and saw through the vista of the future her boy to manhood grown, and her tottering form wending its way to the house of God, supported by his vigorous arm, has seen her fondest hopes crushed to dust, and her darling babe now moulders in the ground. The brother, who gazed with affection's lustrons eye upon the sylph-like form of his sister, and saw devotees flock to her shrine, and pay their adorations at her feet, has been caused to view those faultless features cold in death. The sister who doted on the manly virtue of a brother, now mingles a sister's tears with the canker ice, which glitters by moonlight on his narrow bed.

Parents have laid their offspring 'neath the sod; brothers and sisters have bid each other wives and busbands have taken th separated to meet no more-some to toss on ocean's briny foam, some to far-off climes, and

Our Nation, too, has been called to pay its last sad tribute to a noble son. Lincoln sleeps in the silent tomb, but his memory will live while ages roll their solemn round.

And, Death has not been idle in our own City and County. Many whom we greeted or last New Year morning have been gathered to their fathers, and we miss them now in the social circle: their seats in the house of God to cheer us in the hour of mirth, are no more to be heard—we seek them, but they are not to be found. We walk inquiringly among the tombs, scanning the inscriptions which the hand of art has traced upon the marble slabs, when "Sacred to the memory of" tells us that those we were seeking have passed away

We return our obligations to our patrons for the liberal support extended to the Pioneer heretofore, and hope its merits may secure a continuance in the future.

Paturns his thanks to the patrons thereof who were so benevolent and liberal in their contributions on New Year's day. His entire proceeds were considerable more than ever before realized in this city. A combination of causes, we suppose, produced so good a result. His address was considered excellent; everybody appeared to have plenty of the "needful," and as the papers had been served very promptly during the year, all seemed willing to give liberally. We suppose the carrier of the Pioneer at Millville, also, done well on New Year's

THE FAMILY SEWING MACHINE. BY JENNIE JUNE.

To understand the value of the Sewing Manine, and the happy changes which it has of fected in the social and family relations, one must be familiar with the quiet households, cattered throughout the East and West, the North and South, of this great and thriving

Everywhere in the interior domestic assistl ance of any kind is so difficult to be obtained, that it is scarcely looked for, and every good housewife relies upon her own exertions, not only to keep her house in order, her larder well supplied with the essential luxuries of home-made bread, cake, and pids, but her own, the children's, and frequently her husband's wardrobe furnished with all the useful, if not the ornamental, articles of dress.

This necessity provided an immense amount of work for one pair of hands to perform—the emale head of the house, the hard-tasked wife and mother, found not a moment for relaxation. The drudgery of the kitchen was succeeded by that of the work-basket, whose pile of shirts and small garments seemed never to decrease. Not a moment of time could be In wise RECONSTRUCTION may give to the afforded for the gratification of any simple fancy, even in ornamental needlework, all, to the last moment, and far into Saturday night, was exhausted in the necessities of the plainest work upon little aprons, frocks, and drawers, and the inevitable weekly collection of family

In a large number of these households, the case is now widely different; the Sewing Ma- R. About 1843 Mr. Fithian opened a store venture to say that, if he was in possession of all the money he has trusted out, and lost in other ways, he would be a rich man. The losses by the credit system, compared with the small profits at which our merchants sell their goods, are so great that there is no danger of their getting rich too fast. It is not necessary for us to speak of Mr. Fithiau's personal attention to business, his polite and agreeable manners, and thorough qualifications for the business in which he is engaged-all this is proverbial.-

We will only add, for the benefit of those who are not posted, that he keeps one of the best

two or three times a year with more or less hemorrhage, which together, for the last few years, has kept me thin in desi and too weak to do business of any kind without suffering. In August last I had a very severe hemorrhage, and, according to the judgment of a good New York physician, I was classed as beyond the reach of medicine, and was advised to be prepared, so far as property matters were concerned, to leave this world at short notice. The physician (and my good friends) said that the first cold I took must prove fatal. Early in January I took a severe cold, and fortunately was occupying rooms at No. 32 BOND STREET, directly over your office. I think about the 16th of January I procured a bottle of your Pulmonic syrup and commenced taking it freely. My feet and limbs were very much swollen, and all the symptoms of a speedy death seemed to accompany my cold. I sent for my former physician, and stated to him that I was taking your medicines, and after showing them to him, and having ussted of them, &c., he replied; "You less them if you like, they will do you no harm."—He said, "You know what I told you last stummer, and I say the samenow, if you have any business to close up, do not not it of "The said to other friends but it of "The said to other friends but it of them. Is say the same now, if you have any business to close up, do not put it off." He said to other friends that he could see no hope for me," and my friends and relatives concluded my time had come. At this time I was taking freely of your medicine, but had not seen you. The does tor called a few times, and found me (much to his surprise, he said) improving, and he could not understand why. My faith was increasing in your medicines, and I had a wish to have you examine my case, and see what had a wish to have you examine my case, and see what you had to say. When you first came to my room and you had to say. When you first came to my room and made the examination, you gave me but little encouragement, but on the co-ary, expressed sad doubts of my ever being helped out of my then seeming difficulties.— The second time you cattled, finding me still gaining, you gave me encouragement, saying, "my symptoms were improving the Syrup, Tonic and Pills had acted like a charm." My circulation, my cough, my appetite, all began to improve, and I could walk about my room a little. You visited me nearly every Tresday and found me improving, and told me not to go out of my room until the first day of May. I took no cold while mader your treatment, my appetite became hist-rate, and you told me to cat everything I wished of a untritious nature, and to exercise about the room as much as possible. I followed your advice, and to the surprise of my

