All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chewist. These extracts are then focusarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters' is not on intericating become, but is a good tonic useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.

From REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D.D., Paster of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia. DR. JACKSON-DEAR SIR :- I have been frequently re-DB. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly immy cap family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hooftand's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

THE CHILDREN.

When the tasks and the lessons are ended, And the school for the day is dismissed, The little enes gather around me To bid me good night and be kissed; Oh! the little white arms that encircle My neck in their tender embrace; Oh! the smiles that are halos of heaven, Shedding sunshine of love on my face!

Oh! my heart grows as weak as a woman's,
And the fount of my feelings will flow,
When I think of the paths steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them—
Of the tempests of fate blowing wild,
For there's nothing on earth half so holy,
As the innocent heart of a child!

There are idols of hearts and of households,
They are angels of God in disguise;
His sunlight still keeps in their tresses,
His glory still gleams in their eyes;
Oh! those truants from home and from heaven,
They have made me more manly and mild;
And I knew now, how Jesus could liken
The kingdom of God to a child.

The twig is so easily bended
I have banished the rule and the rod;
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
They have taught me the goodness of God;
My heart is a dungeon of darkness,
Where I shut them for breaking a rule;
My frown is sufficient correction,
My love is the law of the school. I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its threshold no more;
Ah! how I shall sigh for the dear ones
That meet each norn at the door!
I shall miss the good nights and the kisses,
And the gush of their innogent glee;
The group on the green, and the flowers
That are brought every morning for me.

I shall miss them at morn and at even—
Their song in the school and the street;
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of their pattering feet,
When the lessons of life are all ended,
And death says, "The school is dismissed!" May the little ones gather around me, To bid me good-night and be kissed.

TWO YOUNG LADIES IN A FIX.

A ludicrous scene occurred within a thousand miles of Indianapolis, not a great while ago, at least not long enough to be forgotten. We suppress names, and give the story as it is told by one of Two young ladies were visiting another young lady, their cousin. The three were fond of jokes, and continually playing them off on each other. On the night in auestion, two of them attended a party, from which they returned at half-past twelve o'clock. The third one remained at home, and to avoid disturbing her, for the three slept in the same bed. and others in the house, they entered through the window. Here a difficulty who had remained at home sat up to inform the others that different apartments supposed in bed, but were puzzled to see by the bedside a pair of boots. The truth flashed upon them both at once. They saw it all. Fanny had set the boots in the room to give them a good scare.-They put their heads together and determined to turn the tables on her. Silently they disrobed, and as stealthily as cats took their positions on each side of the bid. At a given signal they both jumped into the bed, one on each side of the unconscious parson, laughing and screaming, "O, what a man!" O, what a man!" such a promiscuous hugging and tousling a few persons are able to brag of in the durse of a life time. The noise of this proceeding awoke the dd lady, who was sleeping in an adjoining room. She comprehended the situatin in a moment, and rushing to the rom, she opened the door and exclaimalighted upon a spot so soft and mossy, that it looked as if some kind hand had a large quantity of rain had failen in purposely prepared it for me. mud may be formed from the following anecdote: A traveler was riding on horseback tear Little Union meeting house, when the mud was so deep that his feet touched the "loblolly" on either hand. The struggles of the poor horse to draw his foot out of the soft clay were, of course, desperate, and he could not make more than a mile and a half an hour. ### EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey road companies of the State had displayed their accustomed courtesy, and editors, their wives, newspaper attaches and distinguished gentlemen, to the number of at least three hundred, who, in connexion with prominent Railroad West Jersey road, however, adopted the party as especially its own, and tendered it an amount of courteous attention which not only could not fail to make a favorable impression upon the literatti of the public press, but at the same time convince them that companies so officered could not be otherwise than gentlemanly to the passengers who trusted themselves to them for transit.

