FURNITURE! FURNITURE!!
H. F. HOOVER respectfully informs his friends, and the public generally of West and South Jersey, in want of FURNITURE, that they will find it greatly to their advantage to purchase at his Warehouse, where they will find a large stock of the modern styles to select from.
The subscriber begs to say that his facilities for manufacturing, and buying his materials for cash—having no apprentices, but employing the best workmen—enables him to offer great inducements to those in want of really good Furniture at low prices, as he much prefers the "nimble sixpence" to the "slow shilling."
All goods bought at his Warehouse will be warranted and if intended for the country, will be packed with care and dispatched.

INTRODUCED INTO AMERICA
FROM GERMANY, in 1815.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
and
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
The greatest known remedies for
Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS of the SKIN,
and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.
Read the following symptoms, and if you find that your system is affected by any of them, you may rest assured that disease has commenced its attack on the most important organs of your body, and unless soon checked by the use of powerful remedies, a miserable life, soon terminating in death, will be the result.
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
All these indicate disorder of the Liver or Digestive Organs, and a deficiency of pure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters
is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters; hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic
is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with pure Santa Cruz Rum, Orange Peel, &c. It is for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is beyond compare the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, refreshing, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be looked on as the greatest of all tonics.

CONSUMPTION.
Thousands of cases, which the patient supposed he was afflicted with this terrible disease, have been cured by the use of these remedies. Even consumption, debility, and cough are the usual attendants upon severe digestive organs. Even in cases of genuine consumption these remedies will be found of the greatest benefit, strengthening and invigorating

DEBILITY.
There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.
These Remedies are the best Blood Purifiers
ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood.
Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you.

THE COMPLEXION.
Ladies who wish a fair skin and good complexion, free from a yellowish tinge and all other disfigurement, should use these remedies occasionally. The Liver in perfect order, and the blood pure, will result in sparkling eyes and blooming cheeks.

CAUTION.
Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Thousands of letters have been received, testifying to the virtue of these remedies.

READ THE RECOMMENDATIONS.
FROM HON. GEO W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, MARCH 16th, 1867.
I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 28th, 1866.
I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

From REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D.D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

Price of the Bitters, $1.00 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $5.00.
Price of the Tonic, $1.50 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $7.50.
The Tonic is put up in quart bottles.
Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take any thing else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the

WHEN MY SHIP COMES IN.

I've a precious little daughter,
And her name is Adelaide;
No bright jewels yet I've bought her,
Though her nut-brown hair's in braid;
And as often as she plagues me
For a bracelet or a pin,
I console her with the promise,
"When my ship comes sailing in."

Oh, this dreaming little daughter!
In bright visions of the night,
Strings of fairest pearls and bracelets
Still appear before her sight;
And before the morning kisses
Or the morning prayers begin,
Up she runs to ask her father
When the ship is coming in.

"Oh, dear mother, let me tell you
What a pleasant dream I've had—
Up the straits, came father's vessel,
And you both appeared so glad;
All the bells in town were ringing,
And away above the din
I could read on floating banner—
'Joy! The ship is coming in!'"

Yes, my trusting little daughter—
Oh, my winsome Adelaide,
When I cross the troubled water,
And my last, last debt is paid—
When sad faces crowd around me,
And with locks all white and thin
I am laid within my coffin,
Then my ship is coming in.

Of her freight of tears and sorrow
None will be for me to share—
Mine have been all wept and suffered
Through long years of grief and care;
Yours will be the cross, my darling,
While the crown alone I win—
Yours will be the tears and anguish,
When my ship is coming in.

For my Great Redeemer liveth!
He who stilled the raging seas,
Steers the ship that's coming for me,
And controls the flowing breeze.
He who bore the Cross, my Addie,
To redeem us from our sin,
Always smiles to find us ready
When the ship is coming in.

To my ear this summer evening,
Sitting here before the door,
Heavy anchor-chains are rattling
As she nears the long-sought shore;
I can hear the loose sails flapping,
And the sailors' merry din;
And I see the Captain smiling
As my ship is coming in!

GENTLE FUN.—In Wisconsin there is a town called Oshkosh. It is regarded by the people of that section as a "great place for fun." And if we admit that the local definition of "fun" be correct, its repute is not undeserved. It chanced recently that a minister from another part of the State started to go to Oshkosh.—He had gone a few miles on his journey, when he was shocked by meeting a man limping along, with the blood streaming down on one side of his face. On being questioned, the man said he had been to Oshkosh, "having a little fun with the boys." Two miles further on, another man was met, with his arm in a sling, a bunged eye, and torn clothing. He told the distance to Oshkosh, said it was a live town and that he had been up there "having a little fun with the boys."

Pondering on these facts, the minister proceeded pensively until he came to a man seated by the side of the road with a sprained arm and only one ear. He was washing the locality whence the other had been bitten off. The minister stopped and expressed his sympathy.—The man said it was nothing; he had merely been up to Oshkosh having a little fun with the boys. "But" said the minister severely, "what do you suppose your wife will say when she sees you in this state?" The man smiled a sardonic smile, and putting his hand in his pocket, brought forth a piece of nose, a section of scalp, with hair attached, and a piece of cheek bitten from his antagonist's face, and holding them up to the misister said, "What do you suppose his wife will say when she sees him?" The minister silently went his way a sadder and sager man.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

THE PREACHER'S PARROT.—In a certain neighborhood there lived a very pious old preacher, who prided himself on the possession of a pet poll-parrot.—Some of the mischievious boys of the place had taught the parrot to swear, much to the chagrin of the old gentleman. On entering the house one day, he was much grieved to hear his pet swearing with a will at the old cat. This was more than he could stand, and to punish her he took the blasphemous bird from her perch, and repeatedly plunged her into a tub of water that was standing near. When Poll was released from her master's grasp, she crawled under the stove to dry her feathers. Shortly after, a female servant found a chicken nearly drowned in the slop-bucket, and put it under the stove to dry also. The parrot quietly surveyed the new comer for a moment, and then comically turning up one eye, sagely chatted the following words as plainly as she could: "You have been saying damn, too, have you?" The preacher was so pleased by the quaintness of Poll's remark, that he never afterwards punished her for swearing.

