H. F. HOOVER respectfully informs his friends and the public generally of West and South Jersey, in want of FURNITURE, that they will find it greatly to their advantage to purchase at his Warehouse, where they will find a large stock of the modern styles to select from.

The subscriber begs to say that his facilities for manufacturing, and buying his materials for cash—having no apprentices, but employing the best workmen—enables him to offer great inducements to those in want of really good Furniture at low prices, as he much prefers the "mimble sixpence" to the "slow shilling."

All goods bought at his Warehouse will be warranted, and if intended for the country will be packed with care and dispatched.

Jones' policy which has proved of such great sat isfaction both to his friends and the public, has demonstrated the fact, that ONE PRICE is the proper basis on which to do husiness. Many persons who are not able to judge of tine value of any article, are glid to avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing where they can secure what they want at the same price as their neighbors. Others, not liking to ask the dealers to take less, are often obliged to pay too much for an article. To meet this want Jones' one price Store has been established, and having worked well for fifteen years, has gained many friends. riends.

"THERE IS NO GOD !"

Oh I woeful sentence! Listen, finite man, To words of import, solemn as the tones.
That mud the Heavens, when dies the Thunc Yielding his breath, slowly in stified means, That through the concare roll, reverberate, 'Till ev'ry cloud, in horror trembling, Echoes responsive agentzing grouns!

There is no God! Awake! avenging wrath, Andwith thy blackness shade the impious b Of him who dares assert to dying man, His being fabulous, whose inighty hand Mouled a world, and poised in upper air Millions of others, habitable each, where Light and darkness, as on earth, divide Time into day and night!

Wrims! worms
That traws on the Almichty's footstool. That:erawl on the Almighty's footstool,
Poisoning the air with noxious lies, jetting
Your whom on their path, who hold
The hand of a Creator visible, to be seen
Its work on every side, where'ere we turn,
Whether npon the mountain's lofty brow,
Traced in the rocks hoary with aged moss;
Or, in the snows which never melt beneath

Or, in the snows which never melt beneath
The warmests rays of summer's brightest sun.
Them coldly shadowing back: or,
On its side where springs the towering pine,
While yet beneath, nearer the mountain's base,
The purple vineyards glow; or, in
The valley seen, where green and gold,
Crimson and orange, all of nature's shades,
Blend in the flowers and glow upon the fruit,
Tinting their surface with more gorgeous dyes
Than could inagination picture out;
How dare ye rise from out your slime, to breathe
The air of Heaven't open your eyes to gaze
Upon the glorious sun, enjoy, his warmth
And all the blessings of existence, free
Alige from ill or want? while shouting out; like from ill or want? while shouting out :-

"Almighty God! Thee do we laugh to scorn! For what art Thou but a fantastic shade, Conjured to being by diseased brains Of suberstitious fools! Why should we cruge, Murmuring the while of what we know not of, Outraging reason,—whence came Thy Being! Whence Thy power!—Thou, whom they call in idiotic phrase, "the God of all!" Unveil, If thou has power, Thy form to us; Let's hear Thy vojce; know that Thou do'st exist, Most potent "Rulet of the Universe!" Hide not: Thyself in Thy great majesty! for we Would fain behold Thee, even face to face! Reason! thou most true Goodness of the soul, Whom instinct esches man to honor ever,
Whom instinct teaches man to honor ever,
Where priestly witchcraft has not shackeled tho
Inspire us yet to laugh earth's sainted ones
To scorn, as being most puerile fools!"

Beware! beware ye slowly dying worms! He, Whom thou dost depy, blaspheming thus, The God! Creator of Himself, the world, and thou, lists thee with ear attentive! He hears, and bids recording Angels write, Never to be effaced, 'till judgment come, From off the page, thy doom perpetuate!