The representatives of the Bridgeton press were joined at Pittstown by the Salem delegates, and also by Judge Yorke, the popular president of the associated roads. Up to that time, it had been doubtful whether arrangements could be made by which the delegates from this section could join the rest of the party at the marl pits, but, by the kindness of the Judge, the train was stopped at the nearest point to their immense marl bed, where the excursion train had arrived a little time before. to the Island upon that day, and the editors parted with his genial companionship at that place, with sincere regret.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT. Since Hon. Cornelius Walsh was first named as the candidate of the Republican party, for Governor of this State, public sentiment seems to be strongly directed towards the consummation of such an event. It is conceded on all hands that he is the coming man -the man whom the party can trust as honest, and one whom the entire State may look to as a conservator of its best and most vital interests. Some objection has been raised against his nomination, because he is from the Eastern section of the State, while we, in West and there can be no doubt that a large only an evidence of the energy and en- Jersey, are entitled to the choice of a candinumber of people, who cannot afford the terprise of both pastor and people, but a date. This objection would be well founded, enjoyment of the sea at the usual expen- credit to the city in which it is located. if we insisted upon a candidate residing in South Jersey; but, when we say that we are willing to take Mr. Walsh as our candidate, he is our choice as much as though he dwelt in our very midst. Besides, if the party in this district sees proper to forego the choice of a candidate who may be a resident, for the sake of a good and acceptable man, like Mr. Walsh, no one can justly find fault, or demur from the decision that may thus be arrived at. Mr. Walsh is a gentleman of sterling integrity, and as an independent journalist we make no hesi-

selected. Thoroughly identified with every humane and christian interest that contributes commonwealth, his nomination cannot fail to reflect the highest honor on the party to which he acknowledges political allegiance, and his election would indicate that the people were beginning to regard true merit and honest worth of more importance in the choice of an executive officer, than the mere partizan predilections of aspiring demagogues. We want just such men as Mr. Walsh for our rulers and administrators of law. Offices of trust and nonor-positions where incumbents can do much good or much harm, according to their sense of moral duty-have been prostituted to partisan prejudice too much, and it is time a change had taken place. We know that Mr. Walsh is a gentleman who, if elected, would commence such a reformation in that position at once. Conscientiously scrupulous in all his principles, and competently versed in all departments of financial matters, he will see just where reform is needed, or where a different policy of administration should be pursued. Another fact should have some weight, at least, in the decision of the convention. The determided energy which the opposition party is making to succeed at the coming election, renders it an imperative necessity for the Republicans to put their strongest and best man in the field, and it is the generally conceded opinion that Mr. Walsh is that man. At all events, his character is "without spot or tion can make no impression. Knowing his many virtues, and realizing that he is the man for the emergency, the party and people of the accept him as their choice of candidates, notwithstanding his residence is in Newark. They are fully convinced that in him unite all the elements of success; because in him concentrate those powers, judgments and faculties which fit and prepare a man for the duties manliness in the article we have quoted, which has induced its transference to our columns. Its points are well taken and appeal to the honorable feelings of the people in such a form that we feel justified in asking its perusal by our readers. Our patrons know that we have earnestly desired the nomination of Mr. Walsh. His large hearted and noble character; his strength as a man; his knowledge of human nature, and generous sympathy with the soldiers in the war, delections whatsoever. In our judgement the Republican party loses largely in their chances of success if by any turn of the wheel this nomination is ignored and some other substituted. Large numbers in their ranks earnestly desire Mr. Walsh; the party has placed itself in such a position toward him that it is now unfair to set his name aside for that of any than imperil the party success. The press of this State has been largely outspoken in its preference taken the same open ground, and it is dangerous to enience of party manipulators. A delegate ought to like wavering straws be blown about by every change f the political mind, but should know what he beeves and war he believes, and then, and only then e can intelligently represent his c ollowing is the article copied from the Sentinel: following is the article copied from the SENTINEL:

"As between the two prominent candidates of the Union party who will come up before the Convention of the 9th, for nomination for Governor, we have no special preference. They are both unexceptionable in character and qualifications, and the question of strength is all that should decide the selection.

But there is one objection raised against Mr. Walsh that is so ungenerous that we cannot let it pass, It is urged against him that he is of foreign birth. It is said that the old "American" feeling is still strong in this State, and that iv will manifest itself against any candidate not born upon the soil.

Now we can easily understand how a political antipathy could be aroused in the American bosom against a certain class of foreign voters, when we see at every election the Ignorant, the vicious and depraved of other climes, annulling the votes of the moral and intelligent American citizen. Thousands upon thousands of ignorant wretches are yearly thrown upon our shores, who become the political prey of the Democratic demagogues, and who find their way to the ballotbox through fraud and

It being announced that Hon. J. T. Nixon would address a meeting in Cedarville, on Saturday of last week, we took it for granted that he was on hand, and it is highly creditable to our distinguished townsman that he has never failed to meet an engagement to speak in public during his long cureer of public life. Not being able to attend the meeting, we callled on Mr. Nixon for a report of the proceedings, and were surprised to learn that he knew but little about it. The fact is he was neither invited or notified to speak at that meeting. The citizens of the lower townsnips must have supposed that he would be present as a matter of course; and gave themselves no further uneasiness. would be present as a matter of course; and gave themselves no further uneasiness.

