INTRODUCED INTO AMERICA
FROM GERMANY, in 1835.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
and
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
The greatest known remedies for
Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS of the SKIN,
and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach; or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.
Read the following symptoms, and if you find that your system is affected by any of them, you may rest assured that disease has commenced its attack on the most important organs of your body, and unless soon checked by the use of powerful remedies, a miserable life, soon terminating in death, will be the result.
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imagings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters
is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic
is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

CONSUMPTION.
Thousands of cases, when the patient supposed he was afflicted with this terrible disease, have been cured by the use of these remedies. Extreme emaciation, debility, and cough are the usual attendants upon severe cases of dyspepsia or disease of the digestive organs. Even in cases of genuine Consumption, these remedies will be found of the greatest benefit, if not curing and invigorating

DEBILITY.
There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheek, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.
These Remedies are the best
Blood Purifiers
ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood.
Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you.

THE COMPLEXION.
Ladies who wish a fair skin and good complexion, free from a yellow, sallow tinge and all other disfigurement, should use these remedies occasionally. The Liver in perfect order, and the blood pure, will result in sparkling eyes and blooming cheeks.

CAUTION.
Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Thousands of letters have been received, testifying to the virtue of these remedies.

READ THE RECOMMENDATIONS.
FROM HON. GEO W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania
PHILADELPHIA, March 16th, 1867.
I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 28th, 1866.
I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

From REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D.D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

Price of the Bitters, $1.00 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $5.00.
Price of the Tonic, $1.50 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $7.50.
The Tonic is put up in quart bottles.
Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take any thing else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE,
AT THE GERMAN MEDICINE STORE,
No. 631 ARCH STREET, Philadelphia.
CHAS. M. EVANS, Proprietor
Formerly C. M. JACKSON & CO.
These Remedies are for sale by Druggists, Storekeepers, and Medicine Dealers everywhere.
Do not forget to examine well the article you buy, in order to get the genuine.

IT ISN'T ALL IN BRINGING UP.

It isn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will;
To silver-scour a pewter cup—
It will be pewter still.
Even he of old, wise Solomon,
Who said, "train up a child,"
If I mistake not, had a son
Proved rattle-brained and wild.

A man of mark, who fain would pass
For lord of sea and land,
May have the training of a son,
And bring him up full grand;
May give him all the wealth of lore,
Of college and of school,
Yet, after all, may make no more
Than just a decent fool.

Another, raised by Penury
Upon her bitter bread,
Whose road to knowledge is like that
The good to Heaven must tread,
Has got a spark of Nature's light,
He'll fan it to a flame,
Till in its burning letters bright
The world may read his name.

If it were all in "bringing up,"
In counsel and restraint,
Some rascals had been honest men—
I'd been myself a saint.
O! 'tisn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will;
Neglect may dim a silver cup—
It will be silver still!

THE BAPTISTS OF NEW JERSEY.

BY REV. D. H. MILLER, D. D.

It is worthy of record, that under the administration of Lord Berkely and Sir. George Carteret "full liberty of conscience to all religious sects that should behave well" was established in New Jersey. This promise was embraced by some who held to a rigid observance of the ordinances of the gospel; these persons were known as Baptists, who, with Christians of other names, rejoiced in "soul liberty," and "in the name of the Lord, set up their banners."

In 1660, a few Baptists were found amongst the early settlers of this State; their number increased but slowly for about thirty years, and this by fresh arrivals rather than by converts to their faith. The oldest church in the State is that at Middletown, originated in 1667, when the place was purchased from the Indians, though the church was not formally constituted till 1688. The church at Piscataway was constituted in 1689. The Cohansey church was organized in 1690, and was originated by the emigration of some Baptists from Ireland, who settled in the neighborhood in 1683. This church had but six pastors in 149 years, each continuing in office till called to the Church Triumphant. The Cape May church was constituted in 1712, though the foundation for it was laid as early as 1675, by the settlement of a few Baptists at the Cape.

The first pastor was Nathaniel Jenkins, a Welshman, who is said to have been "a man of good parts and tolerable education." He was in the Assembly of the Province in 1721, "when he evinced that abhorrence of religious intolerance and persecution which has ever characterized the Welsh nation. A bill was introduced to punish such as denied the doctrine of the Trinity, the divinity of Christ, the inspiration of the holy scriptures, etc., in opposition to which Mr. Jenkins said, "I believe the doctrines in question as firmly as the promoters of that ill-advised, ill-designed bill, but will never consent to oppose the opposers with law, or any other weapon save that of argument."—By his outspoken sense of religious liberty, was perpetuated to all sects in New Jersey, the "full liberty of conscience" promised in the bill of rights already referred to, a privilege and right richly enjoyed by all sects.

A number of churches were constituted in different parts of the State prior to 1792, at which time it has been estimated there were 23 churches. Among these was the church at Scotch Plains, constituted in 1747, from which the First Baptist church in the city of New York and some others, originated. From that period until Benedict's history, in 1813, the progress of Baptist sentiment could not have been very rapid, for he then states the number of churches at about 30.

In 1811 the New Jersey Association was formed out of the Philadelphia association, the First Baptist church of Trenton being one of the constituent members. From an early period some little effort was made to extend the views of truth held by the denomination, and the New Jersey association had a small fund, annually contributed for missionary purposes, amounting to about $100 per annum. A single missionary was employed for three or four months, with the whole State for his field of labor; it is not to be wondered at that but little prominent benefit resulted to the denomination. To remedy this defect and to concentrate the efforts of the Baptists of New Jersey, a few persons met at Nottingham Square in July, 1830, and resolved to organize a State convention for missionary purposes and appeal to the churches in behalf of the destitute portions of the State. The appeal was responded to, and at the first meeting, held at Trenton, in November of the same year, eighteen churches were represented and $435.97 were paid for the furtherance of the objets of the convention.

Since that period the contributions have steadily increased and the board have been enabled to keep in the field a number of missionaries. During the year closing with Oct. 1867, aid has been afforded to twenty-four feeble churches at an expenditure of funds amounting to $5,-983. For the next year the convention resolved to raise and distribute for the work ten thousand dollars. These figures will best indicate the progress of the denominations since 1811, when $100 was expended on the whole State for a similar purpose.

The Baptists of New Jersey have been for years, and are now, more earnestly than ever, engaged in the work of education as specially relating to the ministry. The New Jersey Baptist Education Society, sustained by the contributions of the churches, last year aided fourteen young men in different institutions, and is supporting eighteen this year, who have in view the work of the ministry. The motto of the society in its practical elucidation is, "We turn no worthy young man away who needs our help."

There are now in New Jersey 134 churches, 160 preachers of the gospel actively engaged in the work, besides unordained licentiates and superannuated workmen. The whole number of communicants in October, 1867, was found a little to exceed 22,000. The churches are distributed in their associational relations as follows: 45 in the West New Jersey; 14 in the Central New Jersey; 14 in the Trenton, and 8 in the Sussex Association; but three or four of the churches remain unassociated.