DONE ENOUGH FOR HIS COUNTRY.—A revolutionary soldier was running for Congress, and his opponent was a young man who had "never been in the wars," and it was the custom of the old soldier to tell of hardships he had endured.—Said he, "Fellow citizens, I have helped to whip the British and the Indians. I have walked over the frozen ground till every footstep was marked with blood.—Just about this time one of the "soverings" who had become greatly interested in his tale of sufferings, walked up in front of the speaker, wiped the tears from his eyes with the extremity of his coat-tail, and interrupted him with:

"Did you say you fout the British and Ingins?"

"Yes sir,"

"Did you say your feet covered the ground you walked over with blood?"

"Yes," replied the speaker.

"Well then," replied the tearful citizen, as he gave a sigh of pent-up emotion, "I guess I'll vote for t'other fellow, for I'll be darned if you hain't done enough for your country."

CLERKS AND APPRENTICES.

BY JAMES PARTON.

Sixteen years of age! What shall I be? what shall I do? how shall I make the most of this one life which I have to live in the world?

Here we are, with the huge continent of America to subdue, people, civilize and render accessible. What a piece of work lies before the next two generations of American citizens! Three or four railroads across the Continent—a system of ship canals between the Far West and the Atlantic Ocean—the Isthmus of Darien to be pierced—the national debt discharged—the Government purified and simplified—Canada, Cuba and Mexico not conquered, not absorbed, not even annexed, perhaps, yet united to us by the unrestricted interchange of products and services—our cities reorganized and rebuilt, and the blessings of civilization far more equally diffused than has ever yet been contemplated! These are but a few items in the great task of preparing the Continent of America to play that leading and controlling part in the affairs of mankind for which Nature has fitted it.

Sixteen years of age! How shall I prepare myself to do a man's part in this great work; and, by so doing, procure for myself a fair share of safe and rational happiness?

If you go to the West, and talk with the leading men in Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco, and ask them what kind of men they want in the western country, they will all make you the same answer:

"We want men out here," they say, "who know how to do something or make something. Of buyers and sellers we have a superfluity; and of professional men, such as they are, there is no lack. We want men who can start a factory and work in one. We want men who really know how to cultivate the land. Send us doers and makers, as many as you please; if they are really competent, we stand ready to give them a start."

Such language as this I have repeatedly heard in the western country, and any one who goes there can see for himself what a field there is for men who know how to take hold of work and do it.—You can also see for yourself that the strong, rooted men of the West, as of the East, are men who in their youth learned that subtle, incommunicable wisdom which comes of doing homely work with their own hands and mind, patiently and well. One of the most thriving establishments in Chicago is a wagon factory, founded twenty years ago by a poor mechanic, whose entire capital at starting just sufficed to enable him to complete [illegible] good strong wagon; it gave great satisfaction to the man who bought it; it brought in plenty of new orders to the maker, and the factory is now turning out from five to seven hundred wagons a week.

I remember visiting, in Cincinnati, a large manufactory of bolts and nuts, in which two hundred men were employed. This establishment was one of five in different cities, owned by the same company, and managed by its chief. Great indeed was my astonishment, on being introduced to this captain of industry, to find him a brisk and smiling young gentleman of thirty-two. I thought it must be a mistake. I supposed he was the son of "the old man." But no; he was the veritable founder, chief owner and manager of five extensive iron works, and during the war he had worked a contract for supplying an army with biscuit.—This youngster of thirty-two had done these things! and with the generosity natural to youth, he was in the habit of giving away $25,000 a year to the benevolent operations of the city. This young fellow had been inured to work and to responsibility from his boyhood, and he carried on these large enterprises with an ease and gayety wonderful to witness.

Few persons have looked into the lives of so many remarkable men as I have, yet I cannot call to mind one of the acknowledged kings of business who did not in early life serve a long, rigorous apprenticeship to some occupation akin to that which he afterwards exercised, and in which his great success was made.

Vanderbilt, for example, was a boatman, sloop captain, and steamboat captain, for nineteen years before he set up for himself in the business of building and running steamboats, in which he gained more money than was ever before gained in a single life-time, except by plunder. There is not to-day in the whole world a man who knows as much about steamboats and steamships as this same Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Astor is another illustration. He learned the fur business from the very rudiments. He used to beat furs from morning till night in his master's back shop, and after doing this awhile, he used to take a basket of trinkets and nick-nacks, and go round among the sloops and markets, driving hard bargains with boatmen, Indians and marketmen for such skins as they had brought to town. By-and-by he shouldered his pack and tramped the country for peltries; and, extending his journey, at length he became familiar with every place, every tribe, and every person connected with the fur trade in North America. Then he went to Europe, and learned all about the market for furs and their prices in every part of the world. Few men have ever understood a thing so well as Mr. Astor understood the business of collecting, curing and selling furs. He knew it, not as a clerk might have known it; he knew it as a man knows the trade to which he has served a long apprenticeship under a watchful and exacting master.

Another case in point was the first Rothschild, who, from his twelfth to his twenty-seventh year, laboriously acquired a knowledge of money, first as errand-boy and money-counter to his father, and afterwards as banker's clerk.

Girard, too, was a thorough sailor before he ever owned a ship, and was personally familiar with most of the commercial ports long before he ever consigned a cargo to one of them.

There is my valued friend, John Gorham, of Providence, the head of the largest manufactory of silver ware in the world. He did not go into his father's counting-room as a clerk, but into his father's shop as an apprentice; and he learned how to do with his own hands whatever he has since had to direct others in doing.

But such examples are numberless.—All my acquaintance with business men teaches me that the fundamental secret of success in business is KNOWLEDGE—real knowledge—such knowledge as is only acquired by becoming practically familiar with methods and processes—such knowledge, in fact, as a man gets by taking hold of work, and doing it until he can do it easily and perfectly.

