THE CASE OF JEFFERSON DAVIS. For some little time past, the name of the man, who for years past has been a subject of daily execration in the mouths of northern men and adoration in southern, has been but little used. He lived in Fortress Monroe at the expense of the Government (as indeed he has lived for most of his natural life), and people were beginning to forget him. Congress, however seems to retain a recollection of his existence, and has politely requested the President to tell them what he knows about him, and significantly adds to the question another, which is, why he has not been tried for his crimes. The governors and legislatures of States have followed in the same track, and added their conviction that the arch rebel ought not to be permitted to escape the punishment due his crimes. The President has replied courteously, but occupied the space of a short message in reciting what everybody knew before -"that Jefferson Davis was a prisoner in Fortress Monroe." Attorney General Speed sends a letter in which he states that he thinks Davis is still a "prisoner of war," as the war is not legally over until the troops are all withdrawn from the insurgent States-that the constitution will not allow his trial except in the States where the treason was committed, and it would be a farce to try him there, for no jury could be found who would convict him-that at any rate Chief Justice Chase declines. under the present circumstances, to hold a court for such a purpose in Virginia. therefore, in substance, they do not propose at present to do anything with him,

Among our exchanges there are but few that afford us more pleasure in porusing than system of emigration to this country is this spicy and interesting journal, published at Belvidere, by A. J. Shampanore. Its typographical appearance is not always quite what might be-this, however, is not owing to a lack of knowledge of the art of printing a handsome paper, as we have reason to know that. the publisher of the Intelligencer is one of the best practical printers in the State. It takes means, as well as ability, to print a handsome journal. Good type, press, paper, ink and rollers, all cost something, and without a conborn dead. The woman herself was per- stant supply of the needful no amount of ability will suffice. We venture the assertion that there are scores, who have received the Intelligencer ever since Mr. Shampanore took charge of it, who have never paid one cent towards its support. How can they expect a man to print a paper without funds? Seldom ever a week passes without the Intelligencer contains an appeal to delinquents to "fork over." This must be very annoying to those who do pay, as well as the editor himself, who is compelled to do it, and will be as long as he continues geon who, it is to be hoped, may receive the pernicious credit system. The ability possessed by Mr. Shampanore, and displayed on his paper, should be well repaid, and we can assure the citizens of Belvidere, and Warren county, that, if they will give him a fair chance and liberal support, he will give them much more than the worth of their money in the Intelligences. As there has lately been a desperate effort made, by low-lived scoundrels, to injure the reputation of Mr. Shampanore and his paper, by palming off on him an ingeniously written and infamous article, we take the liberty of saving that he is one of the last men who would stoop to such conduct as he is govern them, the probability is that their charged with by his enemies. RAILROAD TO PORT NORRIS. This, at first thought, may seem like a visonary project, but other things quite as impracticable in appearance have become paying institutions. The inhabitants along the proposed route are very favorable to the enterprise, and are willing to put their hands in their pockets and give it their encouragement. Public meetings have lately, we understand, been held at Port Norris, Dividing Creek, Newport and Cedarville, and committees appointed to see what can be done. A railroad to Port Norris, passing near Fairton, Cedarville, Newport and Dividing Creek would carry a large number of passengers and an amount of freight beyond the conception of most persons. The present amount of travel in that section would be multiplied, were the facilities and conveniences of a railroad enjoyed by the inhabitants. The tons of oysters that would pass over the road would be no small item of revenue, and the fertility of the soil in Fairfield, Downe and Maurice River townships would be greatly increased. The enhanced value of property would be sufficient to build the road. As a continuation or branch to the West Jersey road, it would be of great value. The great lisadvantage that would arise from it would be he loss of travel to the stages now running through that section. As an offset to this, the company should give the stagemen good

The Germantown Tragedy. near Fisher's lane. The spoons bore the initials of Miss Mary L. Watts, who was murder ed by Christian Berger, at her residence in Germanian They were found by a man who was passing in the neighborhood, and were scattered around as if they had been thrown away in a hurry by some one. These snoons were undoubtedly taken by Berger at the time he committed the murder. The murderer is now in Moyamensing Prison awaiting his trial, which will probably be commenced this week.

