In Angust last I had a very severe hemorrhage, and, according to the judgment of a good New York physician, I was classed as beyond the reach of medicine, and was advised to be prepared so tar as property matters were concerned, to leave this would at short notice. The physician (and my good friends) said that the first cold I took most provo mad. Early in January I took a severe cold, and fortunately was iscoupying moins at No. 32 BOND STREET, directly over your office. I think about the 16th of January I produced a hottle of your. Pulmonic Syrup and commenced taking it freely. My feet and limbs were very much swollen, and all the symptoms of a speedy death seemed to accompany my cold. I sent for my former physician, and stated to him that I was taking your medicines, and after showing them to him, and having tasted of them, &c., he replied; "You can take them if you like, they will do you no harm."—He said: "Yeu know what I told you last summer, and I say the same now, it you have any business to close up the lost of the same o

You visited me nearly every Tuesday and found me improving, and told me not to go out of my room until the first day of May. I took no cold while under your treatment, my appetite became hist-rate, and you told me to eat everything I wisted of a mutritious nature, and to exercise about the room as much as possible. I followed your advice, and to the surprise of my old physician and triends, I seem much better than I have been for several years, and breathe better than I ever experted a person could with one lung, the left being completely dried up. I feel very grateful to you, and consider your advice and medicines invaluable.

ider your advice and medicines invaluable. Yours, truly, T. S. SHELDON. Dr. Schenck—Dear Sit:—About two years ago I was taken with a very troublesome cough and a pain in my breast; seven or eight months passed away without my doing anyting for myself. Then I applied to a physician, who attended me for about three months without rendering me any service. I also obtained the advice and treatment of a physician in one of our hospitals, and also had the advice and treatment of two other physicians, but all to no purpose. During this long space of time I was nearly dead; several times my friends came to see me and witness my exit into the spirit-world. I was confined to my bed two months at one time. My breathing was exceedingly short. I gave up several times all hope of getting better; and as regarded getting well, that was entirely out of the question. And to think this day I am well and hearty! I was advised by some of my friends to try Dr. Schenck's Medicines. I accordingly bought buttle after bottle, until I reached the ninh; then I found a decided change in my cough for the better. I suffered from palpitation of the heart, and two weeksafter I commenced taking your medicine this difficulty ceased.

When I first went to Dr. Schenck's office it was with difficulty that I could get up into his reception room, I was so week and so swelled; my skin was as sallow as though I had the jaundice; I felt dull, heavy and sleep-less. Dr. Schenck, after examining mo, said both my lungs were affected, and gave me but little hope: but his medicines, in about two weeks, took right hold of me; it seemed to go right through my whole system. The Pulmonic Syrup, Sea weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills all took right hold in the right place. The Pills brought away great quantities of bole and sline; the Syrup loosened the matter in my lungs, which came off very free; the Sea-Weed Tonic gave me an appetite, and everything seemed to taste good.

To show what great power the medicines have in purifying my system, and to show how had I was diseased; becide all the bile that passed my bowels, and the great quant Dr. Schenck-Dear Sir :- About two years ago I was