There is a noble establishment in Broadway, where many of us go, occasionally, for the rehabilitation of our outer man. It was in the grand upper room of this palace-like store, while I was being measured for a coat, that I conceived the idea of writing this article.—In well-conducted establishments of every kind you will notice the same faces year after year; for able men naturally gather able men around them, and employers and employed, by reciprocal justice and courtesy, become attached to one another and have neither motive nor desire to sever the connection. And yet, on that occasion, seeing around me the same skillful and obliging persons that I had seen there ten years before, I could not but reflect how little chance they had to advance from clerkship to mastership.

"Suppose," though I, "a lad of sixteen or seventeen should propose to himself, as an object in life, to become the proprietor of an establishment like this—what would be the shortest and likeliest path for him to strike into?"

OUR NATIONAL FINANCES.

In the almost inextricable tangle of the money basis of this country, it is difficult, if not impossible for the ordinary citizen to understand with clearness anything about them. A large number of greenbacks meet the eye of the populace, an equally large number of highly ornamented notes of national banks float into the hands of such as are sufficiently well off to have either labor or property to exchange for them, occasionally a United States bond is displayed before the wond ering vision, some strange looking certificates of indebtedness once in a while are dubiously accepted as a representative of value; and this is about all that the general public either see or understand of the money basis of the nation. There are round statements that the national indebtedness is $2,500,000,000, but in what shapes it lies, or to whom it is owing or when it must be paid, are matters of which there is not by any means a complete knowledge among the people. Nearly all that is generally known is that coin has disappeared from general circulation, and is only seen in the windows of bankers in the cities where it is kept for sale the same as any other article of commerce, and that far higher prices are paid for labor and received for goods than were necessary when silver and gold circulated as the standards by which the value of either labor or products were measured. To look at this matter intelligently it is necessary to understand exactly the different forms in which this vast amount of bonds and currency assume. In presenting this the greenback currency comes naturally first upon the list. This paper was first issued during the stress for money caused by the pressure of the war and which the banks were unable to supply, and now amounts to $387,871,477. A law was passed by Congress to reduce this at the rate of $4,000,000 a month, and which for a brief period was put in operation, but the moneyed men of the nation clamored strongly against it and it was repealed, so for many months past the amount of currency of this character has remained without change. As there is no probable pathway to specie payments and lower prices but the reduction of this currency, it is probable that before long the contracting policy will be introduced again, and carried as far as the safety of the country's financial interests will allow. There is as we stated about the same amount of national bank notes in circulation, but as they are based upon the bonds of national indebtedness they do not make any increase of the debt, although they double the volume of notes which are used to transact the business of the nation.

The next item of the indebtedness, is bonds bearing six per cent. interest, due in 1881, to the amount of $283,676,600. These are called the long bonds, and command the best prices in the market, proving that there is no doubt in the minds of the people, as to the ultimate redemption of the debt, because if this were not true, the longer the paper had to run, the less would be its value. The next class is of bonds bearing six per cent., to the extent of $1,267,898,100. This enormous amount is redeemable at the pleasure of the Government almost immediately, or the payment can be deferred until 1882, and a part of them run a year or two beyond this date. These are what are called the 5-20 bonds, and constitute the principal part of the debt, about which the sages of the election quarrel, as to whether they shall or shall not be redeemed in greenbacks or gold. Following this is $334,607,700 of notes bearing seven and three-tenths interest, which can either be redeemed in the greenback currency, or exchanged for these bonds of which we last spoke, at the option of the holder. Then come $171,823,350 of bonds having interest at five per cent, and which can be run without payment until after 1874. These are what have been known as the 10-40 bonds. There are also $20,000,000 of the same class of bonds which fall due during that year. Besides this there are $7,022,000 of the same class due in 1871.

In addition to this, there are $74,118,940 of compound interest notes, or notes upon which the interest is compounded and added to its value until it is redeemed, and certificates of indebtedness, which bear but three per cent. of interest. There is also the navy pension fund of $13,000,000, which is to be added to this enormous schedule, and also $18,042,000 of Pacific Railroad bonds, bearing six per cent. interest, which have been issued by the government in aid of that enterprise. These figures added together, make up the staggering burden, which now rests upon the shoulders of the nation as its debt. There is a deduction to be made from this of $86,555,717, on account of spare cash in the national treasury, but still the whole sum foots up about the aggregate we first gave of $2,500,000,000. It is not supposed, of course, that the nation will be able to redeem many of its bonds as they become due, or that it is desirable that they should, for except the redemption be managed with the utmost care, the change in the money value of things would be so great, as to send us into universal bankruptcy. The true plan, we think to be, to steadily and gradually contrast the currency, as we began to do a while ago, stopping the contraction when the country begins to feel it, and only resuming it when the national industries are able to bear it. Certain it is, that no plan of either reduction of the currency, or payment of the principle, except one so gradual as to be almost insensible, can be successful in bringing us to a solid standard again, without the bankruptcy of almost our entire trade and commerce. The proposition to pay off the bonds as they mature, in greenbacks, which greenbacks would, in that case, be nearly as worthless as Confederate notes, we regard as simply silly. There is something in it to catch the applause of the unreflecting, but it is easy to see that if over $1,000,000,000 of greenbacks were thrown upon the country as currency, now that the necessary result would be to make them worth but about one quarter of their present value. This loss would fall, of course, upon the masses, among whom the bills were held, and would produce a distress which no amount of legislative skill could possibly avert, and which, we think, would naturally cause an uprising of an indignant people, in the form of riots for bread. Besides this, we do not think that the foreign holders of our bonds would submit to this. It is true that they bought the bonds at depreciated prices, but then our credit was depreciated at the time, and credit, like any other marketable thing, commands a price regulated by the demand. We had to sell it to whoever would buy, at such prices as we could get, and we cannot go back upon our bargain. We accepted such sums as the credit was worth at the time, for our bonds, and the bonds stand legitimately as pledges for the money represented by their faces. Two thirds of all these bonds are held by residents of foreign countries, and what they may be willing to agree to in a matter of this kind, is a matter whose discussion cannot be avoided. It may be said that they will be compelled to take the kind of money that we see proper to use in payment, but on the other hand it may also be said that our greenbacks are not money, but only another kind of note, not worth nearly so much as the bonds themselves.