We have since learned that the meeting was well attended, R. D. Bateman's hall being crowded and a considerable enthusiasm manifested. Six thousand five hundred dollars were subscribed towards the enterprise. Our friends in that section will have to go deeper than that into their pockets or the Railroad will be a long time coming. We are informed that the East Lake Cornet Band will be at Star Grove, on the Fairton road, near Bridgeton, on that day in full force, with their new instruments. This will be a fine opportunity for our citizens to enjoy the music and enjoy themselves generally.

M1. R. Mulford, the owner of the Grove, is making arrangements to supply all who may be present with refreshments of various kinds. The Grove is a delightful place, shaded with tall trees, fanned by the breeze from the creek, and fitted up with swings for the benefit of the visitors. The Band has almost enough subscribed to pay for the new instruments, and those who have subscribed are requested to hand over the funds as soon as possible, as it is needed to defray expenses.

Railroad Meeting at Cedarville.

As the public is generally aware, our legislature in 1866 passed an act incorporating the Bridgeton & Port Norris Railroad Company, authorizing the construction of a Railroad from Bridgeton to Port Norris, on Maurice River. This road would, in effect, be simply an extension of the West Jersey road through the townships of Fairfiell and Downe. The people of those townships have long been desirous that such an improvement should be made, and now seem to be aroused to an apprehension of the fact that if they would have the road they must themselves go to work to build it.

A meeting of citizens favorable to the project was called to meet at Cedarville, on Saturday last, and having had the pleasure of being in attendance, we are pleased to say that it was of a most satisfactory character. Bateman's Hall was insufficient to contain the numbers in attendance, and the immediate practical result was the subscription of one hundred and thirty-three shares of slock. This, of course, is a small amount in comparison with what is required to build the road, but it will do very well as a nest egg, and an earnest of what we may expect, when direct personal appeals are made to the citizens of the two townships above named.

All of the above stock, it may be observed, was subscribed by gentlemen who came forward voluntarily, at the close of the meeting, which was addressed by Franklin F. Westcott, Esq., of Bridgeton, and the Rev. Measrs. Jones and Dobbins, of Cedarville. Remarks were also made by a number of citizens present. After the adjournment of the meeting the commissioners of the road sat at Adam's hotel, and decided to canyass the townships of Fairfield and Downe at once, and throughly for subscriptions. and decided to canvass the townships of Fairfield and Downe at once, and thoroughly for subscriptions. Capable and efficient agents were appointed, and they will soon begin the work.

You have and you a country admirably adapted to the most oftable kinds of agriculture. All that is needed to around you a country admirably adapted to the most profitable kinds of agriculture. All that is needed to develope among yon a prosperity surpassing your present imagination, is this Railroad which will carry the products of your soil swiftly to the best markets, give you cheap access to the best manures, sumulate new branches of industry without injuring the old, increase population, clear up new lands, and add unnumbered convenences to daily life. In these ways the stock of the road will pay its holders even if it should declare no dividends for years to come, although it is confidently believed it will pay remunerative rates of interest almost as soon as the rails are laid. What the sources of revenue to the road would be, every intelligent person in the two town lopewell township, Cumberland county, New Jersey are laid. What the sources of revenue to the road would be, every intelligent person in the two townships knows. There is scarcely a man in them so poor that he cannot afford to take one share of stock; there are many who can equally well afford to take fifty; let each and all subscribe according to his ability, and within three months the success of the undertaking will be made sure.

Celebrated Sutter Powder. By the use of this inexpensive Powder, churning of hours is reduced to minutes, and is applicable to the making of Butter at all seasons of the year. A small quantity added to the milk or cream at the time of churning will produce Butter in much less time, in larger quantity, and of a superior quality, flavor and consistency. It removes the unpleasant flavor caused by the cows feeding on turnips, garlic, weeds, &c: and prevents all rancidity peculiar to butter; also makes it firmer and sweeter even in the hottest weather.

This Powder, now being introduced into this country, has long been in use throughout Europe and the Canadas, and Butter made with it has invariably taken the prize at all Agricultural Shows whenever exhibited.