There is no God! But when the final day,
With hell its terrors comes;—when from their grav.
The sheeted dead upmount, and gibbering ghoste,
Damn'd to eternal tortures, laugh and shriek,
While plunging them beneath the molten waves
That roll within the ample bounds of Hell's
Bubbling and flery ocean:—when the air
Grows thick with vapory stench, exhaling from Sulphurous pits, where huddling burn the lost,—
When trumpet sounds are heard which quake
The frightened Universe, while blackness reigns Scarce e'er releved, sare by the lurid glare Scarce e'er relieved, save by the lurid glare of flames that burst from out Hell's confine Or names that ourst from out Hell's connes, As if in search of some yet wandering souls. On which to feed themselves:—when Thou art plunged where never out Canst crawl, t'escape the doom deserved—That doom, Eternity in torture spent;—then Wilt thou own, "Oh God! we know thou art!"

THE FALSENESS OF SOCIETY.

Ir is said by some of the good of our lay that the golden age of the millennium s just at hand, that already light is seen breaking in the East, and that soon the ky will be all aglow. The men who raise "The Last Warning The men who raise "Inc Last warning finger are to speak it, not simply when men say it worthy of our highest respect, for they is good wordly policy and perfectly safe not. We have always supposed that "The Great Preparation" must precede The Great Consummation," and of that 'Great l'reparation" we as yet see but ittle, for only here and there a manand he is a king among his fellows—dares stand up and be true to his God and himself and those who live with him in what is called society. Now, so long as society is what it is, so long as the men and women who compose it are what they are. we must continue to believe that there is umphal procession of the true-hearted inhabitants of the other world, and, consequently, that we need not direct our eyes part of the carth's diameter is solid, that all the rest is fire, and that this fire may, at any time, break out and bring the "Great Preparation" for it in the hearts of men. We do not believe in universal tion of a great many, and we also believe that if the last day of time should come very soon, there would be comparatively few to rejoice in the dawn of eternity. When society is cured of its sickness and men come to have full faith in each other, and can live together without wearing masks, then we may "lift up our heads, for behold the coming of the Lord draweth nigh." We can not estimate too highly the virtue of sincerity. It underlies all other virtues. It is the foundation of all char-

The twelve years of the dec. being better than their creeds—that per-fect sincerity is an utter impossibility, and also very undesirable. It has been said that a certain amount of deceitfulness is not only very respectable and commendable, but absolutely necessary, in the present state of the world, to bind people together, and make all things run in a smooth, peaceful current.

We are prepared to hazard the asserions that all deceitfulness, whether in omorpathic or allopathic quantities, is as nnecessary and barmful as counterfeit money—that society may be perfectly sincere—that every man may be perfectly sincere-that those who lean on the prop of falsehood will soon find them selves crawling in the dust and keeping company with scrpents—that society with no better pillars than lies will soon fall without any Samson to pull it down, and that the world with no braver, truer defenders than lying men will at last be completely conquered by evil spirits. And yet, in spite of all the babblings oning finger and hear her voice saying, of men, it remains true that the path of "This is the way; walk ye in it." Turn -the present as well as the future-to walk in, and that it is a path of peace. A very sweet old-fashioned book, too often laid up, out of reach, on the shelf, or bound so handsomely and clasped so tightly that it is seldom opened, settles the question as to the possibilty and profitableness of telling the truth. In times, long gone by, the Great Inspirer spake often and clearly on this subject of lying. He did not say to any of his prophets or apostles: "I will keep silent, for men are, and will, for centuries, continue to be in such a low state of morol development, that they will have no power, and feel no moral obligation, to heed what I