The Baptists of New Jersey, during the past two or three years, have been engaged in the establishment of two institutions of learning, one at Bridgeton and the other at Hightstown—the former at a cost of between thirty and forty thousand dollars; the latter will cost when completed, over one hundred thousand dollars. The school at Hightstown is in a most flourishing condition and under an able corps of instructors. This institution is to the Baptists what Princeton College and Pennington Seminary are to the Presbyterians and Methodists.—"Brown University" had its birth in New Jersey, at Hopewell, under the direction and control of the Baptists. It was removed to Rhode Island at an early date, to best subserve the interests of the whole denomination. Now they have well supported, some of them generously endowed, 34 colleges and 12 theological seminaries, besides academies and preparatory schools in nearly every State in the Union. They publish in advocacy of their views twenty-four weeklies in the English language, three in the German and one in Welsh; two monthlies and two semi-monthlies, also a quarterly review. The benevolent contributions of the Baptists as published for the past year is nearly as follows: For foreign missions, $191,704.00. For the publication society, Sunday school, colportage, etc ,$153,-954.93. For home missions, $176,899.-08. For Bible distributions, $51,652.59. Free mission purposes, $26,631.37. They have a church edifice fund, and last year loaned to feeble churches $12,500. For the historical society of the denomination $301. The library of this society is most valuable, containing 1,960 volumes, 8,-478 pamphlets, 120 historical and biographical manuscripts.

The growth of the Baptists in the United States during the last twenty-three years is indicated in the return made of 4,179 churches added to their number, or about one new church every two days. The denomination is growing most remarkably in the West; for instance, in Illinois alone, last year, 40 new churches were organized. During eleven months of the year they organized a new Baptist church and dedicated a new Baptist sanctuary every week on an average. The numerical strength of the denomination in the United States is as follows: by the United States census of 1860 they are accredited with 11,221 churches, containing accommodations for 3,749,553 persons, and having a church property worth $19,799,378. At present they number more than 14,000 churches, about 2,000,000 members, and as attendants at their worship and forming part of their congregation, eight millions of persons, or about a fourth of the population of the country.

In England and Wales they have 2,000 churches, with a membership of 136,825. In Scotland 97 churches, 5,000 members. In Ireland, 37 churches, 24 ministers, 950 members. In Germany and Denmark, 74 churches, 1,083 preaching stations, with 11,275 members; of these 16 churches with 12 stations and 1,678 members are in Denmark. One church of 214 members is in Switzerland, and one with 383 members in Poland. In France they have six churches, 490 members.—In the West India Islands, 210 churches, with a membership of 37,000. In Canada, 269 churches, 188 ministers, 14,759 members. In New Brunswick they have 115 churches, 71 ministers, 8,821 members, and in Nova Scotia, 153 churches, 93 ministers, and a membership of 15,828. Their mission stations in the East are counted by the score.—This denomination is full of life and vigor, consecrating the best and brightest energies of wealth and talent to the enlargement of Christ's kingdom and the fulfillment of prophecy, when the "knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters fill the deep."

A REMARKABLE SET.—Old Farmer Gruff was one morning tugging away with all his might and main at a barrel of apples, which he was endeavoring to get up the cellar stairs, snd calling at the top of his lungs for one of his boys to lend a helping hand, but in vain.

When he had, after an infinite amount of sweating and puffing, accomplished the task, and just when they were not needed, of course, the "boys" made their appearance.

"Where have you been, and what have you been about, I'd like to know, that you couldn't hear me call?" inquired the farmer in an angry tone, and addressing the eldest.

"Out in the shop settin' the saw," replied the youth.

"And you, Dick?"

"Out in the barn settin' the hen."

"And you, sir?"

"Up in Granny's room settin' the clock."

And you young man?"

"Up in the garret settin' the trap."

"And now, master Fred, where were you, and what were you settin'?" asked the old farmer of his youngest progeny, the asperity of his temper being somewhat softened by this amusing category of answers. "Come, let's hear!"

"On the door step, settin' still," replied the young hopeful, seriously.

"A remarkable set I must confess," added the amused sire, dispersing the grinning group with a wave of the hand.

☞ "Hallo, steward!" exclaimed the fellow in one of the steamboats, after having retired to bed, "hallo, steward." "What, massa?" "I want to see if these bedbugs put down their names for this berth before I did. If not, I want them turned out."

☞ An exchange, in speaking of the magical strains of a hand-organ says:—"When he played 'Old Dog Trays' we noticed eleven purps sitting in front of the machine on their haunches, brushing the tears from their eyes with their fore-paws."

☞ To prevent the kitchen door from creaking, keep a servant girl whose beau comes to see her of an evening.

THE CITY AND THE COUNTRY.

A TALK WITH YOUNG MEN.

BY HORACE GREELEY.

I presume it is already widely known that I habitually and systematically discourage the migration of young men to our great cities. Let me say why I do so:

Strictly, however, what I do is to decline promoting or encouraging the migration of young men to our city. I would leave it as free and open to them as it ever was to me. I came hither, not quite of age, with a tolerable knowledge of my trade (printing,) resolved to make my way here, if I could—if not, to make from here directly. I knew no one living within two miles; I wrote to ask help or favor of no one; I came in quest of work—found it pretty soon—took the worst that was going, because those who were here before me had secured the best—and gradually fought my way to a better position.

I think it was the 17th of August, 1831, when I landed in this city; and it was just about ten years thence that I felt assured that I could stay in New York till I chose to leave, unless I should meantime, be carried out by the undertaker.

There is a class of country-bred persons who can, sometimes, do well in a great city, almost from the day they enter it. This is the class of thoroughly capable, energetic, temperate, thrifty mechanics, who have not yet married.—Any one of these may drop into the city, in March or April, of any prosperous year, when work abounds and everything is thriving, and find employment at good wages, of which he may save half if he will. True, his expenses will overtake his income if he stays here until surrounded by a swarm of children; but why should he stay here so long? If he develop qualities which insure him a leading position and a liberal income, he can well afford to stay; if not, let him be off in season to have his children country-born. To rear sons and daughters in narrow, crowded city quarters, on the stinted allowance of a mere journeyman or laborer, is not to treat them fairly.—Give them air to breathe, hills to roam over, and woods to frequent, so that they shall grow up in health and vigor. The city is hard enough on the poor man; it is entirely too hard on the poor man's children. But for our common schools, I would advise them to get away, even if they had to run away.

But there is an innumerable multitude of boys, of young lawyers, clerks, journalists, etc, who look wistfully to this city, or to some other great city, seeking therein employment, as a stepping-stone to consideration, position influence.—These I habitually discourage, to their sore discomfort, and even at the cost of invoking their indignation. Why? I answer:

I. Because the cities are over-peopled. There are, always, thousands here, "willing to do anything," they say; which too often implies that they know how to do nothing well. Every new comer, of course, lessens the chance—small enough at best—that these shall gain here a subsistence. Now, if these could be driven out to some purpose—if they were not too old to learn a trade—or if they had one already—if I knew what they could do to their own and others' advantage, or where to put them—I would not so strenuously object to the coming in of others to crowd them out of their last hope of earning a decent livelihood. As it is, I must.

II. Because this is no place in which to learn. Living is very dear on this island. It costs more to lodge a person decently here, than to board, as well as lodge him, in a rural township. A great, world-known lawyer might come hither and thrive from the outset; a young, undistinguished lawyer must expect to be many years working his way up to a business by which he may live in comfort. A skilful, driving mechanic, who is still single, may generally get on here, but this is no place for a boy to learn a trade in, unless he has parents here who can support him at least for his first year. He who can do three average men's work will probably go ahead here; if he is only a fair journeyman, he pretty surely will not. So a clerk, or salesman, of established and eminent ability, may probably find a welcome here; but woe to the youth who comes hither hoping to learn to be a clerk or salesman! He has scarcely a chance.

