READ THE RECOMMENDATIONS. FROM HON. GEO W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania PHILADELPHIA, MARCH 16th, 1867.

PHILADELPHIA, NAMCH 1911, 1891.

I find "Hooftand's German Bitters" is not a vintoxioating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestice organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and mant of nervous action in the yestem.

Yours traily,

GEO W. WOODWARD. FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 28th, 1866.

I consider " Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of at-tacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON. From REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D.D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Dr. Jackson—Dear Kit:—I have be in frequently required to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my one family, of the usefalness of Dr. Hoofland's German Billers, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may full but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who sufer from the above causes. Yours very respectfully, Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coales St.

Price of the Bitters, $1.00 per bottle; Or, a halt dozen for $5.00. Price of the Tonic, $1.50 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $7.50.

Recollect that it is Dr. Heafland's German Remedies that are so universally used und so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take any thing else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the

Mr. Géorge L. Browning,
Dear Sir.—The phosphate I bought of you last fall
for wheat has exceeded my highest expectation.—
The ground that it was put upon has had no manure

it almost every year, and it is what we term land worn out, and also the wheat was sewn last October 24th and 25th.

Persons living here all their days say they never thought wheat would have grown so handson-ely with such a small quantity of super phosphate is 200 lbs. to the acre. A gentleman living here all the days of his life, (and his father an old clitzen who is a farmer of 600 acres, having used More Philips', Coes', Baughs', Rhoads', Wabinis' and other fertilizers,) put the grain in for me, and he says he never used and saw super phosphate act better nor produce what your super phosphate has done. An old citizen who his known this fatur for 40 years, informed me fit that without the phosphate I would not have had grain more than six to eight inches high, now it is three feet high, and all out in head. As for garden truck, I would not he without it at five times the crice. I have used what little I had left over from says that and the barrer has been opened all winter, and it is remarked every day by a gentleman here, that he never saw things grow so rapid; I never did in my life, and all owing to the phosphate. My daughter planted cucumber seed last Friday evening, May 29th, and this morning, June 2d, all were up So much for your phosphate cpened ever since last October. I would sooner do without almost anything than farm without phosphate.

Respectably Yours.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUGGISTS,

And Dealers in Fancy Goods Generally,

BRIDGETON, NEW JERSEY,

Having just opened the most splendid assortment of HOLIDAY GOODS ever offered in this section of the State, extend a cordial invitation to all to whom these presents may come, to call at their store and examine their stock before purchasing elsewhere.

As the days of December are rapidly fleeting, We hasten to send you our Holiday greeting: And first, let us wish you, from hearts most sincere, A good Merry Christmas—a Happy New Year. We trust you may prosper in all that is right, And find amid sunshines a pathway of light. Perhaps, our dear readers, you will not think it funny, That with all our good wishes, we wish you much money. To those generous souls, who are ready to give To all noble objects for which we should live, We heartily wish they had MILLIONS of dimes, And would scatter them freely, and make better times. How cheering a promise of scripture is that, Where we're told that 'the liberal soul shall be fat;' And, of course, on reversing the text, it must mean That all stingy old souls shall be made very lean. Now, doubtless, dear reader, we have spent too much time In opening our Annual Greeting in rhyme; But have patience a moment—a moment forbear, While our object, in writing, we briefly declare. For months long and weary - by day and by night, We have faithfully labored, and with great delight, To burden our shelves with everything good For the different tastes of the whole neighborhood. For the sick we have drugs of every description; And with care and dispatch, we compound each prescription. For the WELL, we've confections of wondrous variety, For the boys we have tops, knives, marbles and balls. For the Girls, a splendid assortment of dolls, With cradles and other equipments complete; Small bureaus and furniture, useful and neat. Our gentlemen friends have no need to complain, For we've all that they want, from a pipe to a cane. For the ladies, portefolios, card cases and combs, With all else to adorn and make happy their homes. And now about Books! how exhaustless the store!

Last year we had thousands—this year we have more. Picture books for the children, grave books for the old, In all sorts of bindings and styles manifold. We have all the Scotch poets—Burns, Campbell and Scott, And many rich gems from all nations we've got. We've the poems of Bryant, Longfellow and Young, And all the sweet Lyrics the Muses have sung. We've the works of Lord Bacon, Lord Byron and Pope; We've 'The Seasons,' by Thompson, and 'The Pleasures of Hope;' We have gems from the German—none better than they From Goethe and Schiller and Heinrich Heine. We've the sweet hymns of Bonner, of Keble and Moore; In fact, all the poems ever heard of before. Let us, mention, however, before we pass on. The hero of Stratford, on the river Avon. This greatest of poets the world ever knew, Should be read by the millions, and not by the few. We've the latest editions embellished in gold, Of all the most popular books that are sold: 'Kathrina,' 'Hypatia.' and Drake's 'Culprit Fay,' And Walter Scott's favorite, "The Minstrels last lay;" We have novels attractive, and histories too, Biographies, letters and tales, not a few. All the works of our own gifted writers we keep, Bound plainly in paper, cloth, Turkey or sheep. Editions of Prescott, of Motley and Wirt; The travels of Taylor, of Durbin and Burt. What handsomer present to give to a son Than the volumes of Irving—in all, twenty-one? And then for our daughters, still finer than all, Is Tennyson's beautiful 'Locksley Hall,' Mrs. Browning's three Volumes are seldom here long, As they're speedily bought by the lovers of song; And 'Norwood,' by Beecher is popular too, Likewise 'Little Foxes,' so pretty and true, Our pen would fain mention a hundred books more That we hope soon will not be-yet are now in our store. But we hasten to bring our dull rhymes to a close, And beg you to read what we've written in prose.
We would call special notice to our long list of Games,
Of the Puzzles and Maps, you can judge by their names. Tis well to give children many pleasures and joys, It will make better girls-more circumspect boys. Make Home very cheerful, by day and by night, 'Twill scatter the shadows, and let in the light. Make glad the surroundings of Homes social hearth, just received a Medal for it at the Paris | Then sooner will come the soul's second birth. These small earthly tokens presented in love Make smoother the pathway to mansions above.

It is doubtful whether in any city in the State of New Jersey there can be found as good a variety of Attractive, Popular and Useful Books As we now have in our Store. They have been selected with great care, by good judges, and are offered to the Reading community of South Jersey, at prices as low as those of any first-class book-store in New York or Philadelphia. A partial List we subjoin, so that from among them, whether you come in person or apply by order, you can select for yourselves. Let it be understood, also, that such books as are not enumerated, or that may not be found on our shelves, will be sent for by us, on application. Special attention given to SUPPLYING SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES with Books, Slates,