The sophist may continue to tell us that it is both impossible and undesirable to have an honest heart and truthful tongue. He may continue to tell us that perfect sincerity would work dire ruin in society, compelling men to express every thought and feeling, to turn their hearts inside out and satisfy the inquisitive, to yield themselves to the soruting of all, to use no concealment and wear no vail of secresy, and to expose others as well as no extensive preparation for the tri- But truthfulness calls us to the practice of no such folly. which opposition he owed the position he occupied. But the people are not disheartened. The idea is with them and they are determined upon carrying it out, and if the republican party is faithful to the peoples wish, its lease of power will be a long one, and if it opposes them in this, they will speedily have leave of absence from their political supremacy. So far their action in this state has been quite generally upon the recognition of the people. The men elected to office while taken from all the professions in life, are yet men of the people. Our late representative Hon. John T. Nixon is eminently such a man. Mr. Ludlam is such a man. Mr. Moore, our congressional representative is such a man. Mr. Cattell is such a man, and Mr. Cobb whose elevation is so prominently urged for the senatorship is also such a man: while unfortunately for himself Mr. Frelinghuysen is not such a man. Whatever else of good he is or is not, he is not such a man. He possesses no understanding of popular want and feeling simply because he has never been in circumstances to understand it, while Mr. Cobb has spent his life in struggling heart to heart and soul to soul with the masses of the people; and those masses instinctively feel that he is one of them-thinks with them-feels with themand does not consider them as so many stepping stones to power, but as brothers for whose advancement to something higher and better than they now possess he has both the heart and the power to work. The commonest man while he would respect the dignity of Mr. Cobb, would feel no abasement in walking familiarly with him in the street, or no inferiority in explaining to him his own idea of popular law; nor would Mr. Cobb ever dream that there was the least condescension in his accepting this. His grand hold upon the people is that he is one of them. We hope that the men who hold the election in their hands will not forget this fact. Let them begin to ignore the people in this matter, and it will require no Daniel to interpret the handwriting on their wall, and tell them their days are numbered. The democratic party, with a wisdom that does them credit, whether they are actuated by policy or principle, are beginning to advance progressive principles and if the Republicans are not at least abreast of them, the Democrats will speedly win, as they will deserve to, their old supremacy; for it was simply because the republican party adopted those principles which southern. affiliation compelled the democrats to slough off: that they were successful at all, and if those principles are abandoned the people will

Mr. Jay in his spicy paper has been one of the most earnest workers in the ranks of that party, and as they have never attached him as yet 'to the "bread and butter" departments of their brigade it seems to us to be as little as they can do to give him this position especially as his competency is andoubted. The party cannot afford to dispense with the peculiar weapons which Mr. Jay wields with such powerful effect; or with the good sense which leads him to copy occasionally an editorial from the PIONEER. The Legislature will do their cause good service by conferring this appointment on Mr. Jay. A more competent and deserving man cannot be found in the party.

The ladies fair of the second Presbyterian church, is now in operation to the students and teachers of Union Academy, as it was the closing up of the fall term. The class, in their examinations alld themselson much virlier and conferred respect and honor upon their several teachers. The excitement of the examination having passed, Thanksgiving with its interesting duties and enjoyments was approaching. Many of the students and teachers had more than a common interest in the duties of the joyful day, the day when friends and kindred meet a day when the pious devoted Christian esteems it a privilege to give thanks for mercies past, and faithfully trust God for the future. At the usual hour a respectable congregation assembled in the church when a sermon was preached by their Pastor, from the 116 Psalm. 17 verse. "I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD."

In the afternoon the young people were very busily engaged in preparing for an evening entertainment when they ents. held a Sabbath School Aniversary. Soon after six o'clock the people began to assemble in the church and continued coming until the house was full. The arrangements made by the teachers of the Sabbath School were well adapted to the occasion, a large platform was erected in front of the pulpit, carpeted and decorated with evergreens, and back of it stood Congress has passed by a vote suffi- two massive evergreen trees, loaded with of Columbia. It is presumed that this under the superintendence of O. U. as a test of northern sentiment and cording to their grade. Their exercises feeling upon the subject. If the north consisted of Dissertations, Declarations. approved it, well and if not the experi- Orations, and Singing accompanied by ment need go no further, and it can be melodeon. The most interesting trait same in this case. If the negroes use were the exercises of the juveniles, or that it will stop with the District of girl standing in the centre was dressed 115th Pealm from the 3d to the 9th versal They sang a number of pieces most sweetly, for what could be more like heaven than those little juvenile, or infantile, voices united in singing the praise of God. Another scene of interest was to b engaged in, those trees were to be strined were donated as their names were called many for others not connected with the At the late meeting of the stock- North, no East or West, but only the tlemen and ladies, a new wheelbarrow, and many small tokens, such as: tovs. stationery, books, and among the rest a turkey had claimed the right to roost there that has since been seen in the pentor's kitchen. Thus passed Thanksgiving at Shiloh, a long to be remembered day by Scripe.