III. In the world, as God made it, there is room and work for all. If one hundred thousand new clearings should this year be opened in the wilderness, which still covers so large a share of our country—if so many more dwellings should be planted on the hitherto virgin prairie, and the plow and cultivator set in motion around each of them—there would be no glut in our food-markets—no surplus of corn or cattle to go to waste. Wheat and beef have rarely been dearer (in coin) than they are to-day. But goods are superabundant almost everywhere.—Manufactures are depressed and stagnating for want of markets; cities are full of suffering because trade is dull, and because there is very little to do. There should, there must be a heavy migration from the cities and villages to the broad, free country—to the West, the South, the Rocky Mountains, the great Plains, or wherever else fields want tillage, and mines are still unworked, or the wilderness is yet to be subdued to the uses or powers harnessed to do the bidding of civilized man.

IV. Our own country, to say nothing of others, lies, for the most part, untilled and unfruitful. There are woods to be cleared away, prairies to be fenced and broken, dwellings to be built, swamps and marshes to be drained, soils to be deepened, orchards and vineyards to be planted, dams and mills to be constructed, and all manner of abidingly useful work to be done. Little or none of this is wanted in cities; in fact, the cities languish and suffer because it is not yet done. There is scope enough for all energies, work for all hands, and employment for all capacities, in the vast, unpeopled, or far too thinly peopled, districts of this capacious republic.

The cities are plethoric with population in excess of all demand for their services and efforts. The problem that presses for solution is how to restore the equilibrium—to move hundreds of thousands from spots where they are in excess, and are burthensome, to regions where men and women, willing to labor, are still badly needed. If I can do very little toward solving this problem, I will, at least, do nothing to aggravate its difficulties. Whatever power or influence I may have shall be exerted in favor of abating the pressure of population on subsistence in our cities—in favor of turning the current of migration away from pavements toward the forests, the prairies, the mines, and the fields.

BEGIN RIGHT.

BY CRAYON BLANC.

Begin right! First the alphabet—then the printed volume; first the tiny blade, then the ear of corn fully ripe. A little time, a little patience, and then all will come out straight, if you only begin right!

"Ten minutes more sleep can't do a fellow any harm," says drowsy Tom, and so he rolls over for another nap. He is late at breakfast, late at school, late all day long, and more probably late through life—one of those people who are always arriving at depots after the cars are gone, and calling to stage-drivers to "wait!"—If he had only learned to begin right!

"I'm worked to death," says the poor household drudge, as she sinks into a chair at the day's end, too weary to care whether her hair is smooth or her collar straight. "And after all, there has Mr. Mite rushed out and left his newspaper on the sofa for me to fold, and his slippers in the middle of the floor, and his pipe on the table, and his hair-brush on the mantle-piece. It's too discouraging."

Well, ma'am, you did not begin right with Mr. Mite. You have followed him round through life, picking up and putting up after him, when you should have let him do it for himself. "But it wouldn't get done." Yes, it would. Mr. Mite would not rest quiet very long in such a chaos if he wasn't waiting for you to reduce it to order. There was a time when he was younger than he is now—a time when you might have made what you would of him, but you did not begin right!

Is your boy disobedient, careworn parents? Does he set your wishes, even your commands, openly at defiance?—Why should you wonder? Do you remember the days of his babyhood, when you laughed at his frea

THE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

There are principles and questions involved in the approaching political campaign of the most important and vital consequences to the interests of New Jersey, as well as of the nation at large. These issues are so conservative or subversive of the public advancement, so fraught with blessings or injuries to the general prosperity, that a clear and well defined line of demarkation is drawn between the two political parties. Between these two parties therefore, the people will be called upon to select a candidate for Governor as their standard-bearer in the campaign now before us. Were it not that the Constitution of our State interposes an insuperable barrier, the present incumbent, Hon. Marcus L. Ward would probably be the Republican choice.—But, as such a circumstance cannot be, a new candidate must be fixed upon; and a gentleman whose patriotism and uncompromising devotion to the cause of loyalty cannot be questioned, is imperatively demanded for the exigency. Such a gentleman—such a patriot—such a loyalist, is CORNELIUS WALSH, Esq., of Newark; and, it is the general impression everywhere expressed among Republicans, as well as with many liberal Democrats, that he will be the most available and popular candidate. While the Republicans throughout the first Congressional District feel that they have the right to ask a nominee from South Jersey, they would not hesitate to waive that right in favor of Mr. Walsh.

The result of the election in this State last fall established the fact that a candidate is wanted, who will carry into the contest the assurance of complete success, and, as we expressed ourselves on a former occasion, "just now that man is believed to be Mr Walsh." Eminently fitted to discharge the duties and assume the responsibilities of the office of Governor, possessing a quick and accurate perception, large and comprehensive intellectual powers, an unyielding devotion to the principles of the Republicans, we are convinced that the party to which he gives his political adherence would reflect credit upon itself by giving him their nomination. Mr. Walsh is thoroughly identified with the interests of the people, he is an active, energetic working man,—is therefore highly esteemed by all, and consequently would gather around himself, from his own force of character; a support outside the limits of party organizations which few candidates could command. He is a self-made man, having carved out his fortune and position by persevering industry and application to duty, working his way up from boyhood and necessity to honor and competence. He sympathizes with the toiling masses, as he worked his way among them, and side by side with the laboring man, won the battle of life by the achievement of those purposes and means by which he has been enabled to distribute blessings upon those who have been less fortunate in the requisition of worldly goods. A warm friend of moral improvement, and a prominent member of the Methodist Episcopal church, he has liberally aided their interests in all parts of the State. On one occasion while he was erecting for himself a splendid residence—the one in which he now resides—the church of which he was then an official member needed funds to complete it. Mr. Walsh came nobly to its assistance, leaving his own house with only the foundations laid, until the church was relieved of its embarrassments. Hundreds of charita- [illegible] salutary influences, have contributed towards endearing him to the people. Genial, well informed and highly cultivated, he is a gentleman in all respects amply qualified for any place in the gift of the people. His business qualifications are superior in character, and by a vigorous application of time and energy to those pursuits in which he has acted, he won his way rapidly into public confidence and esteem. "He is a man of superior mental power, and combines with it that practical sagacity which is rarely defeated in any project to which it gives its attention." His generosity, humanity and philanthropic deeds have spread around him an atmosphere of purity and admiration, while his liberality has been largely contributive to "the success of the political ideas with which he is affiliated." Scrupulously exact in all his dealings, not a shadow of blemish can be found on his private or political character. Hence, no fears need be entertained of his competency to discharge ably, faithfully and satisfactorily, all the duties incumbent upon the chief executive State officer.

Such elements, therefore, as we find in the life and character of Mr. Walsh, are just such elements as are demanded in the present crisis. Every consideration of public safety—every interest of political security—every great national issue demand that a wise and judicious selection should be made by the Republican party. In the coming campaign all these issues are involved. With such a standard-bearer and leader in the contest as Mr. Walsh, the Republicans cannot fail to be triumphant, not only on their general, but also on their local tickets. The moral force which the name and character of Cornelius Walsh would give to the ticket in every county, township and ward in the State, would be an earnest of success, and insure to the Republican party redemption from the effects of the defeat which overtook them last November. His nomination therefore would be a signal of better days returning, indicating the purposes of the Republican party to select a worthy man for the position of Governor, as well as their determination to reward honesty, integrity and virtue. These facts should be properly weighed in the primary meetings, so that the delegates to the State convention may be convinced of the necessity of Mr. Walsh's selection.

THE FENIANS.