Yours, truly, T. S. FHEADON. Dr. Schenck—Dear Fir — Mout two years ago I was taken with a very troublesome cough and a pam in my breast; seven or eight months passed away without my doing anything for myself. Then I applied to a physicain, who attended me for about three months without rendering me any service. I also obtained the advice and treatment of a physicain in one of our hospitals, and also had the advice and treatment of two other physicians, but all to no purpose. During this long space of time I was nearly dead; several times my friends came to see me and witness my exit into the spirit-world. I was confined to my bed two months at one time. My breathing was exceedingly short. I gave no several times all hope of getting better; and as regarded getting well, that was entirely out of the question. And to think this day I am well and hearty! I was advised by some of my friends to try Dr. Schenck's Medicines. I accordingly bought bottle after bottle, until I reached the minh; then I tound a decided change in my cough for the better. I suffered from palpitation of the heart, and two weeks after I commenced taking your medicine this difficulty ceased.

When I first went to Dr. Schenck's office it was with difficulty that I could get up into his reception room, I was so week and so swelled; my skin was as sallow as though I had the iaundice; I felt dull, heavy and sleepless. Dr. Schenck, arter examining me, said both my lungs were affected, and gave me but little hope; but his medicines, in about two weeks, took right hold of me; it seemed to go right through my whole system. The Pulmonic Syrup, Sea-weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills all took right hold in the right place. The Pills brought away great quantities of bilegm and share: the Syrup loosened the matter in my lungs, which came off very free; the Sca-Weed Tonic gave me an appetite, and everything scemed to taste good.

To show what great power the medicines have in purifying my system, and to show how bad I was discased; be ide all the bile that passed my bowels, and the great qua Dr. Schenck-Dear sir :- About two years ago I was

NEWARK, N. J. Capital, $6,100.000. JAMES J. REEVES, Agent.

This company was organized in 1845 on the purely mutual principle, without any subscribed capital.—The members, in reality, insure one another, and the accumulated fund is entirely the result of the premiums paid by the insured, and is held by the company in trust to meet its obligations to them.

Among the many advantages which this company offers to its members, are the following, namely:
An ascumulation of over $5,000,000 securely invested.
Annual returns on life policies of the surplus after deducting liabilities. Each premium paid participates in such returns. The business of the company is exclusively the insurance of lives. It is economical in the management of its business. It is prompt in the payment of its obeset. Premiums are payable in cash, but when desired the company will loan on life policies half the amount of each annual premium (if $50 or over) six per cent, interest being paid for such loan type Pamphlets and Charts furnished, and information given by the agent, at his office, in Bridgeton.

No. 27 North Front Street PHILADELPHIA. AND AT MY BRANCH HOUSE, No. 14 Bowly's Wharf, Baltimore, Md. No. 14 Bowly's Wharf, Baltimore, Md. It is also sold by responsible dealers in all parts of the country. I make no consignments but sell at my wholesale price to licensed dealers, and at my retail price to consumers. My price is uniform to all—sixty dollars per ton in Philadelphia, and sixty dollars per ton in Baltimore: three dollars per ton for freight, &c., added to the Baltimore price. Dealers are not permitted to overcharge the farmer, but to be satisfied with a reasonable profit, and to sell for no loss than my retail price in Philadelphia, and no more than my retail price in Baltimore. I do this for the protection of the farmer, that my article should not fall in the hands of irresponsible parties to undersell and adulterate. Farmers will find it to their interest to deal only with responsible parties, and allow them to make a fair profit, as no man, honest or otherwise, will work for nothing.

We would call the attention of the public to our es tablishment, and our various manufactures. We are building a SORGHUM CRUSHER AND CANE Which for simplicity, effective power, strength of material and workmanship, cannot be surpassed, and we are offering them at prices that we know to be less than a machine of the same strength and capacity can be bought for elsewhere. We are building three sizes. For a more extended description send for circular. Evaporators furnished to order. We are also manufacturing Circular Saw Mills, for sawing either large or small logs, to which we would invite the attention of mill owners and lumbermen.—
They are built under the supervision of one who has had many years' experience in building and running mills, and lumbering generally, and he flatters himself that he knows what millers want. We also furnish to order \mathbf{MILL} .

Mill irons, gearing, shafting, pulleys, hangers, &c.— We continue to make iron tence, verandahs, balconies, which for taste, durability and economy cannot be surpassed. Iron hitching posts at low rates.— Screws for elder and other presses of any dimensions made to order. Patterns made when desired. CORN SHELLERS AND LARD PRESSES always on hand. Plow castings of the various paterns used in this section JOBBING AND REPAIRING