Explosions in Coal Pits in England! Within a few weeks past there have been persons. The causes of the accident cannot be ascertained, but will proably be found to because it is expensive to do so. We do not suppose that wholesale murder of this kind will coase anywhere until the people begin to hang the wealthy corporators just the same as any one else who takes life for gain.

A Novelty at the Central Fair. Mr. John R. Graham, agent for Wilcox & Gibb's sewing machine will have on exhibition at the tair in Grosscup's Hall, during the holidays, one of these celebrated machines. It will be opearted by a lady thoroughly competent to show off its advantages. Those who desire to see this beautiful piece of mechanism, moving like a thing of life, should be in attendance.

A vessel has been dispatched to bring home John Surrat, one of the assassins of Presdent Lincoln. This is all right. Jeff Davis has a whole fort at his disposal, and there is no reason why Surrat who rendered equal service to the country, should not have a ship.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE. Rev. Wm. McNeil will preach in the Pearl St. Baptist Church on this Friday evening at 71 o'clock, and on Sabbath morning and evening next at the usual

It is also expected that the ordinance of Baptism will be administered on Sabbath next at the upper steamboat landing.

Many of our readers will purchase furs in Philadelphia this winter and it is unportant to know where to procure a good article for a reasonable price. Mr. Raske & Co., No. 517 Arch Street, has a large and splendid stock, which he is disposing of at very reasonable prices. Those who patronize this establishment will find it of the right kind. These gentlemen, or their foreman, take pleasure in giving satisfaction to their customers, and all who patronize them will be pleased with their bargains.

Reliance. We deem it to be our duty to say to our readers, that the most implicit reliance can be placed on Coe's Cough Balsam. It will cure your children of croup, and yourself of any cough, cold, sore throat or pulmonary affection. It is the cheapest and best preparation in the market.

Dyspepsia can be surely and permanently orred by Goe's Dyspepsia Cure. Thousands of dyspeptics are sending in their testimonials to the proprietors, saying it has cured them. We say to those who are suffering from dyspepsia, constipation sour stomach, or any disorder of the stomach or bowels, give it a trial.

HOME NEWS.

MR. Editor:—As the community are interested in learning the passing events transpiring in the different parts of the County it may not be improper to inform them of an interesting scene we witnessed and enjoyed at Shiloh on Thanksgiving day and evening. The two previous days are foundabled in the stand, corner of Fourth and Race Streets, where he established a very extensive trade, and now that he has increased for this gentleman is so intimately associated with the stationary business that it is difficult to think of one without the other. We have lately neceived a circular from Mr. Perry's large and splendid establishment, No. 728 Arch Street, below eighth. It contains a full list of everything destrable in that line of business and is gotten up in neat form. One of the most splendid improvements lately made in Philadelphia is that of Mr. Perry's new four story building in Arch Street, which take the place of one of the old mansions which for sof many years past fronted on that Street. The new four story structure is over one hundred feet in depth lighted from basement to attic, and stocked with the stationary business that it is difficult to think of one without the other. We have lately neceived a circular from Mr. Perry's large and splendid establishment, No. 728 Arch Street, below eighth. HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

The article which appeared in last week's PIONEIR under the above caption, was from the pen of our how to Get up a good pull. We cheerfully endorse all that was said in reference to Mr. Cassidy's establishment, which has been advertised in the Pioness for many vears past. Many of our friends and acquaintenances have dealt there and we have yet to hear the first one say they did not get the worth of their money. Mr. Cassidy has had many years experience in the practical part of the business, and is thorougly acquainted with it in all its branches. He is a gentleman highly worthy of all the patronage that can be bestowed upon him. LADIES VISITING THE CITY