On Saturday last his cell was visited, and in eference to a remark dropped in reference to the horrible tragedy, he replied: "Yes, I don't know what ever induced me to commit such a crime," although in the same breath he further stated that he had no recollection of cutting the old woman's throat. One of the party in attendance at the time remarked to him that such deeds were only committed by those possessed of the Devil, to which the prisoner replied that he supposed he must have been pos-sessed by that noted individual at the time. As the party was about leaving him he burst into tears, and said he wished he could be removed from his cell to the one overhead, on the second floor. They wished to know why. when he said, "Oh, I could then be so much nearer my Lord." Since his confinement he appears restless and nervous, although he eats heartily, and seems to rest well. The prisoner has quite a youthful appearance. His father, during the examination before the inquest of the Coroner, testified that his son was only wenty years of age. The old man was much agitated at the time, and evidently made Mandrake Pills.

Dr. SCHENCK,—Dear sir: I take pleasure in sending yeou a certificate, in addition to many you have already received from suffering humanity. I can searcely find language sufficiently strong to express my heartfelt gratification of the wonderful cares your mandrake pills and seaweed tonic have effected in the entire cure of one of the most suborn cases of the affection of the liver,—For three years I suffered beyond description; all my friends, as well as myself, came to the conclusion that my time in this life was short, such was the terrible condition to which I was reduced that life to me had be come a burthen. My whole system was in a state of inflammation; I could not cat, I could not sleep; my whole body was filled with pain; swelling would arise in my wrists and ankles, rendering them totally useless. On several occasions I was attacked with a rush of blood to the head, which would fell me to the ground, and I weald be carried away for dead. I applied to several eminent physicams of our city, who administered all the medienes that they thought would reach my case, but of no avail.

One of them, said ne could do no more for me, and ad-no avail.

One of them said he could do no more for me, and navised me, as a last resort, to drink cod liver oil. Not refishing the horid trash, I declined to take it. Accident put your advertisement in my hands. I called on you; you examined me, and told me the nature of my disease. You then ordered me the Pills and Tonic, with an observance of diet, pledgling your word that in one week I would find myself another man. I followed your advice, and, as you predicted, an astenishing cure was effected. I continued your Pills and Tonic for some time, and now thank God for His goodness, and your valuable medicine, I am once more restored to perfect health. I most carnestly recommend those who are suffering from affection of the liver to give your Pills and tonic a fair trial, and a cure will be effected. I have sent many persons to you, and they have all been cured. Any information my fellow citizens may require will be freely given by the subscriber, at his residence, No. 812 Federal street, between 8th street and Passyunk road.

Take Notice! Take Notice!

Takenets and dealers in Fertilizers will please I take notice that we have adopted the following Trade Mark to protect ourselves, and prevent those who use our Raw Bone Super Phosphate from being deceived when purchasing manures.

We have been obliged to give this protection to our customers, in consequence of several parties having unlawfully used our distinctive name, viz: "Raw Bone," in offering their article to the public. This Trade Mark is adopted in addition to the title "Raw Bone," which is our exclusive property, and we caution all manufacturers from using it in future. We would state to the trade and consumers, that they will find it to their interest to see that the "Trade Mark" is upon every bag and barrel they purchase, as none other is genttine.

The great popularity of our article has been found sufficient inducement to certain imitators to manufacture and advertise "Raw Bone Phosphates," a mane which originated with us, and is our own right ful property. We will state for the information of all, that we are the exclusive manufacturers of this article—the original and sole proprietors of it—having been manufactured by us for a period of twelve years. Also, that it is covered by several letters patent, held only by ourselves. Also, that it is covered by several lotters patent, held only by ourselves.