The bonds call for a payment in money, and nothing but coin is money in the world's standard of value. We might as well say that Russia could pay us in the brown paper notes which circulate among her own citizens, as to say that we can pay Europe in similar notes of our own. If it be said that as they bought the bonds cheaply they can afford to take depriciated paper in payment in place of gold, it still must be answered that the claims upon France held by our citizens were bought for a song, and yet we compelled the French government to pay them dollar for dollar in gold, and our claims upon Mexico were about of the same character and settled in the same manner. If we attempted to force the payments of bonds in greenbacks the citizens of other countries who hold them would say to their respective governments, the United States owes us so much money and refuses to pay us. Upon the same principle that we have compelled other nations to pay our citizens the debts they owed to them, those nations would compel us to pay their citizens what was due from us, and if we refused there would only be the alternative that we presented to the nations we have named, which alternative was war. If we attempted to discriminate and simply force our own citizens to take the greenbacks in payment, then these citizens would simply send them across the water for sale, when they would return to us and demand the gold, so that we think the proposed redemption of the bonds in anything else than gold to be simply an idle dream thrown before the public for the accomplishment of political ends. When the bonds mature so far as the nation can command the means they will be redeemed in money, and the rest will simply be exchanged for new bonds at the lowest rates of interest for which they can be sold. On the whole we have reason to be thankful that our finances have been managed as wisely as they have, and that the people have passed so far through a financial struggle which would have ensured the bankruptcy of almost any other nation. It is not likely that we will soon see the era of gold again, but still under the present management of debt and currency there has been but little actual suffering, and we trust that so it may be to the end of this terrible chapter in the financial history of the United States. It is a monstrous tax upon our industry to pay such vast amounts of interest, but still it is better to do this and go steadily on toward an ultimate payment of the debt, than to attempt the payment of it now in any form whatever when that payment would of necessity entail distress upon us which the nation is certainly unable to bear.

Methodist General Conference.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, has, within a few days past closed its session. This body assembles but once in four years, and in accordance with the spirit of all the other Conferences of that church, examines critically into the condition of all the machinery by which its enterprises are moved. It is not always that this body makes any serious change in the manner of the church working; but whether any change is made or not, each part of its system is subjected to the severest scrutiny. If, as the result of that scrutiny, the state of the society or the advance, demands either different or added forms of working, those forms are inaugurated, and made the basis for the church's labor in the next quadrenial. Very few changes have been made this last convention. Most of the old editors and secretaries have been re-elected, and the church discipline, except unimportant changes of language, left as it was. The doctrines of the church were of course left untouched, for even this highest body in the church has no power to change them. The main questions before the conference, were the status of the conferences in the Southern States, as well as the mission conferences in other lands, and the position to be taken in reference to Lay Delegation. In reference to the first, the vote of the conference was that all the the conferences should stand upon the same level, and that hence forth there should be no distinction in the church of God in this matter.

The Lay Delegation question was a most embarrassing one. The ministers were not personally hostile to the movement; but as the church, by a vote of two-thirds majority, had before pronounced against the measure, it was held that the clergy had no right to force a form of government upon the church, to which their dissent had already been expressed. In addition to this fact, the petitions which were presented in its favor numbered but twenty-five thousand; and this, in a membership of a million, was no very large number. Added to this, was the fact that numbers of leading laymen in the church sent remonstrances against the measure, and it will easily be seen that the conference had no easy work before them in the solving of the problem.—Finally, however, the old position was reassumed, and in the coming year the whole question is again to be referred to the vote of the membership, including, this time, the females as well as the males. If this vote favors it, it is to go into operation at once; and if adverse, it is to settle the matter at least for eight years to come. Its advocates desire it on the ground that it will conform the church more to the institutions of the country; and its opposers insist that its adoption will lessen the efficiency of the church in its attempt to convert the world. The new discipline will be issued in a few weeks, in which the results of the conference will be made apparent, and to that we refer any of our readers who desire more fully to investigate its doings.

M. E. Church at Pittstown.

The corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal Church at Pittstown, now in process of erection, is to be laid on Thursday afternoon of June 18th at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Jackson, of Philadelphia, one of the most celebrated speakers of that city, Rev. J. W. Hickman, of Camden, formerly of this city, whose abilities are too well known to need comment here, and the Presiding Elder, Rev. Mr. Ballard, are to be present and deliver addresses upon the occasion. This enterprise is one which has long been needed in that town, but circumstances have heretofore delayed it until last winter under the persistent energy of Rev. Mr. Hiesly, the pastor, the matter was fairly brought before the people and met with so favorable a response that he was encouraged to persevere and with the co-operation of the leading men of the community the matter has been pressed forward until its success is now beyond a doubt, and our friends in that town may look forward to the speedy consummation of a public good which they have for so long a time desired. The services are to be succeeded by a supper and festival which latter will continue over the next day and possibly the succeeding one also. From the supper and festival the ladies look for considerable aid in furtherance of their object, and it is our sincere wish that their fullest anticipations may be more than met.

☞ The attention of our readers is directed to the card of Edwin Nelson, importer of china, glass and queensware, No. 319 North Second street, Philadelphia. This is one of the oldest and best establishments in the city, and those who purchase there will be sure to get the worth of their money. Mr. Nelson has a thorough knowledge of the trade; is a very pleasant gentleman to deal with and sells as cheap as the cheapest.

FESTIVALS.