This organization, which began in fraud on the one hand and folly on the other, appears determined to distinguish its closing life with atrocities of the most wanton and ferocious character. There was no real provocation for the assassination of policemen in England; or the blowing up of prisons, and the whole civilized world was shocked at the crime. Scarcely had its echoes died away when McGee was assassinated in Canada, and since that, the life of Prince Alfred, the second son of Victoria, has been attempted by them. A Fenian now is a man synonymous with the vilest wretches of our kind, and will soon be ranked among the wild beasts whose extermination is a duty. The attempt upon the prince's life was unsuccessful, but he was sufficiently badly hurt to make his return from Australia to England a necessity.

☞ The steamer Red Jacket was burnt to the water's edge at her dock at Elizabethport, on Saturday morning, between 12 and 1 o'clock. Mr. Tuska, a member of Oscoola Hose, No. 2, was seriously injured by the falling of the smoke stack. The fire was the work of an incendiary. The Red Jacket plied between Elizabethport and New York, and belonged to the Central Railroad Company, in whose interests she was run. The steamer was built in 1848, and has always been a favorite, and was frequently employed by excursionists from Elizabeth, Newark, and other cities.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR.

It will be seen by the two articles below, which we have copied respectively from the "Bridgeton Chronicle" and "Vineland Weekly" that our prediction, as to who would likely be the Republican candidate for Governor, is realizing a fulfillment. In looking at the question at the time we published our prophecy, we were satisfied that our section was prepared to forego for the time being its claim to the nomination, provided a more available candidate could be found in any other portion of the State. The party was not in a position to take risks upon this question, and we did not know of any of our available South Jersey men, who were prepared to accept the nomination and fight the battle through. We had the men, but none of them appeared to care to go into the canvass with that resoluteness which alone could secure success, and so it was clear that the candidate would come from some other part of the State. If this point were conceded we know of no man toward whom the favorable sentiment of the people would be as likely to attract as Mr. Cornelius Walsh of Newark. He had been prominently before the mind of the party at the time when Mr. Ward was selected, but believing that Mr. Ward would be more likely to be successful at the time than any other man, he waived all pretensions, and went in heartily for his election. He visited Southern Jersey during that canvass, and spoke at public meetings in connection with Mr. Sharp, of Salem, and it is probably owing to the strong impression he then made upon people, that they make him their choice now. In the upper part of the State there was no question as to his being the proper man, and if we down here fell in with the sentiment, it seemed a certainty to us that he would be the man. There was another reason which we felt would have its influence in deciding this matter. South Jersey was intensely loyal during the war, and no man whose record was not favorable in this regard, could rely upon a majority of its voters. Mr. Ward was eminently the soldiers friend, and as a consequence was elected. Mr. Walsh was as eminently their friend, and no man in the State could produce a prouder history than he. He was President of the State Sanitary Commission, and, while Mr. Ward, with noble devotion, distributed the supplies of the Commission to our sick and suffering boys in blue, Mr. Walsh at home was both giving and raising his thousands and tens of thousands for this same object. There is not probably a man in the State who did more either with personal effort or open purse, than Mr. Walsh, and it could not be otherwise than that it should be an element of popular strength, that would not be ignored when they came to cast about them for their candidate. The journals from whom we have quoted below, are among the most influential of our region, and we presume that they speak not only the sentiments, but the decision of their party. Personally we are pleased with this selection. It is certain that the executive chair can be filled with no clearer head or more honest heart than belong to Mr. Walsh. We have long known him as a gentleman of solid practical information in matters of Government, and possessed in addition, of an ability to organize and execute details, that we have rarely seen equaled, and this quality is in our judgment an essential, in a man who may be called to guide the often conflicting interests of nearly a million of people.

We have also known him as a man of incorruptible integrity. One whom base men would not dare approach with a dishonorable proposition; and, in these degenerate political times, such a man, in more senses than one, is above price. His views of public welfare are enlarged, and embrace a range of principles that rise above mere momentary party creeds, and this increases our favorable estimation. He is cautious in forming decisions, but of most inflexible will, when once a question is decided, and this trait, also, we believe to be of great value in a servant of the public. We do not remember to have found a man who more nearly fulfilled our idea of Davy Crockett's celebrated maxim, "Be sure you are RIGHT, and then [illegible]" and we confess to a warm feeling of interest in his election. We claim to be an independent paper, supporting any policy or any man that we may believe to be best for the general public good, and in this view accept it as a duty to announce our preference for both the nomination and election of Mr. Walsh as the next governor of the State; for, all things considered, we do not believe a better man can be found to fill this responsible position. In advocating this position, we believe we shall be in line with the popular feeling, and shall feel it a pleasure to contribute such aid as may be in our power to bring about the desired result.

The articles immediately following are the ones to which we alluded, and which we hope will be read with careful attention.

From the Bridgeton Chronicle.

"The continued ascendancy of the Republican party is a matter of prominent importance to the country. The interests of Republicanism, of liberty, and, indeed, of humanity seem to demand that the party whose patriotic efforts saved the republic through the bloody ordeal of war, should continue to control it until the fruits of the war are fully reaped, and the government again established upon an enduring basis. To secure this end, the exertions of all loyal men should be put forth, and all minor considerations held subordinate. A thorough and efficient organization of the party should at once be effected in every state, city, county and hamlet throughout the country, and not the least important element of success lies in the proper selection of standard bearers in the coming contest. Those should be selected, and those only, whose devotion to our principles cannot be questioned, and who at the same time possess the integrity of character, energy of purpose and that hold upon the sympathies of the people which will enlist the largest measure of popular support

The Republican party of New Jersey will soon be called upon to choose a candidate for gubernational honors, and it is in view of this fact that we make the above suggestions. The party is not wanting in men well fitted to discharge the duties of the highest office in the state, and well deserving of its honors. Several prominent men have been mentioned in this connection, but we have heard of none who, in our judgment, combines so many elements essential to success as Cornelius Walsh. Springing from the humble ranks of life, he has by his sterling integrity and inflexible energy worked himself up by degrees to a position of competency and honor. He is thoroughly identified with the interests of the toiling masses, and few men could draw from that class of our people such general and hearty support. His loyalty to the party is above suspicion; no one has worked more faithfully or been truer under all circumstances both in victory and defeat. Distinguished alike for his ability, his energy, his enlarged charities, and his purity of character, there is no one more worthy to lead the loyal party of the state in the ensuing campaign, or more likely to insure the triumph of our cherished principles."

From the Vineland Weekly.

"As it is generally known that Gov. Ward is not eligible to a re-election, it is perhaps time to discuss the matter in regard to his successor. We assume, of course, that the Republican candidate, whoever he may be, provided the party make a judicious selection, will be successful. By general consent the selection will devolve on the Southern section of the State, if a candidate can be found there who is acceptable to the party.

Although we have quite a number of men in this section who would make excellent Governors, yet we know of no one who will on any consideration consent to be a candidate at this juncture.

In this dilemma what must be done? There is no other course open but to look over the whole state and select the very best man. We acknowledge that our acquaintance with the public men of New Jersey is somewhat limited, therefore we have sought the very best information within our reach. We have asked all our friends with whom we have come in contact to name some individual worthy to become the standard bearer of the party in this great crisis of our country's history. The universal responce is CORNELIUS WALSH, of Newark, is the man.

In the first place, Mr. Walsh has the ability to discharge the duties acceptably. In the next place he is an unflinching Republican,—And furthermore his private character is above reproach. And, finally being a man of wealth, he has aided, by his liberality, every enterprise having for its object the advancement of the interests of morality and religion. With a candidate with such a record we shall go into the canvass with a full assurance of success.

We of course shall feel bound by the action of the Convention whatever it may be, but we trust that the watchword of the party in the coming canvass will be 'GRANT & WALSH.'"

WAR IN ABYSSINIA.