We are now ready to supply it in large quantities—taxing made recent additions and improvements.—Vessels drawing 16 feet of water can load directly from the wharves of the works, which are located at the foot of Morris Street, Delaware River. We call the attention of Dealers to this great advantage.

The present indications are that we shall have a greatly increased demand over last Spring and Fall seasons, and we advise Farmers to send in their orders to their respective Dealers at an early day, that all may be supplied promptly.

Soliciting your continual orders,

We remain, yours very truly,

Nov. 4, '65.3m Keep it Before the People, THIAT GROSSUP'S is still, and it has been for years, the leading Cloth and Clothing House of Bridgeton; and notwithstanding the great popularity of this establishment heretofore, the great increase of business bears witness to the still increasing popularity of this place of business. It is sometimes asked how it is that this establishment is favored with so large a share of public patronage; but the question is easily answered. The immense amount of goods sold at this place, together with the light expenses of this establishment, enable the proprietors to sell goods at sitch low prices as to defv competition.

We have now on hand a lot of very cheap Goods, for Men and Boys' wear, which we are selling very low by the yard, or making to order, at the lowest prices, Remember. 10. CHASSELIE & CO. Furs! Furs! Furs! Henry Raske & Co.

in accordance with the progress of the time, and in its relitting and furnishing, together with the convenience of its new arrangements, will compare favorably with any first class hotel in the city.

Its location is admirably adapted to the necessity and comfort of the business community, as it is in the immediate vicinity of Steamboat Landings of Arch and Chestnut streets, the Camden ferries, and the depot of the West Jersey Railroad Co.:—at the same time it affords a delightful prospect of the Pelaware river and Jersey shore.

The sleeping apartments of this establishment are the most thoroughly ventilated of any in the city.

The table, as heretofore, will always abound with the best the market affords.

The victualing and liquor bars have been entirely altered and improved, and will be supplied with everything to suit the public palate.

The subscriber respectfully invites the attention of visitors to the city to his establishment, feeling that personal inspection will justify all he claims as to its superior advantages.

HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION.

The late Rebellion stands out peculiar and extratordinary in human events; and the magnificent scale upon which the war has been conducted, constitute it one of the GRANDEST AND MOST BRILLIANT CHAPTERS OF THE WORLD'S HISTORY.

Mr. Headley, of all writers, is perhaps best qualified to portray the stupendous features of the mighty contest. His previous works on less momentous themes have placed him in the first position, as a graphic and powerful delineator of war scenes and characters, and the magnitude and grandeur of the present subject, impart to his pen the fire and vigor of a yet more exalted inspiration, and furnish ample scope for the highest exhibition of his peculiar genius for mintary description. Under his powerful pen the stirring scenes of the War pass in review with the vividness and distinctness of a present and living reality; while his great talent for condensation enables him to embody everything of importance in a compass just suited to the public want. From no other source can so clear and comprehensive an impression of the grand march of events be obtained, so easily and agreeably, as from Mr. Headley's work.

Other Histories have been Issued before Grant's Report and other Official Documents were submitted to the Government, and are therefore unreliable.—Mr. Headley has delayed the completion of this till those DOCUMENTS so ESSENTIAL to AUTHENTICITY and CORRECTNESS could be obtained.

The Second Volume, completing this Work, will be issued in March, 1866. Agents wanted to engage in its sale in every town and county in the United lars apply to or address.

ONE of the reporters of the Philadelphia Sunday Mercury, and a former war correspondent of the New York Herald, testified in a late number of the former paper concerning the miraculous cure performed upon him when prostrated from Rheumatism, begotten by exposure upon the battle-field of Gettysburg. He certifies that his sufferitigs were of secure a nature that he could neither eat nor sleep, nor rest. His mental agony, arising from the intensity of his bodily pain, was distressing. In a few weeks he had worn to a skeleton. One bottle of Zollickoffer's Cordial returned his appetite and enabled him to walk upon oruthers, and in three weeks was entirely well. Last year he traveled thirty thousand miles and never suffered from fatigue, nor felt any symptoms of the return of the disease.