Before the Holidays, should examine the splendid skirts, tande and sold at the fashionable emporium of M. A. Jones, No. 17 North Eight street, Philadelphia. They are in great demand, The new style of Parisian skirt introduced by Mr. Jones has become very popular. Holiday Visitors to the City

Are invited to call at the old and reliable watch and jewelry establishment of Mr. Jacos Harler, 622 Market street, Philadelphia, and examine the many beautiful articles appropriate for Holiday gifts. His new styles of jawelry and silverware in quantity and variety are sufficient to please the most fastidious tastes, and his stock of watches from all the principal matters in the world, offer a rare opportunity to those desirous of selecting excellent timekeepers.

Holiday and Bridal Presents. HENRY HARPER, No. 520 Arch Street, Philadelphia, has a large Stock of fine Watch-es, Jewelry, Silver-Ware, and Silver Plated Ware, suitable for Holiday and Bridal pres-ents.

WOMAN'S BLESSING, The Angular Washing Machine.

PATENTED, SEPTEMBER 11TH, 1866. PATENTED, SEPTEMBER 11TH, 1866.

THIS is the most successful Washing Machine ever invented, as it entirely overcomes all the objections heretofore made to them. It works quite easy, washes clean, and does not are off the buttons or wear out the clothes. The manner of its construction is such that it cannot possibly get out of order, and it will do the washing of a family in a much shorter time than any machine ever before offered to the public, using less soap and leaving the clothes perfectly white. Please lay aside your prejudice until you have tested or seen it tested. Give it a chance and it will take the prejudice out of yourself, and the dirt out of your clothes. It can be seen at any time at my house, and if you have any dirty article that you wish washed bring it along and we can soon convince you. wince you.

Mr. Benjamin W. Waltace, of Paulsboro', and myselt have purchased the light for the State of New Jersey, a part of which is for sale.

West Jersey Academy, Bridgeton, N. J. JOHN GOSMAN, A. M., PRINCIPAL.

PRINCIPAL.

This Institution will commence its next Session on Wednesday, September 5th.

It aims to impart a thorough and complete Classical or Business Education.

The Classical Course will comprise a full preparation for College. Minute and careful accuracy forms a prominent feature of the instruction in these branches.

In the Business Course, special attention will be given to Book-keeping, Mercantile Arithmetic, and kindred studies. The Academy will offer advantages equal to those of Commercial Colleges, together with the opportunity of pursuing many important studies not taught in them.

Competent teachers in these branches, and, also, in Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, and Modern Languages have been secured.

The location of the Academy, is unsurpassed for beauty, heathfulness and convenence. It contains a Library of 700 volumes. The building is admirably adapted to school purposes. The grounds are large and every arrangement is made to secure the comfort and progress of the pupils.

Exply application should be made to the Principal, from whom circulars and other information can be procured.

where you will find the largest and best assorted stock of goods in West Jersey; and the large business done by us enables us to sell at less than ordinary prices. Speaking of the large amount of husiness, we will not merely ask the public to take our word for this, as by consulting the Revenue Assessor's books all may know that our firm pays by far the largest manufacturers tax of any Clothing house in this State south of Trenton. In fact, some months our returns are more than all other Clothing establishments in Bridgeton and Salem combined.

This is no blowing, but facts which any one who wishes can prove by examining the records referred to. So the fact to well understood that this establishnent turns out the BEST AND CHEAPEST GOODS in West Jersey, need remain ro longer a mystery to the public, as the above facts will be sufficient to prove to all that the large amount of business done really enables us to defy all competition. Which for simplicity effective power, strength of material and workmanship, cannot be surpassed, and we are offering them at prices that we know to be less than a machine of the same strength and capacity can be bought for elsewhere. We are building three sizes. For a more extended description send for circular. Evaporators furnished to order. We are also manufacturing Circular Saw Mills, for sawing either large or small logs, to which we would invite the attention of mill owners and lumbermen.—They are built under the supervision of one who has had many years' experience in building and running mills, and lumbering generally, and he flatters himself that he knows what millers want. We also furnish to order The undersigned having associated them-