The war in this country which has absorbed so large a share of the time and money of the British government for the past year, has in a most unexpected manner been brought to a close by the death of king Theodore. The history of this matter is one of the most romantic episodes of the nineteenth century. King Theodore, who governed, so far as was possible the half savage country of Abyssinia, was like the rest of his people, very much of a savage. Queen Victoria took it into her pretty head to send him her picture. The dusky Abyssinian beauties were no comparison in the mind of the impressible savage to Victoria, and he forthwith fell violently in love, and sent an embassador demanding her in marriage. Unfortunately the love was all on one side, and the Queen declined the proposal. There-upon like all other rejected lovers, King Theodore got mad and revenged himself by arresting all the English people in his dominions, and putting them in dungeons where they have languished for the last two or three years. The British government remonstrated, threatened, cajoled, offered money, and took every other conceivable means to effect the liberation of the captives, but all in vain. At last there was no resource but to declare war, and organize an expedition to that far country, and for the last year this has largely occupied the attention of the British government. A few months past the expedition under the command of Gen. Napier reached that country, and has been occupied till recently in endeavoring to cross its mountains to the capital of the King. At Magdala Theodore awaited the approach of the English with a strong army of at least ten thousand men, but after a short but decisive conflict, the Abyssinian forces were routed, their King slain and the British captives liberated. It has been a very costly matter to the government across the water, but it is only another illustration of the old story: The woman showed the man an apple which he might not touch, and which cost him in the end his Eden.

The interior of the fortress of Magdala presented an extraordinary and splendid sight, the place glowing almost with barbaric splendor. The British troops plundered it at once. The men found four royal crowns made of solid gold, twenty thousand dollars in silver, thousands of silver plates, several lots of very rich jewels, and numerous other articles of great value.

General Napier takes by his victory the twenty eight large guns just used against him, five thousand stand of small arms, ten thousand shields, such as are used in battle in open field by the Ayssinians; ten thousand spears, and many other articles of great value.

EDMUND ROORK.

Another of our estimable citizens, and one universally respected has been called to join the large number of valuable members of the community, who have recently died. Mr. Roork was not a wealthy man, but such was the integrity of his character, joined with the most sterling good sense, that his influence among us was fully as strong as that of many men who were more favored of fortune. He was for many years a fireman in the iron mills, and so complete was the confidence reposed both in his integrity and judgment, that after the painful disease of which he died had largely incapacitated him from labor, both his position and salary were continued to him, and even after he was unable to go to the mills at all, a sufficient amount for his support was still paid him. The disease of which he died was cancer, and for a number of years past he had been a constant sufferer. These sufferings however, were borne with uncomplaining resignation, and from his cheerful manner it would have been impossible to suppose that he was undergoing the most intense anguish from a cancer in the face. Mr. Roork was identified with all the valuable public reforms of the day, and lent especially a hearty support to the cause of temperance. He had been ever since his boyhood an earnest and influential member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and had been honored with all the usual offices under the ministry of his denomination. His funeral took place on Tuesday of this week, in the Commerce Street church, where he had been a member since the days of his early manhood. The house was filled with appreciative friends, among whom were the sons of Temperance who attended in a body. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ballard, the presiding elder, assisted by Messrs. Morris and Maddock; and the occasion will not soon be forgotten by the large number present, who had assembled to evince their respect for one of nature's noblemen who had evinced his claim to the title by a Godly life and a well ordered conversation.

WEST JERSEY PRESBYTERY.

The Presbytery of West Jersey met at Cedarville on the evening of the 21st inst. The attendance was large, and the whole session one of great interest and good spirit.

The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Greenwich, and the special sermon, on "The promise of the Spirit to the church," by the Rev. Mr. Brace, of Blackwood. Mr. Enoch Benson was received under the care of the Presbytery, as a candidate for the ministry; and the Rev. Mr. Pratt, of Hammonton, was received from the Presbytery of St. Lawrence, N. S.

The "Narrative of the state of religion in the churches of the Presbytery," prepared by the Rev. Mr. Branny, of Salem, was full of encouragement; and the Prayer and Conference meeting, at which several of the brethren gave accounts of the recent work of grace in their respective charges, was a time "of refreshing from the presence of the Lord."

A paper was adopted by the Presbytery, and ordered to be transmitted to the Post Master General, through Senators Frelinghuysen and Cattell, praying that no Sunday mail be ordered upon the Cape May and Atlantic Railroads.

The Rev. Mr. Brace and Ruling Elder, Marshall, were appointed commissioners to the General Assembly.

Tuesday Evening, the 13th of May, was appointed for the installation of the Rev. Mr. Burt, at Woodstown.

Cold Spring was chosen as the place for the next stated meeting, and Mr. Brauns was appointed to preach on "what the laity can do to advance the kingdom of Christ."

NEW CHURCH AT PITTSTOWN.

The proposed new Methodist Episcopal church at Pittstown, has about reached that position where its success is no longer doubtful, as between four and five thousand dollars have already been subscribed by the people of Pittsgrove charge. The church had long seen the necessity for a house of worship in that growing and thriving town, but nothing has been done until the close of the past year, when Rev. Mr. Hiesley, the pastor, took the work energetically in hand and urged it forward. He found sympathy and co-operation in the inhabitants of the village, but it has required the fullest labor from the pastor to bring the enterprise to its present position, and we are happy to repeat that there is now probably no doubt of the erection of the church edifice. The proposals are already out, and the people meet to-night (Friday) to decide upon the general plan and style of its architecture.

IMPROVEMENTS IN BRIDGETON

There are more improvements taking place in this city the present season, than has been for years past. Our mechanics and workmen are all busily engaged in building, repairing, painting, mason work &c. The number of new buildings already completed and in course of erection is large, and most of them are of a superior class. Old buildings are being torn down and moved back, and new ones taking their places. Those who have not visited this city for some years past would scarcely know parts of it which has been so rapidly improved; many houses which have been actually suffering for want of paint, presenting a dilapidated appearance, now sparkle in the sunlight, and attract the attention of passers by who cannot help admiring their neatness and beauty.—Most of this transformation has been brought about by a few coats of paint applied by some of our skillful artisans, who understand handling the brush. There is no doubt five times as much painting done in this city now in a single season as there was ten years since. This has greatly added to the appearance of Bridgeton. There is no place in this State of equal size where the residences are so generally owned by the occupants as in this city. There are but comparatively few tenant houses and this no doubt is the principal reason why there is so much taste and neatness displayed about the buildings and their surroundings. Most of the houses in this place off of the main business street have front and side yards, many of them tastefully laid out with walks, beautiful lawns, shrubbery and flowers of every variety. Many of the back yards are filled with grape vines and fruit trees of various kinds, and not a few of our citizens cultivate exotic grapes in commodious grapories built for that purpose. Our annual county exhibitions prove that there can be no handsomer grapes and pears grown anywhere than in this city, and those exhibited there are only fair specimens of the abundance annualy produced. For gardening purposes our soil cannot be excelled, and those who give that department their attention are abundantly repaid with early and excellent vegetables and garden produce. Only a few days since we were shown a pear tree in the garden of a gentleman of this city, which contained at least twenty-five different varieties of excellent pears, and bears every year an abundance of choice fruit. This gentleman also has a flourishing grapery and a large number of fruit trees which occupies some of his spare moments from his regular employment. Among the principal causes of the prosperity and growth of our city is the fact that our mechanics and laboring men are idustrious and economical, and instead of spending their time and means at taverns and grog shops, they place it in the Loan and Building Associations which have been in successful operation here for many years past. By the payment of a few dollars monthly into one of these institutions almost any one is enabled to have a comfortable home secured for himself and family. It is not the capitalists of this city alone who have improved it, but principally the men of moderate means. It is true that in some instances our more wealthy citizens have loaned of their abundance to those of moderate means, and thus enabled them to add to the improvements of the place. Our citizens have not only provided comfortable residences for themselves to live in, but they have looked to the welfare of their children by providing commodious and excellent public schools, and giving them the advantages of the numerous select institutions which add so much to the prosperity of our city. The improvements which have taken place in our church edifices of the different denominations within a few years past in this city is worthy of notice. There is no town or city in the State better supplied with church accommodations. The buildings are principally large, and all of them neat and comfortable, and with faithful and efficient pastors are doing good service for the cause of Christ. The average church attendance for the size of the population is perhaps unequaled anywhere; there are four churches and three chapels within sight of our office which will seat in the aggregate at least three thousand five hundred persons, and in pleasant weather they are all comfortably filled each Sabbath. We don't pretend to say that our citizens are so good as to crowd the churches when it storms extensively, and we would like to see that place where they are. As the above article is headed "Improvements in Bridgeton," we would here state that the churches in all their various interests are improving also, and as they are numbered among the institutions of our city, we have thought proper to refer to them in this connection.