The season of the festivals may now be said fairly to have commenced with the advent of the strawberries. The ladies of the Second Presbyterian church gave one in Grossoup's hall, on Tuesday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the church. On Saturday, June 18th, there will be one in the chapel of the Presbyterian church at Fairton. The ladies of the Pearl Street Baptist church have arranged one for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings, June 15th, 16th, and 17th. The proceeds to be applied to the benefit of their new and beautiful church.—On the 17th and 18th of June there will be one held in the old Presbyterian church, the avails to go as an offering to the erection of a new chapel for Sabbath school purposes, in connection with the contemplated new Presbyterian church in the third ward. We have no doubt but that all these will be well attended and that the spare cash of the people will largely find its destination in assisting the various enterprises which the ladies of our city and vicinity are planning for the public good.—This is a far better mode of utilising pleasure than the old forms of simply spending money without a thought or care as to what use is made of the proceeds. Indeed the idea of pleasure was formerly understood to be dancing, drinking and similar practices, but of later days a large part of the pleasure seeking is done in connection with these festivals, in which dissipation is avoided and the indulgence in pleasure is not only made to contribute to the success of moral and religious institutions, but by the very associations into which the people are thrown, an interest is awakened in those very institutions themselves. So we wish the heartiest success to all these various festivals, and trust that they will realize all the pecuniary benefits which their fair originators propose. Our Shiloh and Bowentown friends will no doubt with others be on hand before the season is over, with their festivals which always attract so much interest and give such general satisfaction.

Since the above was written we have received notice that the ladies of the new M. E. Church, at Deerfield intend holding a festival in the hall of that place, on the 17th and 18th inst. Their advertisement will be found in another column.

The ladies of the M. E. Church, of Fairton, also announce that they will hold a festival in that place, on Saturday, the 20th inst. This will no doubt be one of the best of the festivals, and abundantly supplied with all the delicacies of the season.

THE FIRST OFFERING

The children of the West Presbyterian Sunday School, desiring to express their love for it by contributing something toward the erection of their new chapel about to be built, will hold a Floral and Strawberry Festival in the old Presbyterian church, on the 17th and 18th of this month, both in the afternoon and evening. The walks will be lighted and the church beautifully decorated for the occasion. An abundance of Ice Cream, strawberries, and cakes of the favorite varieties will be provided. All will be welcome guests at the Festival, which is intended to be, what its name imports, an occasion of harmless gayety for children, and of pleasant social intercourse for those of larger growth. We refer our readers to the advertisement in another column.

THE WEATHER.

The long rainy Spring has at last been succeeded by the most delicious weather that it is possible to imagine. The most of the time it has been sweetly cool, and yet sufficiently warm to promote a vigorous vegetation — Wheat and grass scarcely ever looked better, the blades of the one and spears of the other present a fresh greenness and strength that give indications of a most excellent crop, and if no unexpected changes in the season occurs we may now look for a luxurious harvest both of the grass and cereal, still there is the usual amount of complaining. The owners of the crops are beginning to fear that in consequence of the large supply that prices will be very much lower, which we most devoutly hope may be the case, for then the farmers will get at least the same amount of money and the people a great deal more of bread. The strawberry growers are complaining also as they say the wet season has given so large a crop all at once that the prices which they have usually received at the beginning of the season are not now given, and therefore a portion of their expected profits are not forth-coming; while this is true, it is also true that they come in much larger quantities than usual, and so the money received is about the same, and the less wealthy part of our people can have the berries at the same time with their affluent neighbors. It seems impossible for the weather to please everybody, and if just what kind of weather we would have were left to the unanimous consent of the people we would likely have no kind of weather at all.

It is said of an eminent preacher that at one time his congregation faulted him because he did not pray for such weather as they wanted. He called them together to discuss the matter, and told them that as soon as they could all agree as to what they wanted he would agree to pray persistently for that particular kind. Then commenced a discussion as full of opposing views as that usually accompanying the construction of a party platform, some wanting immediate rain, some wanting rain after a few days, some wanting a good old fast wind storm, and some only light showers, while others wanted no rain at all. The result of the whole matter was that no agreement was reached, and as the minister declined to pray until there was a unanimity, the whole matter fell back upon the wisdom of the Creator, where, in all but exceptional cases, we think our farmers would do well to leave it, accepting thankfully the good results that come and bearing the disasters in the spirit of a trust in Providence which believes that all things together are working for the best good of all.

A. W. MARKLEY.

Some of the Democratic journals are placing prominently forward the name of Mr. Markley as their choice for the gubernatorial candidate of that party. Certainly it could select no man whose executive abilities are of a higher order than his, or who possesses a more strong and well balanced mind. He is also a self-made man, knowing how to reach the hearts of the people because he is one of them, and there is something in this fact which if any party in the past has ignored has sent it speedily under. He possesses eminently the organizing ability, and no party can afford to pass that by in their choice of a man to lead their campaign. Should he be the choice of the convention and the Democrats succeed in retaining their triumphal position in this state, Mr. Markley will make a governor under whom the interests of New Jersey will advance as rapidly as under any man whom that party might select.

The State Convention.

In another column will be found the call of the Executive Committee for the Gubernatorial Convention of this State. The 9th of July has been fixed upon, instead of the 19th of June, as originally intended by the Committee. "It was thought best to select a later day, in order to afford ample opportunity for perfecting the preliminary organization of the party."

The statement of the public debt on the 1st of June shows the total to be $2,643,758,566, with a total in the Treasury of $188,507,679.—An increase in the debt since May 1 of $9,717,050 is thus disclosed.

For The West Jersey Pioneer.

MR. EDITOR:—The semi-annual meeting of the Cumberland Co. Sunday School Association, was held at Port Elizabeth, on Thursday May 28th, 1868. Morning Session :—R. Andrews, of Vineland, in the chair—opened with singing by the children—reading the 22nd chapter of Proverbs, by Elder W. I. Gillett, of Shiloh—Prayer by Rev. M. Beadle, of Bridgeton, and singing again by the children.