Gentlemen—It gives me great pleasure to state that my wife has derived great benefit from the use of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. She has been for a number of years greatly troubled with Dyspepsia, accompanied with violent paroxysms of constipation which so prostrated her that she was all the while, for months, unable to do anything. She took, at your instance. Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, and has derived great benefit from it, and is now comparatively weil.
She regards this medicine as a great blessing.

Sir.:—I take great pleasure in stating that, after having suffered from dyspepsia for about fifteen years, at some periods much more than others, I nave been entirely cured by the use of Coe's Dyspepsia. Cure. My friends know that of late years my case has been an extreme one. I had great suffering from enting any kind of food, and on an average would womit about one third of my meals, i.a sour indigestible mass. When the severe attacks would come, I would lose all strength and be utterly helpless. Some of the attacks would be so severe that for days together I would not retain anything on my stomach, save a little dry tonst and tea. For years I knew not what it was to pass five consecutive hours without intense pain. From the time I took the first dose of this medicine I ceased vomiting; gradually all soreness passed away, and flesh and strength returned, and ever since I have been able to eat any kind of food set upon the table. Six months have how passed without any symptoms of the return of the disease. My case was considered by all, even physicians so marvelous, that for a time it was feared it might be fictitious; but I am now so well convinced, that I have been not merely reheved but permanently cured, that I can conscientiously recommend Coe's Dyspepsia Cure to all victims of dyspepsia.

Gents:—Being anxious, from the great benefits derived, to assist in spreading the fame of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, I would state my case. Something over a year ago, I had a volent attack of Diarrhea, which lasted eight weeks, during which time I employed three physicians, but without relief, until I tried Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. The first does helped me; Look it three times a day for a week and was entirely cured; and I believe to-day that it saved my life. Being attacked in a similar way this season. I took one dose, which put Inge all right. I would advise every family to keep it on hand ready for immediate use, in case of Summer or Bowel Complaints

JARRETTOWN, MONTGONERY COUNTY, PA., Near Fort Washington, N. P. R. R. 9th Month 15th 1867. To William Ellis, Philadelphia:
RESPECTED FRIEND:—I have used Ellis' Fertilizer
Ammoniated Phosphate, on several crops this seasor and upon all with satisfaction. I consider my use o and upon all with satisfaction. I consider my use of it as establishing in my own mind its superiority. ON CORN.—I found its effect on this crop better than good compost, and nearly as good as manure, and compost together side by side. On the ground where the Fertilizer was used there was no manure. ON POTATOES.—I found it better than any other Fertilizer used, not excepting barnyard manure. I had larger and finer potatoes, and more of them.

ON GRASS.—For top-dressing grass I used No. I Peruvian Guano and Ellis' Fertilizer side by side, at the rate of 300 ibs. each to the acre, and I think that the grass was quite as good, if not better, where the latter was put.

ON STRAWBERRIES.—There was no other manure used, and a finer crop I never saw. They were of the Agriculturist variety. I think some hills had near 200 berries on, some of which measured from 5 to 5½ inches in circumference, the largest way round.

FOR CABBAGE.—I consider it better for this crop.

way round.
FOR CABBAGE.—I consider it better for this crop than barnyard manure, having tried it this summer I can recommend it as cheaper, its cost per acrebeing something less than half that of barnyard manure. I am using it on wheat this fall, and recommending it to my neighbors. R. C. SHOEMAKER.

Upper-Merion, Montgomery County, Pa.

DEAR SIR—II have used your "Ammoniated Phosphate" the present season, on Grass, Corn, and Potatoes, with marked success and can recommend it to the public as a cheap and valuable Fertilizer. On Peach Trees, I found it equally successful, preventing the grub from attacking the tree.

Machine Poetry.

I sing "The Singer," the best in the land, the pride of all bouseholds—useful and grand, "Tis the friend of the poor man, and saught by the Rich ecause it relieves them of many a stiten. I sing of "The Singer," in beauty and grace It bears off the palm, and holds the first place; It is simple in movement unerring though swift, And what is essential, it is easy to fift. t does hemming and braiding, will cord, tuck and Bind, a fact it does all things, to suit every mind,

And then on materials as course as you please, If the proof of the pudding, in eating consists, Then two me a triol examine my fists, ask but the triol, I know the result, fou'll never again, other agent consult. There are other machines, very good it is true, that advertise feeely, saying what they will do, We do not di-1 are they will do what they say, but we hold that rue singer is better than they.