RUNAWAY AND KICK-UP.—About one o'clock on Monday last a horse belonging to Richard Seeley of this city, while coming down Pearl street towards Commerce took a notion to "kick-up;" which not pleasing the driver, who was in the cart, he concluded to give the horse the whip; not fancying that amusement, the horse made tracks down Pearl street rather faster than the driver wished to travel; by the time they reached the crossing at Commerce street the gears were pretty well disarranged, and the horse somewhat unmanageable. The driver however after some hard sawing and considerable of tall swearing succeeded in fetching up the animal near Holmes' livery stable. A large crowd had assembled by this time, and after securing a stout rope large enough to hold an elephant, the animal was fastened down to the shafts, and of course had to raise the cart or keep down to the work. Quite a sensation was created by the youthful driver as he passed down Commerce street with a large crowd of boys hooting after him.

PRECOCIOUS YOUTH.—Bridgeton produces some of the "Young America" as well as other cities of a larger growth. A few days since a youngster not more than two years and a half old, if that, who could scarcely waddle, came about half a square from his home, entered our back yard, the gate being open, found his way around the house and down through the lot to the chicken coop, where he succeeded, by using both hands, in carrying off an egg. His mother, not fancying the procedure of her son, insisted on his returning it. That boy will no doubt make a smart man, perhaps a member of the New Jersey Legislature. We doubt however if he will ever equal some of that honorable body in stealing.

Another little boy of this place with whom we are well acquainted, asked his mother during the late thunder storm, what it was that made so much noise. In replying to him that it was the voice of God, the little fellow looked up quite earnestly and enquired, "why does God speak so loud?" The mother had to give the boy a more philosophic answer.

GRAHAM'S CARPET STORE.—By reference to advertisement in another column it will be seen that Mr. Graham is still on hand, selling carpets as cheap as the cheapest. There are several advantages in buying your carpets at Graham's. In the first place, you are sure of getting the worth of your money; which is not always the case at other places. Carpets are what they are represented to be, when purchased at Graham's, and as he has a thorough knowledge of the style and quality generally desired by those living in this part of the State, he is pretty sure to have something to suit among his large and handsome assortment. Persons about commencing housekeeping, or those wishing to renew their carpets, will find them as good and as cheap at Graham's as in any of the large cities.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Sunday evening last, Mr. Geo. W. Orr, of Dividing Creek, while on his way to church, stepped upon a fence rail to reach a small branch of an apple tree. The rail turned, threw him suddenly and broke his leg.

For the West Jersey Pioneer.

IN MEMORY.

Whilst columns are written in eulogy of those whose fortune it has been to occupy high and prominent positions in life, may we not be permitted to cast a flower of memory upon the grave of those whose lot has been more humble; yet whose absence is felt as keenly, and whose loss is mourned as sincerely, by those with whom it was their privilege to be associated in life, as well as those who are more closely related by the ties of blood and affection.

These thoughts have been suggested, Mr. Editor, by noticing in the columns of the PIONEER the death of a very dear friend. I refer to SAMUEL WILLIAMS, late of Salem; and, with your kind permission, I would take this medium of paying the last tribute of affection to one whom we all knew.

Many there are in Bridgeton, (where I first met with him,) especially among the younger classes, who, alike with me, remember him, and can recall many, very many pleasant hours spent in his company. It was the writer's privilege to know him well; having worked side by side in the same office with him for many months, and sat at the same board; and he ever found him the same kind, social and warm-hearted friend. He, like all mortals, had his faults, but his many good traits of character predominated, and he was, in many respects, a worthy and exemplary young man. Although, at the time of my associations with him, he was not a professor of christianity, yet he often made the remark to me that he believed religion was the only thing that could render a man perfectly happy and contented. He frequently conversed with me upon this subject, and his views were always moral, liberal and high-toned, and worthy of those who made greater professions.

As a printer and typographical compositor, he was one of the best and most correct I ever knew. I have frequently known him to set six and seven columns of solid reading-matter with scarcely a single typographical error in them—an accomplishment few could boast of, and for which he received the highest commendations of his employer and fellow compositors. In his death the "craft" have lost a true and generous friend, and one who ever held in high regard the noble "art preservative of all arts."

He leaves an aged and widowed mother to mourn his sad loss, and of whom he always spoke in the most affectionate terms.

Mr. Editor, I am one of those who, as a general principle, are opposed to eulogistic efforts after death, and yet I could not refrain from penning these fragmentary thoughts, in expression of the heartfelt feelings of friendship which I entertained for my friend who is now no more. Let him rest

"In the deep stillness of that dreamless state
Of sleep, that knows no earthly joys again."

J.

THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

As we supposed, this case still keeps its place upon the calender of the Senate. There has been nothing done since our last issue, except speech making, and while these speeches have been able and eloquent, yet they have not placed the case in any new aspects before the American people, still these speeches will remain as part of the history of our nation, and with the exception of that of Judge Nelson, they are all of sufficient value to be retained in our national literature. The speeches of Thaddeus Stevens and Mr. Evarts especially are forensic efforts that reflect credit upon the character of the nation. It is supposed that the trial will close next week, provided the Senators do not insist on making speeches. It is true that their rules forbid it, but then the power by which the rules were made can unmake them, and it will depend altogether upon how far the Senators can restrain their desire for an early immortality as to whether the trial will or will not close at the time indicated. As the time draws near for a decision, all parties feel anxious; several Republican Senators are reputed doubtful, and there are few votes to spare if a conviction is secured, as all the Democrats will vote solid for acquittal. If Mr. Johnson is convicted we do not suppose there will be any great agitation in the country. He has no party, the Republicans feel that he has betrayed them, and the Democrats account him incompetent and untrustworthy, while the office-holders despise him. If there were a strong party sustaining him, impeachment would not be so easy a matter, but as it is, the old distich, is almost literally true:

"Where he goes or how he fares,
Nobody knows and nobody cares."

We hope sincerely that the Senate will finish the case this week, and if we must go on with Mr. Johnson as President; let us know it, and if the "old man of the mountain" can be let down from our shoulders, why, let us know that. At all events we hope they will let us know something, and relieve the country from its palsying uncertainty.

