THE SAILOR BOY'S FAREWELL.

Wait, wait, my winds! till I repeat A wish that flows from the heart.

Who's that is at home? A young fellow with a prayer, And let it be whispered there, While in his father's room.

Farewell to Father! reverent hunk! In spite of meat, spite of bile, Soon may his cable slip, And with his last good-bye, The flag of gratitude 'll hoist To duty to the world.

Farewell to Mother! sweetest she! Who launched me on life's stormy sea, My fingers round my father's knee, And keep her hall in good repair, For the moment.

Farewell to Sister! lovely Yaret! But whether she be "married" or not, May some good ship's "tender" prove, As safe as any harbor.

Farewell to George! the "Wolly Booby" And all his little crew, And all his home's delight, When they arrive at sailing age, May Wisdom give the weather-gauge, And guide them.

Farewell to all! on life's red man! Perhaps we'll never meet again, Through straits of stormy seas, But, whenever you are above, We'll harbor in the port of Love, And all be reconciled to fate.

IT IS NOT YOUR BUSINESS WHY.

The following lines are not limited to any particular locality, but are applicable to every neighborhood.

Would you like to know the secrets Of your neighbor's home and life? How he lives and how he doesn't? And just how he treats his wife, Whether he's a good or bad man?

How he spends his time of leisure, Whether he's a good or bad man? And where he goes for pleasure, To the concert or the play? If you wish to know the truth, Let me whisper to you— If your neighbor is but civil, It is not your business why.

In short, instead of prying Into the affairs of others, If you do your own part justly, You will have no time for theirs. Be attentive to such matters As concern your own soul, And whatever fortune flatters, Let your business be your own.

One word by way of warning, Let me whisper to you— If you wish to be respected, You must cease to be a pry.

SENATOR CATTELL.

Rev. G. D. Darrow, D. D., writes in the Methodist Christian Advocate, an interesting and flattering sketch of Senator Cattell of this State from which we quote:

"Though not a Church communicant, (as unhappily our public men to often are), his mind acquires the cardinal doctrine of the Gospel, his heart is deeply imbued with the religious spirit, and his real faith in the teachings of Christ has ever been practically illustrated in his devotion to all objects of private charity and public benevolence. It will be interesting to many readers of the paper to know that he is a nephew of the venerable Thomas Ware. The family, as is usual in our country, is divided in its church relations. An elder brother, the business partner of the Senator elect, is a Methodist. A younger is a Presbyterian clergyman, eminent for learning and abilities, and distinguished in the country at large as president of Lafayette College. The Senator himself is a regular attendant upon the ministrations of our church, and a liberal supporter of our various institutions. His wife is a sister of Rev. Mr. Gilmore, of the New Jersey Conference, and is a devoted and active Methodist. While a resident of New Jersey, and taking part in all movements in the State designed to instruct the ignorant and comfort the wretched, his name is prominently associated with almost every private subscription and public contribution that has of late years been instituted in this city. Both in his intellectual and moral qualities he ranks among the most efficient of the late Senator Foxes of Vermont; and judging by the past, a career, personal and official, equally honorable to himself and serviceable to his country, is confidently anticipated by his constituents and friends."

A CAT AND DOG STORY.

A CAT AND DOG STORY.—A family cat belonging to a country friend is the heroine of a singular story. Puss recently became the mother of an interesting family of kittens. Proud of her charge, she deposited them upon the upper part of the hay-mow in the barn, secure to which could only be had by a ladder. As soon as her ladyship had her charge comfortably provided for, she descends the ladder, makes her way to the farm house, and entering the kitchen, walked up to the house-dog, and by such means of communication as exist among the brute creation, intimated to Jack that she had something to show to him. Returning to the barn, Jack following, they both went up the ladder, and proceeded to the nest, puss spread her little family before her companion, and with true motherly pride, called for an expression of Jack's admiration. Jack after viewing the progeny for a few moments, placed his paws upon them, and looking them all over in the most effectual manner, departed down the ladder with the dignity of a patriarch.—New York Express.

THE CONTEST. The contest for the Senatorship of New Jersey now narrowed down to Messrs. Frelinghuysen and Cobb is falling into the shape, as all such contests inevitably do, of an antagonism between the old and the new—a true Democracy and a true Freedom of the people, and the progressive ideas of the age and that effete conservatism which fears to touch a stone because it hurts a limb.

IMPROVEMENTS IN BRIDGETON. Our city still continues in its onward march in this direction. The old Seely mansion in Commerce St., below Pearl has been moved back and a row of large and elegant buildings, under the supervision of Mr. C. Albreton is to take its place.

Mr. John Dilks and Son have purchased the house owned and occupied for many years by Mr. Daniel Pearson, on Franklin St., for $6,500, and intend to erect a large storehouse upon the lot adjoining which will give an impetus to business in that direction.

The property of Mr. D. B. Thompson on Pearl above Washington has been sold to Mr. Martin Corson for $5,500. Mr. T. intends to commence at once the erection of a handsome residence upon the lot recently purchased by him on Commerce St., between the property of Dr. Robert Elmer and the parsonage of the Commerce St. Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Chapman of the firm of Stears, Pedrick and Chapman, has sold to Mr. Joseph A. Clark, the property known as the Hanthorn residence and who intends improving and occupying it. Since Mr. Chapman purchased the property, it has been put into a position which has largely extended the city in that direction, while we are glad to learn that Mr. C. has been well remunerated for his enterprise.

The house on Bank St. sold a few months since by Mr. Leese Overdorf, to Rev. Mr. Given, has been purchased of him by the Second Baptist Church of this city for $4,000, as parsonage for their pastor who will soon occupy it.

The property recently owned by Wm. Sayre, deceased, on Broad St. was purchased by Mr. Enoch Sayre at a public sale of the property. Mr. Eli Sayre has purchased the interest of Mr. Uriah Davis, in the large building west of the bridge for $1500.

Mr. Wallace Taylor has purchased the double house formerly owned by Mr. Daniel Kendall, on the lower part of Pine St., and will probably reside there the ensuing year.

Mr. Hugh McGeary has sold his residence on Pearl St. to Mr. Wm. McGeary, and bought of Capt. Jonathan Riley the dwelling jointly on the opposite side of the street.

The Cumberland County Temperance Society under the energetic presidency of Hon. P. Ludlum, is awakening to the importance of the work, and putting forth active measures to rejuvenate the cause.

A public meeting is announced for Grosbeck's hall on Wednesday evening of next week (Dec. 19), which will be addressed by Col. S. F. Heady of Morris-town. Mr. Heady is one of the finest speakers in the state, a gentleman whose life is largely devoted to moral reforms and whose pecuniary situation places him above the necessity of lecturing for money, and he comes to us without other compensation than that afforded by the consciousness of an endeavor to benefit the cause.

GEN. GRANT'S REPORT. The official report of Gen. Grant, taken very largely of the plain common sense character of that great commander. It is not an elaborate document in which the ideas are skillfully disposed for general effect, but a simple presentation through the subordinate commanders of the actual state of affairs in their respective districts.