Rev. R. J. Andrews said:—The great subject that now attracts the church of Christ, is, what shall we do with the children? hence the interest that is being manifested in the Sunday School cause everywhere. We must have faith in the word of God. We must have the faith that comes from investigation. We must have the faith that comes from experience in order to be successful Sabbath School Teachers. We must have faith in the means that bring conversion to the children. The light-house must be surmounted with a lantern, and the lantern must be kept trimmed and burning. What induces the young men and ladies to forego the pleasures of walking the streets or fields, and spend the hour in the Sabbath School? Love for the children. What induces the man of business to leave his comfortable parlor, or the society of his friends, and engage in teaching a class in the Sabbath School? Love for the children—The reward of the Sabbath School teacher. His name to be written on the memories of the children, to remain forever. He helps to bring the world to its moral position. He exerts a mighty influence. It is a reward to see the child go forth into the world, and become useful in his day and generation. He shall have his reward. In the former times we gave our sons to the devil and our daughters to the world, but we have learned a better way, educate them; train them in the way they should go. Napoleon said, give me the children for twelve years, and I'll take care of the nation.

Suppose all of the children in this county should be converted, what would become of the county. Drinking, swearing, Sabbath-breaking and stealing would be banished—The Sabbath School is the grand army, and the teachers are the captains, marching to conquer the world.

At the close of Mr. Andrews' able and practical address, the children sang, and the Association engaged in short devotional exercises. Singing by the children and prayers by Rev. A. K. Street and G. H. Tullis. The Association then proceeded to the discussion of the subject—The aim of the Sabbath School, and the best means of attaining it.

Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Greenwich said: —The definite, permanent aim is the conversion of the children. How shall it be done? The Bible first, the Bible all the way through, not by the reading of many of the books that now fill our Sabbath School libraries. The Bible must be studied, not merely read. The way to teach the Bible is not by dry talking or explanation, but by illustration. This is what we call object teaching. Again prayer, not general, but special.

Rev. A. K. Street said:—We are all on one side, I don't see how there can be any discussion, but I don't like his thrust at the books. My children read those books, and I like to read them myself. I thank God that we have such writers.

Rev. G. H. Tullis said:—I said Amen to what Brother Stewart said about the books, and I have no disposition to take back what I said. It creates a taste for fictitious reading. There is a great deal of reading for a little religion. I think you might squeeze some of those books pretty hard, and not get a drop of religion.

Rev. Mr. Tyler said:—We must discriminate between works of fiction. Pilgrim's Progress is a work of fiction, and we must throw that aside if we throw them all aside.

Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Greenwich, George Gandy, of Fairfield, and J. C Bowen, of Shiloh, were appointed a committee on place of holding annual meeting in Sept.

Adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Rev. R. J. Andrews in the chair—opened with singing—prayer by Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Greenwich. Address to the children by J. B. Scott, of Millville—The name:—A name will make a person rich. Did you ever read the story of the forty thieves. I presume you do not have the book in this library. (Tells the story.) If there was such a cave near, and you could get in by using a single name, you would soon be there, shouting the name.—There never was such a cave, or such a circumstance. There is a name that will make you rich. Whenever you ask the Father in my name, that will give to you. A little German boy wants to go to school, but is not able, writes a letter and addresses it to Jesus Christ in Heaven, and gets it to the post-office. When the post-master makes up the mail, he finds the letter, but can not send it, as there is no mail to that place. The postmaster gives it to the minister, who reads it to his congregation. A lady listens, becomes interested, sends for the boy, is pleased with him, and concludes to send him to school.—The name gives him wealth. Wealth that makes us happy. That name is above all other names.

Rev. R. J. Andrews said:—The children have been treating us to singing, perhaps they would like to hear some one sing. I will introduce to you Rev. Mr. Tullis. Train up a child in the way he should go. I knew a little boy who wanted to go forward at a protracted meeting, but his mother would not permit him. He urges and pleads, but she still refuses. The boy dies without Christ, and the words, "mother, can't I go?" must ring unpleasantly in that mother's mind.—After talking to the children, Mr. Tullis sings for them.

Rev. A. K. Street said :—I was going to talk to you about rum. Wine is a mocker, and this is my text, my subject, my motto. After listening to Mr Scott's address about the name, I feel as if my subject is too great a contrast, and I wish I could proceed in the same train of thought. We have got some rough work to do, and we want you to help us. I'll give you a pledge:

We do pledge perpetual hate
To all that can intoxicate.

Rev. W. B. Gillett said:—The first speaker used up all there was to say, and it seemed to me the second gleaned among the stubble, and the third talked to you about temperance, and now what shall I talk to you about.—Love your parents. It seems to me that some persons do not like to let their love be known. Love God; there is every reason why you should love God.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved Report of Committee on place for holding next meeting: That an Institute be held in Cedarville the third Wednesday of September, and continue two days. Committee of arrangement, Rev. W. E. Jones, Rev. Mr. Dobbins, Dr. R. M. Bateman, and J. C. Bowen. Adjourned with prayer by Rev. Mr. McNeal, of Bridgeton.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

TRENTON, June 10.—The Democratic State Convention for the selection of delegates to the National Convention in New York, assembled here to-day. Delegates commenced to pour in yesterday afternoon, and to-day there is a very large attendance.

Among the prominent men of the party present are Ex-Governor Joel Parker, Hon. Wm. G Alexander, of New York, Ex-Governor Price, of Hudson county, Senator Robbins, of Middlesex, General Runyon, of Newark, and others. Gov. Parker was on the ground early, and with his friends has been hard at work to secure delegates in his interest.

The Convention met at Taylor Hall at twelve o'clock, and was temporarily organised by the selection of Hon Samuel J Bayard, of Gloucester, as chairman, and C. G. Hudnut, of Mercer, T. Haight, of Monmouth, and J. W. Fouratt, of Essex, as secretaries. Committees on Rules, Resolutions and Permanent Organization were then appointed.

The convention then took a recess until two o'clock.

Isaac M. Smalley, of Cumberland Co., and Dr. Samuel Sille, of Atlantic Co., were elected delegates from the First Congressional District.