TO HOUSE CLEANERS.—As we are now passing through that season when everybody cleans house we re-publish the following for the benefit of those who have walls to whitewash:

White chalk is the best substitute for lime as a wash. A very fine and brilliant whitewash preparation of chalk is called "Paris White." This we buy at the paint stores for three cents a pound, retail. For each sixteen pounds of Paris White we procure half a pound of white transparent glue costing twenty-five cents (fifty cents a pound) The sixteen pounds of Paris White is about as much as a person will use in a day. It is prepared as follows: The glue is covered with cold water at night and in the morning is carefully heated, without scorching, until dissolved. The Paris White is stirred in with hot water, enough to give it the proper milky consistency for applying it to the walls, and the dissolved glue is then added and thoroughly mixed. It is then applied with a brush like the common lime whitewash. Except on very dark and smoky walls and ceiling, a single coat is sufficient. It is nearly equal in brilliancy to "zinc white," a far more expensive article.

ANSWERS TO PROBLEMS.—The "Cat Problem," published in the PIONEER, a few weeks since, created considerable amusement and figuring among our readers, the answer to which is 12.

The answer to the "Conical Oak" problem, published on the 10th inst., is given as five per cent. The following is the answer to the "Beef Problem," which appeared in the PIONEER of last week:

A. pays thirteen dollars, four cents and six and one-fourth mills, and pays per pound twelve cents, and four and one-fourth mills.
B. pays eight dollars, ninety five cents, and three and three-fourth mills, and pays per pound, nine cents, and four and a four mills.
Total amount $22 00.

☞ The editor of the Salem Sunbeam, in his last issue, replies to our complimentary notice by asserting that "the excellence of the Pioneer may be attributed to the controlling influence of our better-half." This may, or may not be the case. If it is, that is more than can be said of the Sunbeam, while its editor remains in his present "single wretchedness." He deserves to be transported from the state, and if some of the Salem ladies do not take charge of him before the next meeting of the Editorial Association this Summer, at Cape Island, they may never again see him in his present single state.

TOWNSHIP STATEMENTS.—We once more remind the town clerks of this county, who have not as yet published their annual statements, that they subject themselves to a penalty of fifty dollars for each offence, in neglecting to have them published in the newspapers of the county. The law requires the the publication of the annual statement of the affairs of each township in full, in order that those interested may see how the township affairs are managed.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.—The contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor is becoming more and more animated. The following named gentlemen are spoken of:—Senator Robbins, of Middlesex; Nehemiah Perry, of Essex; Gen. Runyon; Ex-mayor Bigelow; T. F. Randolph, of Hudson, and Gen. Mott, of Warren.

☞ We understand, says the Vineland Weekly, that Fred. Douglass, has decided not to purchase the Gifford estate, as was announced last week.

☞ The article on "The Oyster Trade of Maurice River Cove," is unavoidably laid over this week. It will appear in next week's Pioneer.

AGRICULTURE IN SOUTH JERSEY.

The following extracts from a letter of Edward Vanmeter, of Salem, New Jersey, to the Commissioner of Agriculture, relate to the agricultural prosperity of that county:

We have 1,450 farms in our county, which will average probably one hundred acres each. Timber is becoming scarce with us. There are many thousand acres of brush or brush timber land along the south-easterly line of our county, known as the third, fourth and fifth growths, which will furnish fuel for a long time to come, as they will bear cutting every twenty-five years. It is interspersed with chestnut, which is better than cedar for rails, and marl of a superior quality has been discovered in different localities, so that the soil, though apparently valueless for farming operations, except in a few favored spots, is really valuable property. Saw-timber for lumber and building purposes will soon be among the things of the past with us. The most of our farms along the Delaware river and the inland creeks have meadows. Some of this meadow is classed as number one for grazing purposes. That portion called inferior is noted for producing herdgrass. The cattle will not eat the hay; it is thrown, after threshing, into the barn yard for manure, but it's seed is always in great demand, varying in price from fifteen cents per bushel in former years, to one dollar and a half at the present time. The returns of some of our farmers the past season from their herds seed have been unexpectedly large, some farms yielding from $1,000 to $3,000, according to the number of acres in meadow.

Our people everywhere seem encouraged, and we are this day, in the county of Salem, certainly, in one sense of the word, "a landed aristocracy;" and wherever there is a farmer who is industrious and attentive to his business, he is on the sure road to prosperity and wealth.

Land is steadily advancing in price. A farm near the town of Salem was sold eighteen years ago for one hundred dollars per acre, known as the "Tyler" grazing farm, contained one hundred and eighty three acres, upland and meadow, and was called a cheap farm. It was sold recently, and the farm was sold for two hundred and forty-seven dollars per acre, cash.

A good farm horse is worth two hundred dollars; a road nag from two hundred and fifty to five hundred dollars. A milch cow that will make six to eight pounds of butter per week is worth from one hundred to one hundred and twenty-five dollars. We have cows of the native stock that will make ten pounds of butter per week. I own two that will do it. A bull four years old, of good stock, Durham, Devon, or Grade, is worth from seventy five to one hundred dollars. A Thorndale bull sold this winter at public sale, about five miles from this city, for four hundred and sixty dollars; he is said to be a very superior animal.

STAMPEDE AT THE STATE PRISON.—On Saturday afternoon, a desperate attempt was made to escape from the State Prison by seven men working in the blacksmith shop. The shop is situated in the southern part of the Prison, between the south and new wings and near the outer wall, not far from the gate. About 3 o'clock, as a coal cart was passing through, these men watched their chances, and made a rush for the open gate, knocking down the gate-keeper. The overseer, Mr. Opperman, being at the upper part of the building, on account of the steadily movements, did not notice their designs until they rushed through the windows of the shop. On getting outside, the prisoners scattered in every direction.

Some started towards the river and others up along the canal and railroad. The keepers immediately made pursuit and after considerable chasing, captured six out of the seven. One of the stampeders was only brought to on a pistol being fired at him, and another ran about three quarters of a mile before he was overtaken. They all had their coats off as they had been at work. One had on a pair of pants made from his blanket the night previous. Over these he wore his ordinary striped prison pants, which he stripped off in his flight. From this it would seem that the outbreak was premeditated.

Subsequent investigations made by the State Prison authorities have developed the startling fact that while eight prisoners were missed at the time of the stampede on roll-call, all of whom were supposed to have escaped through the gate, two of them, Charles G. White and Francis McCaffrey, reported as having succeeded in getting clear away, were really concealed at the time at the rear end of the blacksmith shop, over the boiler. There they remained Saturday night, Sunday, and about 10½ o'clock on Sunday night, having had time to perfect their arrangements, they silently and without causing alarm, effected their escape from the prison. During the time they had lain stowed away in their hiding place they had made a wire ladder by means of which they scaled the wall and descended to the ground on the outside. The Prison authorities are extremely chagrined to think the scamps should have so cleverly tricked them.—STATE GAZETTE.

THE ELEPHANT ROMEO AGAIN ON THE RAMPAGE.—The following account from the Harrisburg State Guard of the violence of the elephant Romeo, proves that the temper of the animal is not to be trusted, and that he should not be exhibited in a public place: "We have already given some particulars of the antics of this elephant, including the murder of his keeper, and we are now informed that although a part of his trip from Hatborough to Lancaster was unattended with any unwonted displays of temper, he, a short distance this side of Lamaen Place, again broke loose, and in his usual disposition, and report hath it that, after arriving thus far, his elephantship took a fancy that he did not want to go any further, but concluded to take the back track. This, however, did not suit the wishes of his keeper, who remonstrated with him with some severity, at which he became enraged, and proceeded to demolish things by killing a horse, injuring several others, tearing down fences and telegraph poles, and finally stealing a horse and carriage over a fence into a field. His managers were obliged to put the chains on him, and then put him through the customary process of pounding and shooting, and shooting, &c., for over five hours, before the huge brute would cry for quarter. He was then brought on to Lancaster, where he arrived in time for the evening exhibition.

