

THE PIONEER HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION THAN ANY COUNTY PAPER IN SOUTH JERSEY.

Only $2.00 per Year in Advance! Bridgeton, September 4, '88.

JAMES B. FERGUSON, Editor.

OPINION RULES THE WORLD.

Every man has an opinion of his own, which shapes his conduct and gives him a position of some kind in society. Such is the nature of mind, that ideas and thoughts constantly present themselves and from them there is carved out an opinion. The tenacity with which an opinion is held, is not proof of its soundness. Ignorance and servility cling to its false conclusions, with all the desperation of a drowning man grasping for a straw.

When secession reared its hydra-headed front, the opinion of its ringleaders became the law of the land, and plunged their ignorant dupes into the vortex of ruin. It is the opinion of Fusty Floyd that it was the best and off-trotted five thousand of the careworn chivalry. When a person forms an opinion upon any subject, without bringing it before the cabinet council of all the faculties, the conclusions will be one-sided and distorted; such an opinion may rule, but only with a rod of iron, and a miser fear of losing its foothold.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

When an opinion is formed by an appeal to reason and judgment, it stands upon its own foundation. It is a power to be feared, for it is a power to be used. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil. It is a power to be used for good or evil, for it is a power to be used for good or evil.

CORNELIUS WALSH.

This gentleman, whose name was so prominently before the Republicans of this State, as the probable nominee for Governor, is at work with earnest purpose for the success of his party. Unlike many political men who have not received what they esteem to be justice at the hands of their party, Mr. Walsh has only entered with fuller vigor into the canvass in favor of the gentleman for whose sake he refused to allow his name to go before the gubernatorial convention.

Mr. Walsh, with his accustomed hospitality, learning of the intended visit, had caused to be prepared by one of the principal outsiders, a very elegant entertainment, which, being entirely unexpected, was enjoyed by all present to the utmost extent. A splendid serenade was given to the distinguished gentleman, and speeches were made by Messrs. Walsh, Blair, and several other gentlemen, to the assembled company.

Mr. Walsh has also presented to the "Grant Legion" the capes and caps which form his parade uniform, at a cost of some $250; and he has also presented at his own expense a beautiful banner to the Legion, which takes $300 more. What we said of Mr. Walsh before the nomination as to his liberality and efficiency in any cause he undertakes, is being justified by the course taken by him, and there is no doubt that if his party is successful in the present campaign, it will owe a large debt to the success of his persistent and intelligent labors.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us. Mr. Blair's efforts and agency in opening New Jersey to the great coal fields of Pennsylvania are well known to the public at large to need no commendation from us.

BRIDGETON.

"The world moves." Progress is the watchword of the age in which we live; and the individual, the community, the city, or the people, who fails to see, to acknowledge and to realize this truth and to be influenced by it, will inevitably be left behind in the onward march of improvement, to reap the bitter fruits of its own blindness, stupidity and folly. No greater course can rest upon any community than to be a part of the "old fogies."

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union. Mr. Blair, during the rebellion, showed his faith by his conduct, and his patriotism by his contributions to the cause of the Union.

VERMONT.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

Mr. Brown, who we notice in last week's Progress a cartooner of an article written by "Laborer" in the week previous, reports that he has been invited to take care of himself and the interests of those laboring men who are so anxious to have an honest and a just government, and to the spirit in which that article appears to be written.

PRIVATE SALE.

Valuable Real Estate. Occupied by a well-known and successful business man, and a pleasant grove. The property is situated in a large and beautiful town, and is a very desirable investment.

Proposals. Will be received by the undersigned, until Tuesday, the 15th of September, for building and furnishing a new school house in the town of Bridgeton, in the County of Gloucester, New Jersey.

Change of Time! STEAMER "CITY OF BRIDGETON" CAPTAIN JAMES MCINTYRE. On MONDAY, AUGUST 31st, 1888, Between Bridgeton and Philadelphia.

Contains 115 Acres. TILLY LAND. Well adapted for grain, grass or fruit. The balance in young timber. The improvements consist of a two-story frame dwelling, a barn, a carriage house, and a wagon house.

Continental Steel Pen Works. Manufacturers of the Celebrated Patent Felt and Finest Pens, manufacturers of every variety of Steel Instruments, Pencils, and Stationery.

Sherriff's Sale. By virtue of a writ of fieri facias do directed, issued out of the Circuit Court of the county of Cumberland, will be sold at Public Vendue, on Monday, the 28th day of September, 1888, at 12 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the Hotel of E. Davis in the town of Philadelphia, the following real estate.

Wanmaker & Brown. OAK HALL. Popular Clothing House. S. E. Corner Sixth and Market Sts., PHILADELPHIA.

Curtis Ogden. Custom Department. Largest Establishment. Largest Assortment. Light Weight Clothing for Lowest Prices.

Ivy Hall Seminary. The next term of this school will commence, On TUESDAY, the 15th of Sept. next. For terms, inquire of BRIDGETON, N. J. C. SHEPPARD, Principal.

Bank Street Academy. BANK ST. ACADEMY will open its Fall session on Monday, September 17th, 1888, under the care of Miss EMILY F. NORTON. For particulars, apply to the principal, BRIDGETON, N. J.

Ellis's Iron Bitters. These Bitters are recommended to public patronage on account of their Tonic Properties, at the same time being highly stimulant. They are prepared by enriching the blood by the Iron which they contain.

Advertisement for various goods and services, including clothing, shoes, and general merchandise.