Democratic Gubernatorial Convention.

Trenton, June 10.—The Democratic State Central Committee has agreed to call the State Convention to nominate a Governor on the 22d of July.

What Railroads Do for Farmers.

The following extract from the Agriculturist of this month, should be read by all our farmers and land owners in this region. It shows conclusively the great advantage of a Railroad to an agricultural district. Those who complain that they are not able to subscribe for stock to a Railroad should bear in mind the benefit a road would be to them. They had better sell a portion of their land, and invest the proceeds in Railroad stock, sooner than do without it. [ED. PIONEER

"To haul 40 bushels of corn 50 miles on a wagon would cost at least $12 for team, driver and expenses. A Railroad would transport it for $4 at most. Allowing an average of 40 bushels an acre, the crop would be worth $8 more per acre, or 8 per cent. on $100. As the relative advantage is about the same for other crops, it is clear that a Railroad passing through a town would add $110 per acre to the value of the farms. A town of 10 miles square contains 64,000 acres. An increase of $100 per acre is equal to $6,450,000, or enough to build 200 miles of Railroad, even if it cost $32,000 per mile. But 200 miles of road would extend through twenty towns ten miles square, and cost but $10 per acre if taxed upon the land. These figures are given as an illustration. If the farmers had taxed themselves to build all the Railroads in this country, and given them away to any companies that would stock and run them, the present increased value of their lands would have well repaid all the outlay."

☞ On Sunday the 24th of May, the Rev. Mr. Downing who was officiating in the Methodist Episcopal church, of Westfield, in this state, after reading his hymn and making a prayer, sat down in the pulpit and remained so long that the congregation became alarmed, and going up to the pulpit found that in the short space that had intervened, he had passed away from life. A more impressive sermon could not possibly have been preached than this act of providence, nor can we conceive of any manner in which an earnest minister would prefer leaving this world for the other one. From the pulpit to the throne was no mere form of speech in this remarkable case.

☞ Several prominent Democratic journals are running up the name of Chief Justice Chase for the Democratic Presidential candidate.—Strange world this. In the past Judge Chase has had no stronger opponents than the Democrats, and the Democrats no stronger opponent than the Judge.

FASHIONABLE STATIONERY SENT BY MAIL, POST PAID.—Mr. T. Fletcher Jacobs, Bridgeton, N. J., will send by mail, post-paid, a handsome box of assorted fashionable note paper, with envelopes to match, stamped with any initial desired, to the address of any one remitting to him sixty-five cents. In sending, write the initial desired clear and plain. We have received a box, and are surprised that Mr. Jacobs can give so much for the money. Each box contains more paper than is usually sold for that price, besides which he gives a hansome box, and stamps the paper and envelopes with any initial desired. Send for a box.

☞ During the present session of the Vermont Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Secretary read a letter from an aged minister, who said, among other things, he would rather be a faithful itinerant minister than President of a republic. "So would I, in these times," drily observed Bishop Ames.

RE-UNION.—The General Assemblies of the Old and New School branches of the Presbyterian Church have passed the basis of Re-Union by more than a two-third vote. The question now goes down to the Presbyteries for their approval.

☞ No person can now take the benefit of the bankrupt act unless their assets will pay fifty cents to the dollar. Measures are before Congress, however, looking to an extension of what is known as the "fifty per cent. clause."

WE JUDGE FROM THE IMMENSE SALES THAT MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING (in one bottle) is preferred by every one. Every Druggist sells it. Price One Dollar.

☞ Rev. G. Maddock will preach at the Alms House on Sunday afternoon next at 3 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association at the reading room, Monday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock.—J. F. BROWN, Jr., Secretary.

It is the intrinsic merit alone, of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, that has gained for it great popularity.

☞ Rev. S. B. Jones, D. D., will preach on next Sabbath afernoon, at half-past three, in the Salem Methodist church, Laurel street, Bridgeton.

UNION REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

The Union Republicans of New Jersey are requested to elect delegates to represent them in a State Convention, to be held at TAYLOR HALL, in the city of Trenton, on

THURSDAY, THE 9TH DAY OF JULY, NEXT, at 12 o'clock, M., to nominate a candidate for Governor, also to select Electoral Ticket, to be supported by the friends of the Union standard-bearers, GRANT and COLFAX, at the ensuing election.

Townships and wards will be entitled, as heretofore to one delegate for each one thousand of population, upon the basis of the census of 1865, and to an additional delegate for any fractional excess over five hundred.

FRED. KINGMAN, JOHN Y. FOSTER, BENJ. G. CLARK, F. F. WESTCOTT, JONA. M. ROBERTS, AMOS CLARK, JR., JOSEPH COULT, Executive Committee.

REASONS WHY.

We are enabled to offer superior inducements to purchasers of clothing, to which your attention is respectfully invited.

We have a business experience of more than 25 years having been longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.

We employ sufficient capital to make all purchases for cash, which, together with the fact that our large business enables us to buy in large amounts in first hands, thereby saving all profits of jobbers and middlemen, give us advantages in purchasing at the lowest rates, SHARED BY NO HOUSE IN OUR TRADE.

We sell only for cash and having no losses from bad debts to provide for, the paying customer is not taxed to help pay the debt of another who does not pay, as is inevitably the case in a business where credit is given.

We employ the best talent in all departments, which, with long experience, enable us to manufacture garments SUPERIOR IN EVERY RESPECT—equalled by few—surpassed by none.