Quoting the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN—"The quality of the work done by this machine is certainly beautiful; not only beautiful but durable and reliable in all respects. It will knit anything and that tells the whole story. Moon's REAL NEW YORKER says, 'The machine is an INSTITUTION which we can confidently recommend to the public. From the AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST—We have seen this machine work, and think it the best family machine yet made. It certainly does good work and a variety of it.'

REASONS WHY.

We are enabled to offer superior inducements to purchasers of clothing, to which your attention is respectfully invited.
We have a business experience of more than 25 years and a longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.
We employ sufficient capital to make all purchases for cash, which, together with the fact that our large business enables us to buy in large amounts in first hands, thereby saving all profits of jobbers and middlemen, gives us advantages in purchasing at the lowest rates, SHARED BY NO HOUSE IN OUR TRADE.
We sell only for cash and having no losses from bad debts to provide for, the paying customer is not taxed to help pay the debt of another who does not pay, as is inevitably the case in a business where credit is given.
We employ the best talent in all departments, which, with long experience, enable us to manufacture garments SUPERIOR IN EVERY RESPECT—equalled by few—surpassed by none
We have the largest establishment for the manufacture and sale of clothing in Philadelphia, extending through from 518 Market street to 511 Minor street, occupied exclusively by ourselves, also a branch store at 600 Broadway, New York, and keep at all times of MEN'S, YOUTHS' and BOYS' READY-MADE CLOTHING, the largest stock and best assortment in the city, from which any person can be accurately fitted at once, as well, or better, than by garments made to order, our large stock comprising every size of all styles of goods. We have recently added to our previous stock a full assortment of CHILDREN'S GARIBALDI AND OTHER SUITS, equal to any in the city in style, trimming, and make; which are sold at lower prices than have hitherto been given in Philadelphia. They, with all our Boys' and Youths' goods, are kept on the FIRST FLOOR, NEAREST THE FRONT, convenient for ladies. We have also recently opened on our SECOND FLOOR a CUSTOM DEPARTMENT for the display of a choice selection of Foreign and Domestic Fabrics in the piece, which will be MADE TO ORDER, in the best style, by competent and skillful cutters and workmen. The advantage of dealing with a CASH house will be especially apparent in this department, upon a comparison of prices.
We guarantee our PRICES LOWER THAN THE LOWEST ELSEWHERE and also guarantee FULL SATISFACTION to every purchaser, and request, that should any cause of dissatisfaction exist with a purchase made, it may be reported to us, pledging

BREWSTER'S
Pectoral Mixture

This is a valuable

COUGH REMEDY,

And is at this Season much in demand for COUGHS,
COLDS,
ASTHMA,
BRONCHITIS,
SORE THROAT
AND WHOOPING COUGH!

One certificate—from the Rev. Mr. Heward, of Mountainville, N. J.—will show its worth. We will give it in his own words:—

MR. E. F. BREWSTER—Dear Sir—Will you please send me by express six bottles of your Pectoral Mixture. Your Mixture is the best I can get. It saved me from a premature grave when a boy, and I have often found it invaluable since.

Yours, &c., J. B. HOWARD.

Its sale is increasing, and if it were not an excellent Cough Medicine, this would not be the case. We have on file many other valuable certificates, which will show at once its value. Sold at Thirty-five cents per bottle, all over the State.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES!

SEWING MACHINE FINDINGS.—Silk, Cotton Thread, Needles, Oil, Springs, Screws, &c., and for the supply of any make of Sewing Machines to those who desire to purchase, rent or exchange.

Machine Poetry.

I sing "The Singer," the best in the land,
The pride of all households—useful and grand,
'Tis the friend of the poor man, and sought by the Rich,
Because it relieves them of many a stitch.

I sing of "The Singer," in beauty and grace
It bears off the palm, and holds the first place;
It is simple in movement, unerring though swift,
And what is essential, it is easy to lift.

It does hemming and braiding, will cord, tuck and Bind.
In fact it does all things, to suit every mind.
You can work in the finest of fabrics with ease,
And then on materials as course as you please,

If the proof of the pudding, in eating consists,
Then give me a trial, examine my lists,
I ask but the trial, I know the result,
You'll never again, other agent consult.

There are other machines, very good it is true,
That advertise freely, saying what they will do,
We do not dispute they will do what they say,
But we hold that THE SINGER is better than they.

The following is a partial list of persons in Bridgeton, and vicinity, who have recently perchased Singers Sewing Machine from this Agency:

GOOD NEWS!

NEW GOODS

AND

MORE OF THEM!

The Fall campaign having now fully commenced for selling

CLOTHING CHEAP,

and having made our selections from some of the choicest Goods that the Philadelphia markets afford we are now ready to offer them to our trade at a very LOW FIGURE.

Our Cloths and Cassimers are very good, and we have good workmen that can make them up RIGHT. Our stock of

Furnishing Goods

is also very large, and consists of Fine Shirts, Under Shirts, Drawers, Collars, Neck Ties, Stockings, Gloves, Suspenders, Fancy Overshirts, White and Dark Undershirts, Knit Jackets, Double and single; Light and Brown Collars, and a line of Furnishing Goods that will suit the people generally. Our stock of

Ready-Made Clothing

is also very good, and mostly of our own Manufacture, and we will sell them very cheap, as we do not intend to be undersold this Fall, either by Jew or Gentile, so come along with your greenbacks, and get the worth of your money at the old established stand of formerly D. B. & J. W. Thompson, where the people say you can buy goods honest and right.

The Little Giant Combined, Self Rake Reaper and Jointed Bar Mower, is Warranted

To mow as well as any mower, and to reap as well as any Self Rake Reaper. The height of cut, both in mowing and reaping, can be changed while the machine is in motion. It will do as much work, is as strong and as durable as the heavy and high priced machines, and is but one-half the draft for the team. As mower, it weighs about 540 pounds, and cuts 4½ feet wide. As Reaper, it cuts as ordered, either 5 feet wide, weighing about 700 pounds, or 6 feet wide, weighing about 820 pounds. Send for circular with full description.

GRAHAM, EMLEN & PASSMORE,
Seed and Agricultural Warehouse, 627 Market Street, Philada.

The Union Mower with Reaper attached.

We wish to call the attention of farmers preferring a two wheeled Mower and Reaper to this machine, as we believe it will meet their wants better than others of its class. The Reaping Attachment is that known as the Seiberling Dropper, which is fast proving itself the only practical self-delivery Reaper for a two wheeled machine.

Facts for the People!

FOR BARGAINS IN CLOTHING,

ALL SHOULD GO TO

C. C. GROSSCUP & CO'S,

where you will find the largest and best assorted stock of goods in West Jersey; and the large business done by us enables us to sell at less than ordinary prices. Speaking of the large amount of business, we will not merely ask the public to take our word for this, as by consulting the Revenue Assessor's books all may know that our firm pays by far the largest manufacturers' tax of any Clothing house in this State south of Trenton. In fact, some months our returns are more than all other Clothing establishments in Bridgeton and Salem combined.

This is no blowing, but facts which any one who wishes can prove by examining the records referred to. So the fact so well understood that this establishment turns out the

BEST AND CHEAPEST GOODS

in West Jersey, need remain no longer a mystery to the public, as the above facts will be sufficient to prove to all that the large amount of business done really enables us to defy all competition. Remember the place is