The First of April was never permitted to come and go without being well improved by the joke-loving Thomas. If a customer sent for a pint of brandy on that day, he would be very apt to get four gills of vinegar; or, if for a pound of sugar, half a pound of New Orleans mixed with an equal weight of silver sand. That was smart child who could come into his store on the occasion, and leave it without being the victim of some trick. So, from morning till night of the First day of April, the face of Thomas Bunting was one broad grin. Full of invention as to the ways and means of playing off tricks upon others, our merry friend was wide awake to any efforts at retaliation; and it generally happened that most of those who sought to catch him, got the laugh the joker. The First of April came. Doctor Grimes, after eating his breakfast, sat down in his office to await expected morning calls for consultation, or to request his attendance on some suffering invalid. The Differences Between Congress and the President. Hon. William D. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, one of the most accomplished men and nurest patriots known to the country. a prominent member of the present House of Representatives, has recently made a speech in the city of Philadelphia, in which these differences have been broadly discussed, and the ground assumed that the President is not acting in a straightforward and open manner, but is seeking the entire subversion of the Republican policy, if not the Republican party, by a course of continued deception, the end of which is to be the consolidation of power in the hands of the Executive, and the election of that Executive. in the person of Andrew Johnson, for a second term. The tone and temper of the speech is unexceptionable, but the animus is unmistakable. He compares the course taken by the President to that of the first Napoleon when he suppressed the "Central Directory" of France, and reduced it by imperceptible steps from a Republic to an Empire. He shows that the President presented the condition of the South as entirely different from what the reports of the authorized agents of the Government had given it. He refers significantly to the fact that all parties who converse with him go away with the impression that in substance he has adopted their ideas, and compares him again to the first Napoleon, who was called a profound master of dissimulation. He sh ws also that immediately previous to the Presidential election, Mr. Johnson, in a public speech at Nashville, advocated openly the right of negro suffrage. He also makes the proof plain that the Preside t had privately approved the general id of the Freedmen's Bureau bill, and state i over and over to himself and others hat it would meet his approval. He crowns his charges with the assertion that the affiliations of Mr. Johnson in all this ma ter was with the avowed enemies of the party who elected him while he held no counsel with its friends. These com-

Sumner or Stevens are plotting his assassination .-That the President's view of the actual condition of affairs at the South is differen from the authorized reports is undeniably true, but Mr. Johnson has been a sliveholder and is a Southern man, and as do the members from the North, who have always lived in an atmosphere of law the South is rebellious still is not to be denied, but his avowed opinion is that a conciliatory policy would change that hostility into friendship on their part. That almost all parties who converse with him go away with the impression that the President has adopted their ideas is also true; but that may be a matter partly attributable to a general wish to coincide as far as possible with the people with whom he converses, ignoring the points on which they differ, and partly to the natural, cordial manner of the President himself.-The fact that he has not carried out his denunciations of the chiefs of the rebellion, can safely be considered a consequent of he change of policy rendered necessary by the plan of conciliation. That he advocated negro suffrage in Tennessee does not conflict with his views now, for he states that if he was still Governor of strife from which the nation has just Tennessee he would advocate it in that State still That he vetoed the Bureau bill is neutralized by the fact that he offi-

"Where are the wise men who told us with so many warnings that the national loan was merely the sliding glacier upon which we were whirling to destruction, and mad Jay Cooke, crazy Jay Cooke, wicked Jay Cooke, who venglacier after all, but sure, firm, solid ground, where grass would grow some day, was held up to reprobation? Jay may have been too enthusiastic for us. We thought so at the time. We do not think so now. He had his ear close down, near to the heart of the people, and he felt every pulsation strong, regular and deep; no sign of ossification or syncope; and he knew that the people were true, and that whether it were one million, or ten thousand nation, even to the last cow in the barn, or the last sheaf of wheat falling under the reaper."

in accordance with the progress of the time, and in its relitting and furnishing, together with the conversience of its new arrangements, will compare favorably with any first class listed in the city.

Its location is admirably adapted to the accessity and comfort of the business community, as it is in the immediate vicinity of Steamboat Landings of Arch and Chestmat streets, the Caunden ferries, and the depot of the West Jersey Railroad Co.t—at the same time it affords a delightful prospect of the Delaware river and Jersey shore.

The sleeping apartments of this establishment are the most thoroughly ventilated of any in the city.

The table, as heretofore, will always abound with the best the market affords.

The victualing and liquor bars have been entirely altered and improved, and will be supplied with everything to suit the public palate.

The subscriber respectfully invites the attention of visitors to the city to his establishment, feeling that personal inspection will justify all he claims as to its superior advantages.

Manhood; how Lost. how Restored.—
Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhora, or semmal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency. Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., also Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance. Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly proves, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be a radically cured without the danger ous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent, under seal, in a lain envelope, to any address, post paid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers, CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