We have the largest establishment for the manufacture and sale of clothing in Philadelphia, extending through from 518 Market street to 511 Minor street, occupied exclusively by ourselves, also a branch store at 600 Broadway, New York, and keep at all times of

MENS, YOUTHS' and BOYS' READY-MADE CLOTHING, the largest stock and best assortment in the city, from which any person can be accurately fitted at once, as well, or better, than by garments made to order, our large stock comprising every size of all styles of goods. We have recently added to our previous stock a full assortment of

CHILDREN'S GARIBALDI AND OTHER SUITS, equal to any in the city in style, trimming, and make; which are sold at lower prices than have hitherto been known in Philadelphia. They, with all our Boys' and Youths' goods, are kept on the FIRST FLOOR, NEAREST THE FRONT, convenient for ladies. We have also recently opened on our SECOND FLOOR a CUSTOM DEPARTMENT for the display of a choice selection of Foreign and Domestic Fabrics in the piece, which will be MADE UP TO ORDER, in the best style, by competent and skilful cutters and workmen. The advantage of dealing with a CASH HOUSE will be especially apparent in this department, upon a comparison of prices.

We guarantee our PRICES LOWER THAN THE LOWEST ELSEWHERE and also guarantee FULL SATISFACTION to every purchaser, and request, that should any cause of dissatisfaction exist with a purchase made, it may be reported to us, pledging ourselves, by exchange, refunding of money, or otherwise, to give full satisfaction in every case. (SAMPLES AND PRICES SENT BY MAIL WHEN DESIRED.)

An examination of our stock respectfully requested and your patronage, if the above statement of facts be satisfactorily demonstrated.

MARRIED.

In Bridgeton, May 27th, by the Rev. A. H. Folwell, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr HENRY C. DARE to Miss AMANDA L. FOLWELL.

DIED.

At Halcyesville, April 26th, CATHERINE YATES, aged 61 years.

Over forty years she had been a professor of religion, and a member of the M. E. church. In the death of our sister the church has lost a consistent and worthy member; her husband has lost an affectionate and sympathetic wife and her children have lost a kind and indulgent mother. For six years past, she had suffered greatly from a rheumatic affection. Two years of that period she was mostly confined to her house, but she bore her sufferings with a calm resignation to the divine will. Her last attack was short; during the time, her sufferings were very severe, but when the final hour arrived, it found her ready for her departure. Her end was peaceful. J. W. MCDOUGALL.

ELLIS' FERTILIZER.
AMMONIATED PHOSPHATE.
UNSURPASSED FOR ALL KINDS OF CROPS QUALITY WARRANTED UNIFORM.
JARRETTOWN, MONTGOMERY COUNTY, Pa., Near Fort Washington, N. P. R. R., 9th Month 16th 1867.
To William Ellis, Philadelphia:
RESPECTED FRIEND:—I have used Ellis' Fertilizer, Ammoniated Phosphate, on several crops this season and upon all with satisfaction. I consider my use of it as establishing in my own mind its superiority.
ON CORN.—I found its effect on this crop better than good compost, and nearly as good as manure and compost together side by side. On the ground where the Fertilizer was used there was no manure.
ON POTATOES.—I found it better than any other Fertilizer used, not excepting barnyard manure. I had larger and finer potatoes and more of them.
ON GRASS.—For top-dressing grass I used No. 1 Peruvian Guano and Ellis' Fertilizer side by side, at the rate of 350 lbs. each to the acre, and I think that the grass was quite as good, if not better, where the latter was put.
ON STRAWBERRIES.—There was no other manure used, and a finer crop I never saw. They were of the agricultural variety. I think some hills had near 200 berries on, some of which measured from 5 to 5½ inches in circumference, the largest way round.
FOR CABBAGE.—I consider it better for this crop than barnyard manure, having tried it this summer I can recommend it as cheaper, its cost per acre being something less than half that of barnyard manure. I am using it on wheat this fall, and recommending it to my neighbors. R. C. SHOEMAKER.
Upper-Merion, Montgomery County, Pa. August 1st, 1867.
To Mr. William Ellis:
DEAR SIR.—I have used your "Ammoniated Phosphate" the present season, on Grass, Corn, and Potatoes, with marked success, and can recommend it to the public as a cheap and valuable Fertilizer. On Peach Trees, I found it equally successful, preventing the grub from attacking the tree.

The Little Giant Combined, Self Rake Reaper and Jointed Bar Mower, is Warranted

To mow as well as any mower, and to reap as well as any Self Rake Reaper. The height of cut, both in mowing and reaping, can be changed while the machine is in motion. It will do as much work, is as strong and as durable as the heavy and high priced machines, and is but about half the draft for the team. As mower, it weighs about 540 pounds, and cuts 4½ feet wide. As Reaper, it cuts as ordered, either 5 feet wide, weighing about 750 pounds, or 6 feet wide, weighing about 820 pounds. Send for circular with full description.

GRAHAM, EMLEN & PASSMORE,

Seed and Agricultural Warehouse, 627 Market Street, Philada.

The Union Mower with Reaper attached.

We wish to call the attention of farmers preferring a two wheeled Mower and Reaper to this machine as we believe it will meet their wants better than others of its class. The Reaping Attachment is that known as the Reversing Dropper, which is fast proving itself the only practical self-delivery Reaper for a two wheeled machine.

Agency for the sale of Singers Improved

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES!

SEWING MACHINE FINDINGS—Silk, Cotton Thread, Needles, Oil, Springs, Screws, &c., and for the supply of any make of Sewing Machines to those who desire to purchase, rent or exchange.

Machine Poetry.

I sing "The Singer," the best in the land,
The pride of all households—useful and grand,
'Tis the friend of the poor man, and sought by the Rich,
Because it relieves them of many a stitch.

I sing of "The Singer," in beauty and grace
It bears off the palm, and holds the first place;
It is simple in movement, unerring though swift,
And what is essential, it is easy to lit.

It does hemming and braiding, will cord, tuck and Bind.
In fact it does all things, to suit every mind,
You can work in the finest of fabrics with ease,
And then on materials as coarse as you please,

If the proof of the pudding, in eating consists,
Then give me a trial, examine my lists,
Ask but the trial, I know the result,
You'll never again, other agent consult.

There are other machines, very good it is true,
That advertise freely, saying what they will do,
We do not dispute they will do what they say,
But we hold that THE SINGER is better than they.

The following is a partial list of persons in Bridgeton, and vicinity, who have recently purchased Singer Sewing Machine from this Agency:
